HARVARD FAVORITE IN GAME WITH PRINCETON

Championship Gridiron Battle at Cambridge Today—Most of the Players Were Reported in Excellent Shape—Pennock and Mahan to Play With Crimson

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 7.—Championship football reached here today in the contest between Harvard and Princeton in the stadium. Two years ago Harvard won from Princeton for the first time in 23 years. Last year, Harvard won again when Brickley kicked a field goal for the only score of the game. The Princeton players today were bent on avenging these defeats and adding another to their long series of victories since the first meeting of the two colleges in 1877.

Harvard was a slight favorite in the betting but a large body of Princeton backers arrived today and the odds dwindled to nearly even money. Both teams spent last night several miles away from today's scene of action. The Harvard players rested at the Country Club in Brookline and the Princeton men at Auburn.

Most of the players were reported in excellent shape. There was some doubt as to Pennock and Mahan of Harvard but it was expected that they would enter the game, possibly giving way later to substitutes. Two or three of the Princeton players were said to be slightly below par and it was believed that while Shen and Hightley probably would start at the ends, they might go out in favor of Brown and Lambertson. The weather was ideal. There was little wind and a typical Indian summer sky. The turf was dry and springy. The probable lineup:

Princeton: Hightley, lg; McLean, lt; Spenk, lg; Genera, c; E. Trenkman, rg; Hallin, rt; Shea, re; Ames, qb; Glynn, lb; Tibbet, rt; Briggs, fb.

Harvard: T. J. Coolidge, lt; H. Parson, lb; Weston, c; Bigelow, rg; Pennock, rt; Trumbull, re; Logan, qb; Mahan, lb; Bradley, rt; Franco, fb.

YALE AND BROWN AT NEW HAVEN
NEW HAVEN, Nov. 7.—Yale and Brown meet on the gridiron this afternoon in the annual game between the two universities. The Blue won last year, 17 to 0. Five thousand school-boys were present as guests of the Yale football association.

English Cruiser Good Hope Sunk With Admiral Cradock and 900 Men

Rear Admiral CRADOCK ENGLISH CRUISER GOOD HOPE

LONDON, Nov. 7.—It is officially announced by the Admiralty that the British cruiser Good Hope took fire during the engagement with the German off the coast of Chile last Sunday and foundered. The cruiser was in command of Rear-Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock and carried a crew of 900 men. It is believed that all went to their death.

The Admiralty statement says that it is believed the British cruiser Monmouth, which the Germans reported had been sunk, was run ashore. The battleship Canopus, it adds, was not present at the time of the fight. The statement says: "The Admiralty now has received trustworthy information about the action on the Chilean coast."

"During Sunday, Nov. 1, the Good Hope, Monmouth and Glasgow came up with the Scharnhorst, Gneisenau, Leipzig and Dresden. Both squadrons were steaming south in a strong wind and a considerable sea."

"The German squadron declined action until sunset, when the light gave it an important advantage. The action lasted an hour."

"Early in the action both the Good Hope and Monmouth took fire, but fought until nearly dark, when a serious explosion occurred on the Good Hope and she foundered."

"On the enemy again approaching the wounded Monmouth, the Glasgow, which also was under fire from one of the armored cruisers, drew off."

"The enemy then attacked the Monmouth again, but with what result is not known. The Glasgow is not extensively damaged and has very few casualties."

"Neither the Otranto nor the Canopus was engaged. Reports received by the foreign office from Valparaiso state that a belligerent warship is ashore on the Chilean coast, and it is possible that this may prove to be the Monmouth. Emergency measures are being taken on this assumption to rescue the survivors."

"The action appears to the Admiralty to have been most gallantly contested, but in the absence of the Canopus the enemy's preponderance in force was considerable."

GERMANS TO MAKE FINAL AND DESPERATE EFFORT TO SMASH ALLIES' LINE, BLOCKING WAY TO CALAIS

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Mystery again cloaks the movements of the antagonists along the battlefronts in the eastern arena of the war, but the belief is growing in London that Germany, safe within her defenses behind the River Warthe and with the Austrians behind strongly fortified positions from Cracow to the passes of the Carpathians, is rushing her best corps on the eastern front to the west in a final desperate effort to smash the allies' line blocking their way to Calais.

Petrograd reports that the Austrians after making a final furious onslaught upon the Russian lines along the River San had withdrawn in all directions until their front now extends from Bukla pass in the Carpathians to Cracow with a wedge extending to Przemyśl, which fortress continues to resist the Russian assault.

Another despatch from Petrograd declares that a general pursuit of the retreating Austrians is under way, but the cautious tone of the official communication added to significant admissions from Vienna creates the impression that the Austrians are regaining their fortified positions without suffering greater disaster. With the Teutonic allies safe in their new positions, it is quite likely, in the opinion of London observers, that heavy reinforcements have been sent from the eastern front for the supreme effort along the western line of battle.

The feeling is growing here that the recent raid of a German off Yarmouth was not the sum total of naval activities in the North sea and this impression has been increased by the news that Dutch fishing vessels have found floating mines to be so thick, some of them even catching their nets that they have given up all efforts to continue their occupation. These fishermen report also that they have seen hundreds of bodies floating in the sea.

GERMANS CLING TO THEIR POSITIONS IN FLANDERS—ADVANCE WITH ALLIES
PARIS, Nov. 7.—With renewed energy the Germans are clinging tenaciously to their positions in Flanders, especially the Ypres region, but the initiative, so important in modern warfare is now passing to the allies. Eye witnesses from the front declare that the fighting around Bixchoote is as furious as ever. The Germans have attacked again and again and positions have been won and lost many times but the advantage has remained with the allies. No less violent was the struggle south of Ypres.

LETTERS ARE BURNED IN LOCAL LETTER-BOXES

Boys Placed Lighted Matches in Boxes — Postmaster Crowley Takes Steps to Catch the Offenders — Federal Detectives Will Investigate Affair

Postmaster Crowley has reported to the police that several letters were burned in a letter box at the corner of Spaulding and Merrimack streets as a result of boys putting lighted matches into the box.

The matter was first brought to the attention of the postmaster, who in turn notified the police in an endeavor to capture the young vandals, who perpetrated the crime. The police are hot on the trail of the boys, who if captured will be severely punished, for a charge of destroying United States mail will be brought against them. This matter would be taken up by the federal authorities in the event of the capture of the culprits and it is safe to say that the offenders will be severely dealt with.

It seems that this is not the first time letters were burned in letter boxes in this city by boys who through deviltry put matches in the steel boxes, not knowing probably how serious the offense is. Postmaster Crowley has made up his mind to put a stop to such vicious play and has notified the postal authorities who may send detectives here to find the guilty parties.

between Wytschaete and Messines for command of the high road leading from Ypres to Arras and Lille. This road is now in possession of the allies.

Now or never is the time for the Germans to bring up reserves to make a decisive effort to win through, in the opinion of military experts. According to prisoners taken recently, however, while there is no lack of men there is a great dearth of officers, large numbers having been sent to the Russian front where the need of them is greater to make up for the loss of the reserve corps opposing the ever-growing Russian army. The German efforts to pass Arras and break through to the coast by way of the hill country of Artois continue but with less success.

The army formerly commanded by the German crown prince east of the Argonne region has resumed its attempt to force a passage across the forest to join the army on the other side. The French, however, retain command of the only roads across this difficult region and all attacks though made with great determination have failed to shake the French positions.

WAR BILL IN EUROPE

$40,250,000 a Day to Continue Conflict—Only in Cotton Spinning is British Industry Affected

PARIS, Nov. 7.—The war bill which Europe is meeting daily is now figured up as follows:

Russia	11,000,000
Germany	7,225,000
France	7,000,000
England	5,000,000
Austria	4,000,000
Various	3,000,000

$40,250,000

The French appropriation is from official figures as announced by M. Ribot, minister of finance. The English estimate by the London Statist; the German total from "an authoritative source" in a Geneva paper; and the other sums from various conservative estimates which have appeared in one place or another. The item "various" represents the probable expense to which Serbia, Belgium, and the neutral countries of Switzerland, Italy, Romania, Turkey, Greece, Holland, and Denmark have been put.

The vast total does not include the destruction of property where fighting is taking place, nor the well-nigh incalculable losses to Europe of 20,000,000 men under arms being taken from production. There are no indications in France that exhaustion has set in but it is evident that the accumulated treasure of even the richest country on the continent is being poured out at a rate that adds $50,000,000 a month to the national debt.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Only in cotton spinning is British industry suffering.

In addition to supplying the expeditionary force and the new army with clothing and equipment, Russia has placed orders for a million pairs of boots and the British woolen mills and shoe factories have other contracts they are as yet unable to place, which could be easily taken by American manufacturing agents, were they in the field.

The greatest wastage in the war has been in the motor vehicle line. Not only are the cars rucked to pieces by shell service, but large numbers are destroyed by shell. British manufacturers have not the equipment to supply this wastage.

Russia is not a manufacturing country, and the factories of France have been largely destroyed in the north and in other parts are shut down because of the lack of hands.

PARIS, Nov. 7.—The American embassy is winding up its affairs as a bank, ticket agency, charitable society and consular of Americans caught in Europe by the war. Ambassador Herrick has had the services of a dozen young American army officers, who were taking courses in French military tactics at the outbreak of the war. The war and state departments in Washington attached the officers temporarily to the embassy. The ambassador has also had the voluntary help from Americans who happened to be in Paris, and at one time the embassy staff numbered forty-two.

Colonel Spencer Condy, the military attaché, is charged with relief work. They have paid out about $120,000 deposited at the state department for Americans in France. They have also arranged for $10,000 worth of steamship transportation. They have cashed checks, letters of credit or promises to pay to the extent of $10,000. The relief of destitute Americans has been managed through the charity organization of the American Protestant Episcopal Church and none of the state department money has been used for that purpose.

LONDON LONE SOCIALIST

NEW YORK MAN WILL BE THE ONLY SOCIALIST CONGRESSMAN IN THE NEXT CONGRESS

MEYER LONDON

Meyer London has awakened to fame. Almost overnight he has pushed into the spot light of publicity. And it is very likely that he will remain there for the next two years. Who is Meyer London, you ask. He is the one lone socialist congressman who will sit in the next congress. He was elected from the Twelfth district of New York, defeating a democratic congressman there after a hot fight at the recent election. London now has a chance to make himself a national laughing stock or emblemize a name that will help his party and make himself respected and honored.

Y. M. C. A. SPORTS

THE SPELLBINDER

As one looks over the list of the candidates who have taken out nomination papers for municipal office, he is forcibly reminded of Pope's celebrated couplet:
"Hope springs eternal in the human breast;
Man never is, but always to be blest."

Some of them apparently cannot see the handwriting on the ballot and with their forces "undiminished by death and unrecruited by birth or conversion," annually help to swell the list of "also rans." This year's campaign will have one novel feature, the attempt of a candidate to "come back" as in the case of Andrew E. Barrett, who after one term was defeated and now aspires to the second term which that denied him a year ago. Another interesting feature will be the attempt of a candidate who has shown the required strength in the school board field to transfer that strength to the aldermanic pasture, as in the case of Abel R. Campbell. And there will be some new ones. The story is being told about one candidate who, as soon as it became known that he was to run for political office, was promptly discharged by the corporation by which he had been employed for years. The corporation might have waited until after the primaries, but corporations have no feeling, except when their tax-bills are high and they go before the assessors and weeping apply for an abatement.

Up to this writing there has been no great demand for nomination papers on the part of school board candidates though there will be a sufficient number of candidates to fill the required six nominations. Mrs. Marion Sproule, who is possessed of strong socialistic tendencies, politically, has taken out papers. Last year again, Mrs. Sproule received 2734 votes in the primaries while the successful four received over 4000 each. Her ward was ward 3 where she received 468 votes while her lowest was elected in ward 5, where she polled 188. As a sister suffragist one might expect that Mrs. Sproule will have staunch supporters in "As She Sees It" and "Lady Lookabout." Though both may pass her up on account of her socialistic views.

It may be of interest to publish the vote received in last year's primaries by the candidates who are trying again this year. Their vote was as follows:
Aubrey, 244; Barrett, 3156; Clapp, 1826; Duncan, 2342; Gallagher, 945; Mikella, 1552.
That man Aubrey certainly has good courage.

Brennan a Good Loser
Representative John W. Brennan lost no time in showing that he was a good loser for when the result became known he did not wait to send a letter of congratulation to his successful opponent, but sought him out and congratulated him personally. Though defeated, Representative Brennan feels gratified at the handsome vote given him and desires to thank the voters of ward 1 and Braut for their support. Representative Brennan will be heard from later when conditions will be more propitious.

Accidents Will Happen
Just like those who kick against the charter, when it's the men elected to office that are at fault, some are now kicking against the idea of a traffic squad because a woman was knocked down by a wagon the second day that the new squad was at work. Accident will happen even with the best regulated of traffic squads on the job.

The Mayor Was Right
At the dedication of the Harrison hotel, a few evenings ago, Toastmaster Hennessy gave Mayor Murphy a very flattering introduction and his Honor immediately stated that he knew that the toastmaster's remarks would not appear in "The Spellbinder" column. His Honor was perfectly right for it would be as poor taste to report a hotel dedication in the political column, as it was to talk politics at a hotel dedication.

Clerk of Police Court
Papers are out asking Gov. Walsh to reappoint James P. Savage, clerk of the Lowell police court, as his term will expire with the year. Report has it that there is a democratic candidate in the field for the position which Mr. Savage has held for a number of years.

One on the Bank Men
The commissioner of finance in speaking at the Hamilton mills a few days ago appropriated the "credit" due the city council as a whole, and said, when he said: "When the war panic came on a short time ago I financed the city so that you men could be kept at work."
The commissioner evidently referred to the attempt of the municipal council to use the perpetual care funds by withdrawing $80,000 from the local banks at one time, a proceeding which had it become public at the time would have caused the greatest and most disastrous run on the banks of Lowell that the city has ever known, and from which might the local bank men haven't as yet completely recovered. After the experience that Lowell has passed through with the Traders bank, imagine what would have happened had it become known that the city itself was withdrawing all its trust funds at one time, from practically every savings bank in Lowell.

Principal Perkins Becomes a Voter
About the same time that Dr. John H. Lambert, the school-committee man whose long suit is experience as qualification for school principals, visited the city clerk's office to take out nomination papers for a second term, Mr. Paul Perkins, the recently-elected principal of the Green school visited the office of the registrars of voters and became a registered voter of the city of Lowell, and will cast his first vote at the coming city primaries, when undoubtedly he will vote for Dr. Lambert. In the old days it was customary to become a voter first and then go after a city job, but that qualification doesn't go any longer. When Chris. J. Hagan was a candidate for the permanent principalship of the Edison school, having served one year as a temporary principal, Dr. Lambert refused to vote for him, as he desired a candidate with experience for such an important position. There was no hesitation, however, over the election of Mr. Perkins whose occupation outside of his college days as a student, was that of a motorman on the street cars during vacation, which showed that he probably has the right kind of stuff in him, if not overburdened with experience as an educator. Dr. Lambert will probably seek a reelection on the ground that he has had experience as a member of the school board for one term, even as did Mr. Hagan seek his permanent appointment after one term of successful experience. The new principal of the Green school is 23 years of age.

Who Said "Sore-Head?"
Under the headline, "The Faithful Folk," the Courier-Citizen lamented editorially, as follows:

"Lowell democrats obediently went and voted for Walsh, despite his studied disregard of them. Apparently the way to make Lowell democrats love you is to club them unmercifully hard. For a city that had done so much for Mr. Walsh and had given him such handsome support a year ago, Lowell got about as unkind a cut all through the year as it was possible to get. But it turned up again at the scratch and dutifully increased the testimony of its love and affection for the governor by adding a few hundred to the plurality given before. Perhaps this year the governor will do more for these devoted adherents whom no frost can repel."

Yes, ungraciously but emphatically, they went and voted with studied disregard of the Courier-Citizen's tremendous efforts to set them right. Apparently the way to make Lowell democrats love their candidate is to have the Courier-Citizen club him unmercifully hard. For a paper that has done so much for Lowell democrats, the Courier-Citizen got about as unkind a cut as it was possible to get. After whacking him consistently last year, it turned up again at the scratch and dutifully increased the testimony of its love and affection for the governor by adding a few more hundreds to his plurality. The prophets shall become wind, and the word is not in them.

The Financial Report
Section 36 of the city charter says that there "shall be printed monthly" a report of the receipts and expenditures of the government showing the city's financial condition. This hasn't been done though, whether it's because the municipal council didn't want to give too much publicity to the financial condition, or in its effort to live up to its name as an economical administration, it violated the charter to save a printing bill, is a question.

Candidate Dunn in Town
As soon as he had rested up after election night, Henry P. Dunn, came to Lowell yesterday and spent the afternoon going among his friends in wards five and nine to thank them personally for their support. Mr. Dunn is the most cheerful loser that the writer has run up against in a long time. Speaking of the election, Mr. Dunn said: "As soon as I became aware of the great slump of the progressives I knew that I was defeated and yet though I defeated I feel proud of the vote I received. In ward six, Lynn, my home ward, I received the largest vote ever given a candidate in a local contest and ran 11 votes ahead of Governor Walsh. But it is my Lowell vote over which I feel most grateful. I came here a few weeks ago a total stranger and proceeded to make myself acquainted with the voters of wards five and nine. Following an exceptionally strong man like Senator Fisher I considered that if I did nearly as well he did in this city, I would be doing fine. But I received 46 votes more in wards five and nine than Senator Fisher did, while in the entire district I received 205 more votes than he did last year. That's certainly using a stranger well and that's why I ran up here today personally to thank my Lowell supporters. It was the progressive slump that elected the republican."

Time for Christening
It's about time that the city automobile used by Mr. Gardner of the water department was formally christened for it is several months old and as yet has not been lettered with the name of the city and the department to which it belongs, as is required by ordinance. Everybody knows of course that the delay in complying with the ordinance is not due to any desire on the part of Mr. Gardner to have a few joy rides, for he's not that kind of a city official.

Inefficient Precinct Officers
The delays in counting the ballots in some of the precincts on election night have caused much comment and the story is now around that some of the precinct officers couldn't count toothpicks, not to speak of ballots. In some cases one or two men, it is said, had to do all the work by reason of the fact that the others weren't qualified to do it.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

OPERA HOUSE

Miss Edith Storey, the Vitaphone motion picture star, who is portraying Viola Allen's part of Glory Quale in "The Christian," the famous story by Hall Calne, the picture version of which will be presented at the Lowell Opera House for one week beginning Monday, Nov. 8, has much to say relative to the values of acting in the drama and in pictures. Miss Storey is well qualified to speak since she has been called "The Bernhardt of the Screen," and prior to her entrance into pictures she was an actress on the stage.

According to Miss Storey, playing such a part as Glory Quale in "The Christian" in pictures is infinitely harder than doing the same thing in the drama. Miss Storey's contention is that the photo-play actress is deprived of the power of speaking to anyone who stops for a moment to consider, will realize what difficulty they would have if they were asked to convey all of their meanings without using a word.

In the photo-play, Miss Storey is seen at her best, even though she has a splendid elocutionary delivery. But on the screen, where this ability is useless, she shows every motion and runs the gamut of feeling merely by facial expression and gestures. She has it reduced to such a science that it is possible for her to carry on a conversation with another, convey all of her meanings, and not make a word.

She has taught herself all of the rudiments of theatrical acting under David Belasco and others and then to become a screen actress, she has deliberately thrown away her elocutionary powers and studied mute expression from a purely scientific standpoint.

D. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
The Primrose Four, positively the world's most striking heavy weight quartet, will be the feature act on the bill at the R. F. Keith theatre, this week. Four male singers, whose aggregate weight is 1000 will warble out all of the very latest songs, and some of the old melodies. One thousand pounds of harmony is guaranteed to those who see and hear this wholly unusual quartet, and while the harmony may not bear very heavy on the scales it is a surety that the four singers will put the indicator several figures over the 1000-pound mark.

Conley and Webb will come to town with their rapid-fire melange of singing, comedy, stunning stage effects, music and beautiful ballet. Mr. Conley is the pianist of the duo, and Miss Webb is the singer. "Fime was when these two were content to do a so-called 'straight' act in vaudeville. Then there was no demand for variety. But now, by the exigencies created by entertainment lovers, particularly lovers of vaudeville, they are forced to purvey several quite distinctive lines of entertainment. The act has a whole new dash to it. There is a most realistic cyclone, with comedy attachments. Conley and Webb are two of the most versatile players appearing in vaudeville, and they are bound to prove real pleasers.

Jack Kennedy & Co. will produce the downright fascinating playlet "The Flare Back." It is built upon a wholly unusual theme, and it will cause no end of talk. There are inclusive lines in it, and some most remarkable situations. Mr. Kennedy is well known as an actor, and his supporting company is all that could be desired. Special scenery will add much to the effectiveness of this act.

Date and Boyle hold out one of the surprises of the bill. They are singers and dancers, with plenty of up-to-the-minute stuff, but their surprise comes at the end of their act. "About twenty-five will sit up and take notice of them."

Willbur Sweatman is the man who plays two clarinets at the same time, and who also delivers over a lot of funny stuff. He is an entertainer who is eagerly sought because of the polish of his work. No one knows better how to suit the tastes of an audience than he. The Seabacks offer a combination of masculine agility and strength, feminine beauty and sweetness, gymnastic and rhythmic ability. Seaback is a champion bag puncher. He has a rare assortment of medals which have been awarded him for his skill. The exhibition of bag punching, he says, is thrilling and amazing. The act is materially helped by pretty Harriet Seaback who sings, and who assists her partner in his gymnastic work.

Julia Gonzales is new to this section of the country, in fact Julia hasn't long been out of her native Havana. She is booked as the "Cuban Physical Culture Girl" and is said to have an act which is most attractive. In addition to these acts the Heart-Beating News Reel will show a lot of new stars taken in Europe as well as in this country.

It is well to secure tickets in advance if possible, as oftentimes the most desirable ones have been taken when you arrive at the theatre. Phone 25.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
It is a well known fact that when George M. Cohan decided to retire from the stage he set about writing a play in which he should say good-by to the public. This play was "Broadway Jones" and it was a great success that Mr. Cohan should throw his entire self into making this the crowning effort of his career. Events proved it to be the best he had done in play writing as well as in histrionic achievement. "Broadway Jones" was accepted as the most entertaining comedy he had ever written. It will be produced the coming week by the stock company at the Merrimack Square theatre, and as will be seen next week, Mr. Cohan keeps an audience from beginning had in mind this wonderful play production for stock.

There is a character in "Broadway Jones" who is of vast interest to those familiar with his origin. This is the character of the wealthy widow. A good many persons familiar with Manhattan know how the widow exists in real life, and is a most spectacular figure in the existence of New York. The story told is a decidedly Cohan-esque. It is a story of those simple, straight away stories that increase the interest till the end. First and foremost, it is a comedy of the sort that keeps an audience in good humor. Jack Jones is a native of Connecticut and a young millionaire. He goes to New York City to spend his money and get the fastest pace New York ever knew. He succeeds in getting separated from his money with amazing rapidity and eventually becomes known as "Broadway Jones." Finally his money is gone and he begins to look around for some way of existence. Almost before he knows it he finds himself in a most unexpected situation. He is about to supply the want when his friend Robert Wallace, steps in and saves him. Then the unexpected happens. Word comes that a millionaire uncle who owns a chewing gum factory in Connecticut has died and made Jones his sole heir. Away goes Jones to Jonesville, Conn., to look over the property. Arriving on the scene, he encounters a most unexpected person in a young girl Josie Richards, who for a long time has been the stenographer and confidential employee of his uncle. The scenes that follow show how the young fellow is brought around from a desire to sell his property for what, even it will bring to an earnest determination to keep it for the good of the little town of which it is the sole enterprise. It is a real American play in every sense of the word and one which happily fits to a nicety the different members of the Merrimack Square Theatre Stock Co. "Broadway Jones" will be played by Sam A. Mahary, Miss Frances Shannon will be seen as "Josie Richards" and others who appear prominently in the cast are: Sadie Galloupe, Dorothy Arde, Eugene Desmond, Wm. H. Freeman and May E. Hurst. Geo. MacEntee has looked after the staging of the play and an elaborate production well worthy of local theatregoers patronage is promised.

FINE PROGRESS MADE ON FILTRATION PLANT

Concrete Floors Laid in Filters and Clear Water Basin—Nearly 100 Men Employed—Fire Chief
Saunders Back From South

Favorable weather conditions and a desire on the part of the contractor to push the work as rapidly as possible has resulted in a great, big start being made on the filtration plant at the boulevard. The only thing the workers have to contend with that is at all disagreeable is the sand blown by the high winds. This, however, does not interrupt the work in any way and greater progress than was anticipated has been made up to date.

The contractor has about 60 men employed and 30 water department men are excavating for pipe connections. The concrete floor in one filter has been completed and the same is true of the prefilter. In another filter the floor is about one-half done and about one-third of the floor has been laid in the clear water reservoir. About one-third of the clear water reservoir wall has been completed and a portion of the roof will be annexed in a few days.

Two big concrete mixers are in operation all the time and tomorrow it is planned to pour the walls for the prefilter. Railroad tracks have been laid for the conveyance of concrete and other materials, and a big derrick, with a 50-foot boom, lifts big buckets from the cars as fast as they come from the crusher.

The Water Department
Besides the work that is being done at the boulevard by the water department, a great deal of work is being taken care of, including the putting in of new hydrants. A hydrant was installed in Central street near the canal bridge a day or two ago and the department succeeded in doing it without disturbing the paving. A post hydrant is to take the place of the flush hydrant at the corner of Central and Middle streets.

Saunders on the Job
Fire Chief Saunders has returned home from New Orleans and is on the job again. Mr. Saunders, and Mrs. Saunders, attended the 42nd annual convention of the International Association of Fire Engineers in New Orleans, La. The convention lasted four days and the delegates were beautifully entertained during their stay. Mr. Saunders was appointed chairman of the courtesy committee and it is his duty to write letters of thanks to those who entertained the visiting firemen.

The meetings were held in the assembly hall of The Grunwald, the largest hotel in New Orleans, and owned, managed and operated by the father and brother of Louis Grunwald, formerly of this city. Speaking of the convention, Chief Saunders said: "Mrs. Saunders and myself had a very pleasant time. It was a splendid convention and afforded the firemen an opportunity to increase their stock of knowledge. I think there is nothing like a convention for the dissemination of ideas and great interest was manifested in the papers that were read and the speeches that were made."

"We were entertained at The Grunwald. This house is owned and managed by Louis Grunwald's father and brother. I met Louis and I also met Paul West, a Lowell boy. Mr. West is one of the most popular men in New Orleans. He is a banker and broker and does a tremendous business. We rode in his automobile and his power boat, said to be the fastest on the river. I must say that hospitality reigns supreme in New Orleans. The people seem to have the right knack of doing things. One of the treats bestowed upon us was a trip to the Spanish fort, so called, where we were served an oyster bake. It was my first oyster bake and it was all to the good. The oysters were opened and prepared while you waited and the bake was only one line on the big entertainment program."

School Committee Conference
The school committee and Robert O. Small, of the state board of education, will have a conference this evening, 7 o'clock, with a Mr. Gustafson, of this city, relative to electrical work in the vocational school.

Would Be Chauffeurs
C. E. Lathrop, representing the Massachusetts highway commission, conducted the weekly examination for applicants for chauffeurs' licenses at city hall, this forenoon. Eleven candidates were examined.

School Committee Candidates
The following candidates for the school board took out their nomination papers since the list was published in The Sun yesterday: John C. Leggett, 410 Broadway; Owen B. Brannan, 28 Crowley street; William J. Cassidy, 48 Barclay street; Harry G. Jones, 28 West Bowers street.

FOR ELEVATOR INSPECTOR

BE HELD HERE NOV. 30 TO FILL POSITION

A competitive examination for the position of elevator inspector in the building department of Lowell will be held on Nov. 30, 1914. The salary is $3.50 per day.

The examination will include the following subjects: A sworn statement of training and experience, letter-writing, arithmetic, handwriting, an accuracy test, and knowledge of the construction and inspection of elevators and the laws governing the same.

Successful applicants may be subjected to a physical examination. Applications should be filed at once. Only citizens of the United States who have been residents of Massachusetts for the past year, and of Lowell for the six months last past have a right to apply.

Blank applications for the above examinations can be obtained by applying, in person or by letter, to the civil service commission, state house, Boston, or from James H. Carmichael, civil service representative in Lowell. When filled out, the application papers should be mailed to the office of the civil service commission at once.

In order to receive a notice to appear at any of the above-scheduled examinations, an applicant should have his application on file at least 10 days before the date set for holding the examination.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Guy Morey returned from Hampton beach yesterday, where she has been stopping at their cottage since June 16th.

Miss Edna Kelly, who is soon to enter the Notre Dame convent in Waltham, was presented a purse of money by her friends at a reunion which was held at the home of Mrs. John Graham in Fourth street Wednesday evening.

DEATHS

LAFLAMME—Harry Laflamme, aged 54 years, died today at his home, 34 Marginal street. Deceased is survived by a wife, Alida; three sons, Raymond, Norman and Edmund; a daughter, Aurora; a brother, Louis and two sisters, Mrs. George Shanahan of Beverly and Mrs. Norman Sprague of Medford Hillside.

FUNERALS

LYNCH—The funeral of Mary Lynch took place this morning at 9 o'clock from her late home, 171 Andover street, North Tewksbury, and proceeded to the Immaculate Conception church, where at 9 o'clock a high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. James McCarrin, O. M. I. Although it was the request of the family not to have flowers, there was a profusion of beautiful and appropriate floral offerings, showing the esteem in which the deceased was held by her many friends and acquaintances. The casket was borne by the following bearers: Messrs. Patrick L. Lynch, John T. Hansbury, Thomas E. Morney and Michael J. Deegan. The funeral proceeded to St. Patrick's cemetery, burial being in the family lot where the committal prayers were read at the grave by Rev. James McCarrin, O. M. I. The funeral was largely attended and under the direction of Undertakers Higgins Bros.

FUNERAL NOTICE

FEELEY—The funeral of Ellen F. Feeley will take place Sunday afternoon from her late home, 171 Andover street. There will be funeral services at the Immaculate Conception church, time to be announced later. A high mass of requiem will be sung on Monday morning for the repose of her soul. Burial will be in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertaker C. H. Molloy in charge.

WOMAN BURNED

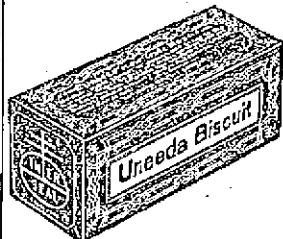

Mrs. Margaret Bamford
May Die From Her Injuries

While cooking with a gas stove in the Spaulding block at 64 Central street at 2 o'clock this afternoon, Mrs. Margaret Bamford, aged 50 years, sustained burns which may prove fatal. She was removed in the ambulance to St. John's hospital, where it was stated she was resting as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

Mrs. Bamford occupies a suite in the building at 64 Central street and while standing near the lighted gas stove, her clothes caught fire. Before assistance could reach the woman, her clothes had been practically burned from her body and she had sustained burns about her face, arms and body. Dr. R. L. Jones was summoned and treated the woman until the ambulance arrived to convey her to the hospital.

PAY HELP WEEKLY

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—The state board of labor and industries yesterday succeeded in having a precedent established in regard to the law on the weekly payment of wages.

Inspector Grant brought a complaint against Samuel Shaller, a Boston contractor, who was engaged in putting in foundations and other concrete work in apartment houses in Brookline, that he failed to pay his help weekly.

Judge Parker of the Brookline municipal court found that work of this nature could be properly brought within the scope of the words "building trades" and found the defendant guilty and fined him $140.

TOWN OF TEWKSBURY

The residents of Tewksbury are very uneasy these days and it is possible they will not be in the right mood until a good shower visits the town, for most of the wells are going dry. It was stated yesterday that some of the old reliable wells, which have never been known to dry up have been affected by this long stretch of dry weather and in many instances the farmers have hired men to dig new wells.

It is feared a conflagration will occur in the town if a fire should break out for everything is very dry and again the scarcity of water would render the task of putting out a fire a very difficult one. The fire department has been given orders to keep their chemical apparatus in good condition and be on the lookout for the slightest blaze in the town. The dry condition in the town is a very serious one and it is said some of the voters will again agitate the question of installing a water system for protection in case of fire.

The many friends of Mrs. John Henderson of the Centre village, who is now confined to the Lowell General hospital, will be pleased to learn she is gradually improving and it may be but a short time before she returns to her home.

Mrs. William T. Lewis of the Centre village is confined to the home of Mrs. Spaulding in Westford street, Lowell, where she was taken ill while on a visit. It is stated her case is a very serious one.

The result of the recent state election has greatly pleased the majority of the voters of the town, who are staunch republicans and the wise ones say they had predicted the election of Representative-elect Crosby. The vote was an exceptionally large one and everybody is happy over the result.

AMERICAN LEAGUE MEETING

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Compromise in the situation on the New York club seemed to be the basis under which its affairs would be settled when the clubowners of the American league resumed their annual meeting today.

Friends of Frank Farrell, the club's president, mustered strength enough it was said, to insure his remaining at the head of the Yankees, and the main desire for a change appeared not to affect Farrell so much as one or two others.

When news of the disagreement which led to Frank Chance's resignation became public last summer some of the magnates learned for the first time that William Devery was a stockholder in the club and it is his retirement it was said that they thought necessary to leave Farrell a free hand in an endeavor to build up the club's fortunes. Some of the owners went into the session with the suggestion that Devery sell out his holdings and Farrell be assured support toward making the Yankees into a winner.

Peace between organized baseball and the Federal league seemed remote though it was generally admitted desirable. Hope that the purchase by the Wards of the New York Americans might be a solution grew dim in the statement of Farrell that he would not sell.

Several clubs, it was given out, have refused to waive on Bender and Plank and will make offers to the Philadelphia club for them.

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

For over thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

WIRELESS FROM BERLIN

Reports Call to all Mussulmans to Rally to Faith—Hard Fighting Continues

BERLIN, Nov. 6 (via wireless).—According to information given out in official quarters today to the press the sheik Ul Islam, the chief ecclesiastic of Mohammedanism in Turkey, has issued a decree in Constantinople saying that in the fighting between Turkey and Russia, England and France the duty of every good Mussulman is to his faith. This decree has been spread throughout the Mohammedan world and announced to the pilgrims at Mecca.

News given out officially for the press today says that the hard fighting in the northwest continues but it is as yet without result. The Germans, however, have been able to make slow advances at several points from Tyres inland.

The Austro-German clash with the Russians in Poland which has been expected for several days has not yet developed. One reason is that the condition of the roads makes rapid movements impossible. The cold weather is now making some improvement in this regard.

No exact information as to the positions of the Teutonic allies is available. The Russians undoubtedly are in superior force, a condition the allies are seeking to overcome by advantages in position.

Further to the south the Austrians continue to harass the enemy. No day passes, according to the information given out in Berlin, without a report of the capture of a thousand or more prisoners.

The improvement in the situation on the southwestern front is shown by orders to reopen in parts of Alsace schools which had been closed, owing to the danger of invasion.

A report received here from Constantinople says that the Ameer of Afghanistan has sent an army of 150,000 men with 35 guns to the Indian frontier. This news was given out in official quarters in Berlin today to the press.

The railroad from Herat to Kushk has been destroyed. A number of Indian border tribes have joined the Afghans.

British officials on the border have been arrested and several of their number have been killed. An advance of Turkish troops in the Sinai peninsula in the direction of Egypt is reported in Berlin from Switzerland. The Turkish army operating against Egypt is said to number a quarter of a million men. This news was given officially to the press in Berlin today.

BACK TO THE CITY AND WORK

Summer is over and the girl who has had her fill of outdoor pleasures now turns her thoughts in other directions.

Many women return from a strenuous outdoor vacation to inert idleness, or, perhaps on the other hand, they return from a vacation of idleness to one of accumulated work and worry.

These sudden changes either way will add nothing to beauty. The one who immediately gives up regular exercise for long, dwindling hours will surely become sallow and heavy of physiognomy.

The girl who has been idle, the woman who has been resting and who comes home to strap on burdens which for the first week or two seem staggering, will appear pale and not-low-eyed. How much better would it be if both of these classes might use a little common sense and avoid extremes in either case.

The judicious mixture of work and rest, together with complexion care will best add to the benefit received during the vacation time and none of its good would be lost.

Where it is possible, the little by little return to the usual routine is excellent. The daily cool sponge or shower bath, the out-of-door walk each day, the rather abstemious fare, the eight hours' sleep a night in an airy bedroom, these will help mightily in the effort toward a good complexion, then the local work where the skin of the face is rejuvenated, cared for and revived, will be found to be most helpful and beneficial.

Jelly over all. Pour over a French dressing.

MOCK CHERRY PIE—Mix a cup and a quarter of flour, a heaping half-cup of lard and a small cup of water. Roll and fill a baking plate with the pie crust. Fill with half a cup of cranberries, quarter of a cup of raisins, chopped fine, half a cup of sugar, and the same of water, a tablespoon of flour and a little salt. Bake in a moderate oven.

FRID TRIPE—Place in a frying pan a piece of butter, when brown add the tripe and fry brown. Just before taking from the fire add a teaspoon of tarragon vinegar.

SHAVED BROWN POTATOES—Chop enough cold boiled potatoes to make two cups, add a tablespoon of milk and fry brown.

Luncheon

PORK SALAD—This tastes very much like chicken salad, and is a good way to use small pieces of pork. Cut in small pieces, add half a cup of nuts, and the same of chopped celery. Mix with a boiled dressing or a mayonnaise.

Dinner

BROWN LAMB STEW—Place in a frying pan a piece of butter, two pounds of lamb cut in small pieces and fry brown. Cover with boiling water and boil two hours. Then add a quarter of a cup of sliced onions, the same of sliced carrots, and boil 20 minutes longer. It may be necessary to add more water as when done there should be two cups of gravy. Thicken with a tablespoon of flour, dissolved in a little cold water. Add the seasoning and half a teaspoon of kitchen bouquet.

RAY SALAD—Cream together a tablespoon of butter, add one large cream cheese, add a quarter of a cup of chopped nuts and mould (a baking powder can is good to use.) When firm cut in thick slices on a lettuce leaf and place a teaspoon of currant

BATTLE OF FLANDERS RENEWED WITH DESPERATE STRUGGLE

1. The shaded portion here represents the district, flooded by the waters of the Yser, which forced the withdrawal of the Germans from the left (west) bank of the river. According to the French official report the kaiser's troops have been driven across the river between Nieuport and Dixmude, except at one bridge, and have lost some artillery by their retirement. 2. Berlin says the attacks on Ypres continue, and Paris records some alternate advances and withdrawals between Dixmude and the Yser. The French report says the allies have made some progress toward Messines. It is in this region or to the southward that the allies look for a fresh German assault with a view to breaking through the lines. 3. An artillery battle is reported to be proceeding west of Lias.

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

It looks as though the Root Girls' club has virtually disbanded for all time.

John Mulligan of the Prescott mills is pulling up big scores at the Y. M. C. I. alleys.

Philip Mulenby of the Bon Marche men's wear counter is one of the most accommodating clerks in the business.

It is rumored about that one of our local mills has received a large order for 35 inch gray goods from a foreign agent.

Some people wonder how long it took the fortunate mill that received that 165 yard order of drilling, to turn the goods out.

Miss May Moriarty of the Helme Electric Co. is entertaining an uncle from New Jersey at her home in Swift street.

Miss May Graham of the Talbot mills, North Billerica, has returned from an enjoyable vacation spent with relatives in Claremont, N. H.

The Mathews' ladies' night held last night in the spacious quarters of the institute was a largely attended and highly enjoyable affair.

Harold Frayer, of the Lamson Store Service company, is being congratulated by his many friends on his approaching marriage.

R. O. Roberts, employed as a loomfixer at the Washington mills, Fries, Va., has handed in his resignation and will attend the Lowell Textile school.

Matt Wholley of Howard's drug store expressed himself as much pleased at the success of the husking bee and dance held in Dracut.

William Conroy, of Maker's picture store has proven himself a capable promoter of social events by the success of the husking bee held last night.

John Dawson of the Hamilton Manufacturing company has returned from a hunting trip in Maine. He was gone two weeks and secured some very fine specimens.

Bobby Whalen, formerly janitor of the Y. M. C. I. and now employed at the Tremont & Suffolk mills has become a member of the bowling team and is rapidly proving his worth as a bowler.

Miss Anna Spillane, formerly employed at the J. L. Chaffoux store has returned after spending a very enjoyable vacation with friends in Amesbury, Mass.

J. Paul Doherty's talk at the A. G. Pollard Employees Mutual Benefit association was highly interesting and is now the subject of much favorable comment.

Miss Madeline Roland's singing at the Street Railway Men's hall last night won much applause and she responded to several encores. Miss Roland is employed at the Lawrence Manufacturing company.

Mr. J. A. Millette, of Worcester, general organizer for the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America is in this city for the purpose of building up the local organization. He expects to complete his work in two or three weeks.

Mr. John Warren, the popular head clerk of the soda fountain at the Bon Marche store continues to please his many patrons with his winning smile and ingratiating ways. "Jack," as he is intimately called by his friends, is always on the job.

The many friends of Mr. James Kelly, a highly respected resident of Belvidere and an employee of the Hartford-Bigelow Carpet Co., will be pained to learn of his death, which occurred at St. John's hospital this morning after a sickness which lasted only a few days.

The Belvidere football team will clash on the gridiron next Saturday with a speedy eleven from Newburyport. The team has made rapid progress under the able coaching of Mr. Robert Yates, an old football star, at present employed at the Hartford-Bigelow Carpet Co.

Secretary Charles Farrell of the Manufacturers' bowling league has received a beautiful silver prize cup donated by the Moxie people of Boston. The cup is of large dimensions and is well worth striving for. Mr. Farrell has also received other valuable prizes from local business men.

That some men seem to think they were born candidates for office.

That Lee prevented the election of Brennan.

That candidates for alderman are getting busy.

That the youngsters are grinding their skates.

That the Richardson hotel dinners are still the best ever.

That Sulzer got back at Tammany in helping to defeat Glynn.

That "Connie" O'Neill ought to make a capable president.

That Cong. Rogers evidently stands as well in Woburn as he does at home.

That Reps. Murphy and Gilbride will not ask for a recount.

That friends of Dr. J. J. McGreevy are he ought to run again for the school board.

That there's some class to Sgt. Bart Ryan's family, according to recent civil service exams.

That a few kickers in a union or other organization do a lot to injure the reputation of the entire body.

That Young Tom Maguire says that Bill Leoney got cold feet and called off the race.

That the local carmen are rejoicing over the fact that the wage dispute will be settled by arbitration.

That the local bands will adopt the C. O. D. plan in this municipal campaign.

That the republican crocodile tears about the neglect of Lowell were shed in vain.

That the Sun building has one or two props that the architect never counted on.

That "I told you so" brings no solace to the man who is not pleased with the result.

That the Billerica girl who pulled a child from a canal this week should receive a medal.

That there has been nothing dull and dreary about the opening days of the month of November.

That the municipal council might get away from that "do nothing" title by doing a little repairing on some of the bridges before the snow flies.

That the complete vote of 25 towns and the city of Woburn was in The Sun office, all tabulated, before the slumbering precinct officers in precinct 1 of ward 3 awoke from their sleep.

That one fellow remarked in the square election night that he was glad the public market resolve had passed as he would now get his provisions for nothing.

That it's hard lines, after you get a job for a former schoolmate and help him along in other ways to have this same individual get up at a union meeting and belt your head off.

That for expert figuring and doping out election returns accurately, you have got to give the place to former Mayor Casey. As the saying goes, "He's there."

That South Lowell continues to be on the map, though it's a long, long way to South Lowell via the Lawrence street line and the Lawrence street severer job.

That when you are asked, "Have you engaged your stall yet?" you shouldn't feel offended for the questioner undoubtedly refers to Lowell's new public market.

That something new in local police court circles was introduced yesterday when two boys were charged with stealing a little, whatever that may mean.

That if the municipal council doesn't install the uniform system of book-keeping in the street department office there'll be something doing in Boston.

That the French bulletins thrown on The Sun screen Tuesday evening were well received by the many French speaking people who watched the returns with great interest.

That the coming convention of the French American volunteer brigade to be held in this city will be a great event for the semi-military organizations of Lowell.

That another house was entered and robbed at Belmont terrace in the rear of the Lowell Textile school, despite the "great vigilance" of the police department.

That the sedative tones purring from that megaphone Tuesday night materially softened the charin felt by the old guard when they saw The Sun "dash" Governor Walsh's re-election.

That City Messenger Monahan is studying up the classics since the city solicitor referred to him as "Fides Achate" and is suspending judgment on J. Joseph until he gets the connection.

That the candidate for the municipal council who will establish a precedent by hiring a hall in which to make a speech, instead of a cold street corner, will make a hit and incidentally some votes.

That Frank Monette, a former Lowell man now superintendent of the Canadian Knitting Co. of Hamilton, Ont., says the local mills will receive large foreign orders within a short time.

BOARD OF MISSIONS

Many Lowell People Attend Annual Meeting of Andover and Woburn Branch Board of Missions

WINCHESTER, Nov. 7.—The annual meeting of the Andover and Woburn branch of the women's board of missions was held Thursday in the First Congregational church, more than 200 delegates attending at the morning session. Mrs. Edward Y. Hincks of Cambridge, presided. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Stephen A. Norton of Woburn. Following various reports, Miss Laura Ward, the new missionary of the branch to China, gave a short talk and Mrs. Mary F. Daniels, president of the women's board of missions, delivered an address on "The Christian Woman's Outlook and Outlook."

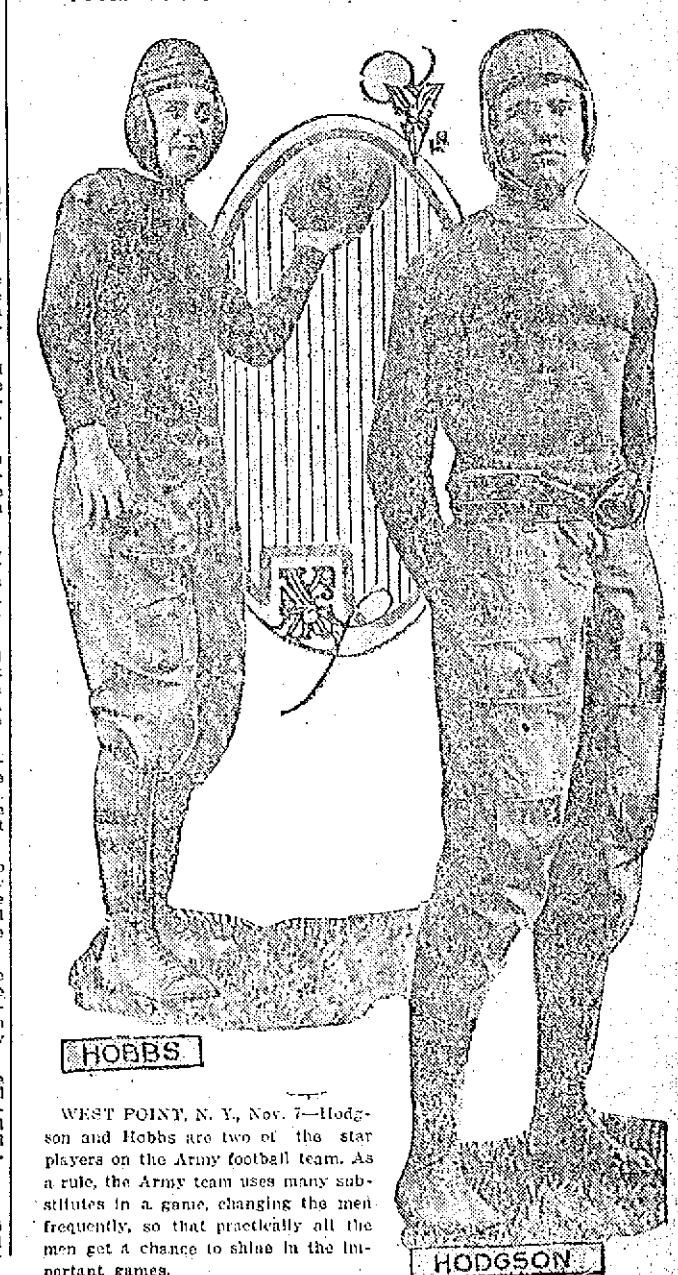

Luncheon was served at 12:30 in the vestry by the Winchester society. At a conference of "Junior Lookouts" at 1:15 an address was delivered by Miss Mary Preston.

Rev. Dr. Cyrus Richardson, acting pastor of the church, opened the afternoon session with prayer. Those officers were elected: Mrs. Edward Y. Hincks of Cambridge, president; Mrs. C. F. Belcher of Malden, Mrs. E. V. Bigelow of Andover, Mrs. Annie M. Chapin of Melrose, Mrs. G. E. Chapin of Melrose, Mrs. Joshua Colt of Stoneham, Mrs. Joshua Colt of Stoneham.

BIG NAVAL BATTLE IN NORTH SEA EXPECTED AS GERMAN WARSHIPS LEAVE KIEL CANAL

BIG GUNS ON ENGLISH WARSHIP
MAP OF NORTH SEA AND BALTIC SEA

The map shows the North and Baltic seas, which, according to latest reports, are the scenes of operations of the German navy. A strong German fleet is said to have steamed out from the Kiel canal (1), and as British warships have been waiting since the opening of hostilities for the German ships to come out, news of a decisive sea battle in the North sea is expected at any time. Part of the German fleet has already been in action against the British ships, the sinking of the British submarine D-5 and two mine drifters being a direct result of this clash. The warships exchanged shots with the torpedo gunboat Halcyon about ten miles off Yarmouth (2). German warships are also reported in the Baltic off the entrance of the gulf of Finland (3), and it is believed that they contemplate a raid on the Russian coast cities. The North sea is heavily mined. The British mine area (4) protects the mouth of the Thames and the entrance of the channel. The Germans have placed mines in several places, notably around the Helgoland naval base and near the English coast.

WHAT THE FRENCH MAID SAID

MARIE ON COMPLEXIONS

"Look at my face Marie, whatever is the matter, my complexion looks as muddy as can be and, yes, there is a wrinkle, right there, near my eye." Marie began to sob as she dropped, full length, on to the couch in her aunt's sitting room.

"A girl your age should certainly take great care of their complexion," said Marie, "but don't despair. Let's find out what has done the damage and then repair it."

"You generally are a pretty healthy specimen, thanks to the many outdoor games and sports in which you have indulged. Your figure, then, is at least that of firm, strong, health rather than of that artificial sort which once was considered entirely beautiful.

"You walk well shod, dress your neck becomingly, and are always daintily gloved. Your hair you know full well how to manage; one item of your store of good looks which might be said to be the most important once, since without it you would be

FRENCH AM. GUARD MET

Convention to be Held in Lowell
January 31 — 200 Delegates
Expected

An interesting meeting of delegates of the various semi-military guards of this city which are affiliated to the French American Volunteer brigade of the United States was held Thursday in the quarters of Garde Frontenac in Dutton street, the meeting having been called for the purpose of making arrangements for the coming convention of the brigade, which will be held in this city.

There were five delegates present from each guard and the meeting was opened by Col. Albert Bergeron of Garde Frontenac. The first matter to come before the meeting was the election of officers for the convention committee and the result was as follows: Col. Albert Bergeron, chairman; Capt. Alfred Grenier, Garde St. Louis; vice chairman; Major Arthur D. Lamoureux, A. G. Cadets, secretary; Capt. Nelson Phillips, Garde d'Honneur; treasurer; Lieut. Alfred Renaud, Garde Sacre-Coeur, master of ceremonies.

It was unanimously voted to hold the convention on Sunday, Jan. 31, the opening of the convention to be a solemn high mass, the place and time to be decided later. The first business session will be held on the Sunday afternoon and in the evening a banquet will be held. It is probable the convention will be held at the C. M. A. C. hall in Pawtucket street, but this matter will be taken up at a later date.

On the Monday following the opening of the convention two sessions will be held and on this day the officers for the ensuing two sessions will be chosen. On Tuesday the delegates will be given an automobile tour through the city and in the evening they will attend a drama which will be given under the auspices of the local guards.

It is expected that nearly 200 delegates will attend the convention and of course this will mean a lot for the business of Lowell for these men will spend three days in the Spalding City. The guards represented at last night's meeting and their representatives were as follows:

Garde Frontenac—Col. Albert Bergeron, Lieut. Mathias Pelonin, Privates Adelard Dube, Arthur Verville and George Desolis.

Garde d'Honneur—Capt. Nelson Phillips, Lieut. Alfred Renaud, Lieut. Henri Grenier and Corp. Simon Goulet.

A. G. Cadets—Major Arthur D. Lamoureux, Privates Elphege Phaneuf, Robert Chagnon, J. Theriault and A. Delanger.

Capit. Horace Desilets of Garde Sacre-Coeur, Major Arthur D. Lamoureux, A. G. Cadets, and Private Henri Chagnon, Garde St. Louis, were appointed a press committee. Another meeting will be held next Thursday evening at the same place.

FRIEDMANN CURE

Has Been Found Totally Ineffective by Special Committee

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—According to the report issued today by a committee of physicians, who after many months of investigation into the alleged Friedman cure for tuberculosis, the cure has been found totally ineffective.

The report details merely the medical observations made on certain patients, the laboratory studies on the culture used by Dr. Friedman and offers to the many peculiarities of the doctor sufficiently to make it clear that it was his own fault that the investigation was not continued longer and upon a greater number of suitable cases.

"It is pointed out that the manner in which Dr. Friedman presented his claims before the Berlin medical society made them paramount to a contention that he had discovered at last the sovereign cure for tuberculosis in all its forms, provided of course that the disease had not already progressed beyond all hope of recovery."

These claims the report takes up in detail and then draws the deadly parallel between them and the results of the application of the treatment to patients under the observation of the service doctors. "Whereas the claims are based on cases which always seem to get well or at least to show phenomenal improvement after one or two injections the cases which reacted in this manner among the test series were conspicuously few."

The report does not commit itself as to whether the improvement noted in these few cases was due to the treatment or to the stimulus of a great hope or to unassignable causes which it does point out distinctly that if anyone prefers the first explanation, "the most in justice attribute also to the treatment the very distinct and unusual deterioration in the condition of certain other patients which progressed in some of them to a speedy death."

ATTEMPT TO ENTER HOUSE

An attempt was made recently to enter the home of Cleophas Heroux in Rosemont terrace, rear of the Thelwell school, but apparently the thieves were frightened away before securing any valuables. The attempted break was made during the forenoon while the occupants of the house were at work. One of the family returned it was discovered that the door had been pried and windows removed in an effort to gain an entrance.

DEMOCRAT LEADS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 6.—Revised election returns from virtually every county in Wisconsin as compiled by the Milwaukee Journal, but with estimates made in a few precincts not heard from give the democratic party for United States senator, 123,750, and McGovern, republican, 121,408, showing a plurality for Husting of 1,142. It is generally conceded an official count will be necessary to decide the winner.

FIGHTING IN MEXICO

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 6.—The Carranza troops have retired before an advance of 10,000 Villa soldiers after fighting 20 miles south of Aguas Calientes, according to an official Villa report today. Gen. Leon commanded the Carranza forces.

AUTO STRUCK WAGON

A touring car crashed into one of the Cudahy Co.'s wagons at the corner of Algon and Moody streets yesterday when a fatality was narrowly averted. The residents in the vicinity claim that the driver should be kept at that corner as it is one of the most dangerous in town.

Contempt Proceedings Against Bedard, Yates,
Trautman & Shaheen

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Contempt proceedings were begun in the supreme court today against Joseph A. Bedard, William Yates, William Trautman and Joseph Shaheen, all of Lawrence, for their failure to abide by a court order requiring them to turn over $15,375 as trustees of a fund raised in 1912 for the benefit of the Lawrence strikers.

The supreme court last spring held the four defendants severally liable for $3900 and Bedard, Trautman and Shaheen for the further sum of $573. Proceedings were instituted at the request of contributors to the fund. Service was made on Yates in Cambridge and by letter on Shaheen, who is in Florida. Bedard and Trautman could not be found.

LOWELL BUILDING NEWS

What Real Estate Dealers and Contractors are Doing—Transactions Recorded for the Week

Colson Heights, a Billerica homestead, has given another impetus to the real estate and building operations in that location. The owners plan the extensive development of the property which is now very attractive. This is one of a large number of land holdings which have been cut up into house lots and offered for sale. Thus far, the principal buyers have been the mechanics employed at the Boston and Maine car shops. A description of the operations of Colson Heights appears elsewhere in this section.

In Lowell, the number of permits granted during the past week was very small. A few are building garages, while others are remodeling or enlarging their homes. A number of residences the construction of which was begun some months ago, are now completed and add attractiveness to various parts of the city. It is rumored that Mr. Demer, who has already erected six beautiful new houses near the corner of Stevens and Middlesex streets, intends to promote even greater building operations at another location on Stevens street.

Sales by J. P. Shaffery, Jr.
Contracts have been closed on the purchase and sale of a splendid cottage house situated near Fletcher street. The house is a full two and one-half story with seven rooms and bath. There are about 2000 square feet of land assessed at the rate of 22c per foot. The purchaser of this cost house buys purely for a home. Names of grantor and grantee will be given later.

Sales by Ryan Bros.
Ryan Bros. real estate brokers with offices at 21 Central street report the following sales for the week ending November 6, 1914.
Final papers have been taken to record whereby Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Lapham of Billerica have conveyed to Charles Williamson of the same town their property comprising an eight-room house, barn, and about one acre of land situated in Billerica on the Concord road just below the Mitchell boys' school. This property was only recently purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Lapham through this office and almost immediately sold. Mr. Williamson buys for a home and will expend considerable money in the improvement of it.
Final papers have been taken to record whereby the property owned by Mrs. Elizabeth A. Moody of Dunstable and situated just off the state road from Tyngsboro to the village of Dunstable has been conveyed to James Kerr, a local mill man, who buys the property for a summer home. It consists of a very cozy cottage of seven rooms, large screened-in veranda, barn, heronhouse, and about five acres of land. Mr. Kerr contemplates making some few changes in the property.

Contracts for the purchase and sale have been signed calling for the transfer in the near future of a very attractive home property in Dracut comprising an eight room house, and 10-100 feet of land more or less.

Contracts for the purchase and sale have been signed on a large parcel of land situated in Middlesex Village comprising a tract of about 115,000 feet more or less.

Sales by Abel H. Campbell
Abel H. Campbell, real estate and insurance broker with offices at 403-405 Sun building, reports the following sales for the week ending Nov. 6th.

The sale of a well built cottage house of eight rooms, bath, steam heat and set tubs located near Warwick street in the Highlands. The house was sold to a local man. Names of grantor and grantee will be reported at a later date.

The sale of a two-tenement house in Centralville. Each tenement contains five rooms, bath, steam and set tubs. The lot contains about 7000 feet of land. The buyer will occupy one of the tenements and rent the other.

Sales by T. H. Elliott
Thos. H. Elliott, real estate broker, offices 61 Central street, cor. Prescott street, reports the following sales negotiated during the past week ending Friday, Nov. 6th:
The sale of a handsome residential property situated at 481 Beacon street, near its junction with Melhusen. This is one of the older estates of the city and comprises a residence of eight rooms and excellent stable. The house is heated with steam and equipped with most up-to-date plumbing throughout. There is almost 17,000 square feet of land laid out to extensive and attractive grounds and having an unusual number of fine fruit and shade trees. Land is assessed at the rate of 6 cents per foot. The assessment on land and building is $2900. The sale is negotiated on behalf of the heirs of James S. Hovey, the grantee being Mrs. J. Wilson Jordan. Mrs. Jordan buys for personal occupancy.

Final papers have been passed in the sale of a fine nine apartment property situated at 282-284 Center street, near the corner of Broadway. The parcel comprises a block of modern construction and having nine apartments of five rooms each. The buildings occupy land amounting to 1200 square feet, assessed at 40 cents per foot. The total assessment on the land and buildings is $2900. The sale is negotiated on behalf of the heirs of the late Amelia Miller, the grantee being Mrs. John Chesser, formerly of Danbury, but now of this city. Mrs. Chesser purchases for combined purposes of occupancy and investment.

Also the sale of the large old residential property situated at 1055 Bridge street, near the corner of Fletcher street, and commonly known as the "Highland Estate." The land extends through from Bridge street to Whitney avenue, providing an excellent frontage on both streets. It appraises at 21,635 square feet and is assessed at the rate of 19 cents per foot. The assessment totaling on the parcel is $4100. The house is one of the landmarks of the section and is of the heaviest grade of construction. It affords a splendid outlook to the west and north. The sale is negotiated on behalf of P. B. Pitts of Boston and the heirs of William Brigham. The purchaser is Mr. William H. Lumbard of this city. Mr. Lumbard plans most extensive alterations and improvements.

Also through this office has been sold the property situated at 15 Clifford street in the Highlands section. This parcel comprises an excellent cottage house of seven rooms and bath. The house is completely surrounded by a large garden spot laid out to fruit trees and shrubbery. The land amounts to approximately 10,000 square feet and fronts on both Clifford street and Roylston avenue. The sale is effected on behalf of Mr. Lewis Abare, the grantee being Mrs. Francis Carroll of Lynnfield. Mrs. Carroll purchases for personal occupancy.

Contracts have been closed on the purchase and sale of a most interesting parcel of residential realty situated near Fairmount street on Belvidere hill. The property is unquestionably one of the finest residences in the city of Lowell. It has 15 rooms, three baths, finish in solid mahogany and quartered oak of the richest character and construction of a magnificent grade throughout. The grounds are most extensive, totaling 150,000 square feet, or somewhat over three acres. There is an excellent tennis court on the premises as well as a splendid stable. The transfer is effected on behalf of a local estate, the purchaser coming to Lowell from out of town.

Henry T. Wheeler of 68 Baldwin street will build a new 11 by 21 foot hen coop. The coop will have a pitch roof and a foundation of posts.

An addition is being built on the home of Frederick Butterfield at 242 West Meadow road and will be fitted up as a kitchen. The material used is wood and the addition will be 15 by 20 feet. It will have a stone foundation and a wall of hard plaster. New plumbing and new bath and kitchen fixtures will be installed upon the completion of the structure.

Patrick Healey will construct an addition to his house at 21 Cedar street, his purpose being to enlarge one room and to provide for a stairway to the second floor. The addition will adjoin the ell of the present building on the rear and one side and a second story will be constructed on the ell. Window openings will be cut and two new rooms will be afforded by the additional story on the ell. Two sinks will be installed. The estimated cost of the work is $500.

Benj. Mortimer of 11 Morion street will have extensive additions and alterations made upon his property located at 1154 Lawrence st. A new partition will be constructed to separate the front stairway from the downstairs tenement. An addition will be built which will afford additional rooms. This addition is to consist of two stories and there will be a new pantry and bath provided in each tenement. The addition will be built of wood and will have a foundation of stone. All new plumbing apparatus and fixtures will be installed. The estimated cost of the work is $1500.

New Storage Shed
A new one story building, in all probability to be used as a storage shed, is to be erected by Albert J. Brooks in the rear of his residence at 39 Chase avenue. The building will have a foundation of concrete and fireproof material will be used largely in the construction.

To Construct Steel Garage
A new garage, to consist of a framework of wood covered with steel, is to be erected by Charles F. Harris, near his residence at 33 Summit street at a cost of approximately $200. The front of the garage will measure 14 feet and the side 15 feet. The foundation and floor will be constructed of concrete.

Building New Bungalow
Annie Elizabeth Matzen of Boston will build a new bungalow on her property at 411 Parker street. This bungalow, when completed, will be a most attractive appearing structure and will be built along the newest lines. It will measure 28 by 36 feet, and will have two bay windows, and also a spacious piazza on one side. There will be one fireplace and the bungalow is to be equipped with apparatus for steam heating. The estimated cost is about $1700.

About Electric Installations
Mr. J. P. Gallagher, a local electric contractor, located at 32 Middle st., formerly instructor at the Lowell vocational school, offers some very good suggestions for property owners who are considering having their houses wired or the equipment changed; impress upon the contractor the kind of installation desired, an electrician should not be rushed. It needs careful attention; splices and switch connections should be very carefully made; if one desires an installation that is free from any danger of mechanical injury, moreover, cable should be used; if wiring for electrical appliances, do not attach wires to the chandeliers, but have a floor or base board plug installed; give the job to a contractor who will stand behind his work.

Also through this office has been sold the property situated at 15 Clifford street in the Highlands section. This parcel comprises an excellent cottage house of seven rooms and bath. PERSPECTIVE VIEW—From a Photograph

FLOOR PLAN

There is no waste of space in this entire bungalow plan. Two bedrooms on the first floor, and in case of need the den could be used as an extra chamber. There can be three chambers finished in the second story if one desires, but the estimated cost does not include finishing the second story. Size of the house is 28 feet wide and 36 feet deep. Full basement under entire house. First story 9 feet. Chambers finished in pine to paint, balance in red gum, red oak or birch, with birch or white maple floors throughout first story. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $2300.

Mr. Gallagher specializes in electric signs and will soon erect several of remarkable size in this city. He is now experimenting upon a novel electrical "flashing" clock to be used as a sign, and this when completed, will be quite a curiosity in Lowell. It will be erected about the last of this month. The clock is an original invention of Mr. Gallagher's and embodies a new idea.

OLD WATER TANK RAZED

There has recently been torn down at the northwest corner of Lafayette and Reade streets, New York city, the four-story building which contained for more than a century the iron tank which supplied water to the lower part of the city before the installation of the Croton service. This iron tank was one of the landmarks of the city and in the early efforts to supply good water to the citizens it played an important part. Beneath the tank in the building was a large well, but it had not been used since 1812.

Sections of the wooden pipes which furnished water to many houses in the lower part of the city have frequently been dug up and during the excavations for the Hall of Records and the subway many of these old water pipes in a good state of preservation were unearthed.

NO MORE LEAKY FAUCETS

The householder is always ready and eager to adopt any scheme that will relieve him of the expensive visits of the plumber and he is doubly rejoiced if he sees the water bill change for the better. One of the surest ways to run up a big water bill is to have leaky faucets and no one wants to pay for water that runs to waste. Furthermore, there is often a mineral deposit in the water that disfigures the basins and tubs and all this must be charged against the leaky faucet. Everyone knows that a washer worn thin by constant friction, is the most frequent cause of this trouble. Anything that will check this nuisance is welcome, and our readers will be interested to know that they may now procure a washerless faucet that will put an end to this annoyance. This faucet has been thoroughly tested abroad, where it has given entire satisfaction and has been authorized by the London water board. Instead of a washer we have a conical valve with a direct bearing upon a spherical seat making possible a leak contract which provides a perfectly tight joint.

LEGAL QUESTION IN PLUMBING
A contract to install plumbing and heating in a house provided that petitioners should furnish the plumbing and heating complete, doing first-class work, and leaving everything in first-class condition ready for immediate use. The work was substantially completed in August, but at that time there was a slight leak in certain pipes, and the workmen had put the hot water disc on the cold water faucet, and vice versa. Petitioners, in response to a request, looked out the necessary pipes, released the joints, and screwed them tighter, stopping the leaks and changed the hot and cold water discs. Held, that the contract was not completed until the repairs were finished, and hence their right to file a claim for time dated from that time.

ABOUT WHITEWASH

Whitewash is a preservative; it is not as good as paint in some ways, and it may be better than paint in certain other ways. Lime used for whitewash is a good disinfectant and it serves to destroy the fungus growth which may be setting up on the outer surface of lumber or timber and in this fungus growth which makes what we call decay. Whitewash falls short of paint, however, in that it will not stay on as long nor fill the pores of the wood with oil which serves to keep out moisture. Whitewash is a good thing for rough, outside timber and fencing and it is certainly a preservative.

VARNISHING FLOORS

Properly clean, scrape and dust the floor surface insisting upon same attention as is given to hardwood. Apply one coat of good quality floor varnish, slightly cut with turpentine, allowing it to set forty-eight hours. Then thoroughly dry, sandpaper lightly with 0 paper and remove dust. Apply second coat of the same good floor varnish, full strength; this is to stand until dry and hard; sandpaper lightly and clean floor as before. Apply a third coat of varnish, full strength, and either leave in gloss, or rub to a dull finish as owner may direct.

BUILD NOW

The temporary letting up of general building operations is making a favorable opportunity this fall and winter for the homebuilder, not soon to be repeated. Have you thought about what is ahead of us and its sure effect on the cost of building as in reverse to present conditions?

Right now, every contractor you meet is in position to give you a $1.25 return for our money for every dollar invested and for two reasons. He can buy material comparatively cheap and put good workmen on your job for the same pay that in rush times goes to the incapable man furnishing 50 per cent efficiency. Good five times are right ahead and so a word to the wise that they be forehanded and build now, for a $5000 house today in less than year will cost $6000.

Nor will you be required to pay high interest rates should you wish to make a building loan, for business conditions are daily improving and your banks will soon accommodate your requirements at normal interest rates, but at that, a $5000 house on 7 per cent, loan money for a time is much better than the same house costing $1000 more next year with a lower interest rate. One Minneapolis institution that has made building loans at 6 1-2 per cent for years, asks no increase and today is loaning their money on this class of high-grade security, at the same rate of interest. The latest reports from Chicago bankers tell us that per cent money will soon be available at lower rates go with lower commodity prices prevailing at present. Mr. F. W. Thompson, president of the Mortgage Bankers association, is very optimistic for the coming year and calls the attention of business men of this country to just where the money will come from; namely, our ability to transform into money the great crops harvested this year with 900,000,000 bushels of wheat and 2,700,000,000 bushels of corn at high prices, which condition alone assures our nation a bountiful prosperity.

American homes and American women are looking to the men of the United States to meet their needs and we shall rise quickly to meet these demands. This means a great commercial activity, a great business and higher prices for all. Let us build now.—Keith's Magazine.

CARE OF VARNISH BRUSHES

Much of the usefulness of a varnish brush depends upon the treatment it receives when purchased. The stock of the new brush should be run through the fingers until the loose hairs and dirt are completely worked out and it should next be placed in clean linsol oil and wiped over the edge of the cup. The brush will then be fit for use in putting on the under coats of varnish, and after a week or two of this work it will do to use in applying the finishing coats of varnish.

A brush should always be suspended when not in use, and never allowed to rest upon its point, for if this is done the brush will lose both form and elasticity. Varnish brushes should be kept in a clean receptacle with a cover fitted tight enough to keep out all forms of dirt. If you happen to drop your varnish brush on the floor while using it, pick it up carefully, and holding it at an angle, flood the dirt off by pouring on a small quantity of turpentine. To clean a varnish brush, wash it in oil first, and next in turpentine. Then by a week's use with undercoats, it will be restored to its original cleanliness.

But the brushes which are not used so often, or have any chance of becoming dirty, you must treat differently. The rinsing in turpentine will merely loosen the dirt which will be forced up in the body. These brushes can better be kept in a finishing varnish which should be frequently changed. Every precaution should be taken lest dust collect on the brushes, and they should never be left lying around for any length of time when not in use. If a cloth is used to clean the brushes, it will distribute lint, and this work should be done with a stiff, partly worn brush.—Pratt & Lambert Varnish Talks.

ATTRACTIVE COLSON HEIGHTS

Colson Heights is the name of a home site of excellent location and high character situated in Billerica. It was set apart for those whose desire is to purchase land and erect high class residences and has been already taken advantage of in great measure by prospective home builders. The property includes about 500 home sites which range in size from 5,000 to 10,000 square feet and the prices are at the present time from 2 to 5 cents per foot. The property is managed by Mr. J. W. Perrigo, sales manager, representing the firm of Edgar F. Twombly & Co. The office is located at the corner of Talbot avenue and Poland street, North Billerica. The owners are developers and builders, as well as salesmen, and it is their intention to continually add to the attractiveness and value of the property. A number of the skilled mechanics from the B. & M. shops have purchased sites at Colson Heights and have built attractive homes. Indications point to the rapid increase of personal holdings at this location. Some are buying for

COLE A CANDIDATE IF CUSHING RUNS

Ex-Speaker Will Seek Republican Nomination for Governor Next Year if Lieutenant Governor Elect Grafton Cushing Thows His Hat in the Ring

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—If there is a contest for the republican nomination for governor next fall, ex-Speaker John N. Cole of Andover will be one of the candidates. Mr. Cole has no desire to make Mr. McCall fight for a renomination if the latter wants it, and, unless some other candidate enters the field against the Winchester man, Mr. Cole will keep his hands off; but, if there are two candidates for the republican nomination, there will be three, and one of those three will be the former speaker of the house.

Mr. Cole has not been particularly active in politics since 1908, when, after serving for three years as speaker of the house, he was a candidate for the republican nomination for lieutenant governor and was beaten in the state convention by Louis A. Frothingham. And yet Mr. Cole has not dropped entirely out of public vision. Gov. Ross made him chairman of the commission on economy and efficiency, and six or seven months ago Mr. Cole resigned that position in order to become chairman of the commission created by Mayor Curley to "boon Boston."

This public service and his printing and publishing business in Andover have kept the former speaker busy; but he has found time to keep in touch with political matters and to take some part in them. As one of his friends said yesterday he has been hiding his time and waiting for his opportunity.

Mr. Cole was always a thorn in the flesh of the men who are most influential in determining the policy of the republican party in this state; they never cared for him, and Mr. Cole and his friends know that these leaders prevented him from being the republican nominee for lieutenant governor.

The ex-speaker, according to his close friends, thinks it is time to make another fight against these dominant influences in the republican party, especially if they are to arrange another line of succession and make it plain that everybody who aspires to republican preferment in this state must live in the Back Bay, or in Brookline, Cambridge, Winchester, or some other similar suburb.

In other words, Mr. Cole and those who agree with him think that the "place curtail" Republicans, as they call the "high brow" up in Vermont, are preparing to run things again in this state. He does not propose to submit to this situation.

No one knows whether or not there will be a contest for the republican nomination for governor next year. Mr. McCall believes in moving with deliberation and does not see the necessity of making, on the very first day after one election, a public announcement of what he intends to do a year from that time; he is keeping his own counsel, and his attitude has the approval of most people.

But some of the friends of Grafton D. Cushing, who has just been elected lieutenant governor, have made the suggestion that, inasmuch as he ran ahead of Mr. McCall at the polls last Tuesday, Mr. Cushing ought to be the republican nominee for governor next fall. They have been hints that Mr. Cushing would be a candidate for nomination, whether or not Mr. McCall ran again. In view of this development, certain politicians have tried to make Mr. McCall tell what he would do in 1915.

There is no reason for believing that Mr. Cole is being forced out. Mr. McCall and substitute Mr. Cushing as the next republican candidate for governor have been sanctioned by the party, but the matter has been the subject of gossip and it has stirred up the friends of Mr. Cole. The situation is just this: If Mr. Cushing is a candidate for governor next year, Mr. Cole will also be a candidate.

TOKIO CELEBRATES FALL OF TSINGTAU

German Fortress Captured by Japanese and English After an Actual Siege of More Than Three Weeks—Petrograd Reports Turks Driven Back

TOKIO, Nov. 7.—Tokio is celebrating today the fall of the German fortress at Tsingtau after an actual siege of a few days more than three weeks. It was in the middle of September that the real attack began, although the preparations for the taking of the German stronghold in Asia were begun immediately after war was declared by Japan on Aug. 15. Crowds collected everywhere today and many processions were formed, the enthusiastic people dragging about with them floats decorated with flowers as a symbol of victory. Japanese and British flags are floating everywhere throughout the city. The final and successful attack on Tsingtau began shortly after midnight Friday morning and the first inroad by the allied forces which was largely instrumental in the fall of the place was the taking of the middle fort of the first line of defense. This was accomplished by a brilliant charge of infantry and engineers led by General Yamashita. Simultaneously with the charge of General Yamashita, others were made, the troops dashing forward with cries of "Danzei!" Chung-chow was captured soon thereafter with its two heavy cannon.

A detachment of the first line occupied the Utsu, Bismarck and Moltke forts at seven in the morning and then the enemy hoisted the white flag and hoisted on the coast forts at the mouth of the Haiipo at 7.30 o'clock.

TREASURE SHIP NOW IN BOSTON HARBOR

German Liner Cecelie Makes Trip From Bar Harbor, Me., in 12 Hours—600 Men Interned Aboard, of Whom 90 per cent Would Gladly go to Front

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Conveyed by torpedo boat destroyers the $450,000 North German Lloyd liner Kronprinzessin Cecelie, Capt. Charles Polack, arrived in Boston from Bar Harbor, Me., yesterday, after a 12-hour run. The passage was without incident, although the steamship at times was far beyond the three-mile limit.

Capt. Polack had plenty of speed in reserve but was forced to steam not faster than 16 miles an hour because one of the destroyers was short of firemen and therefore unable to log much better than her normal cruising gait.

There was little need of unusual precaution in transferring the liner to winter quarters here, it would appear, nations at war with Germany having signified their disinterest.

At no time during the trip was observation less than 10 miles, therefore the Kronprinzessin Cecelie might have dodged into safety had a hostile craft put in an appearance. Strict watch naturally was maintained and the liner's commander never left the navigating bridge till his ship had been anchored on a line between Long island and Deer island and less than four miles below the city wharves.

With provender barely turning, the liner left between the German steamships Ockenfels and Kohn, where a berth had been assigned the 706-foot vessel by Harbor Master Hild calculated to give a swinging radius of at least 2500 feet.

Safe Anchorage Chosen

This was accomplished by moving the German steamships Wilhelm and Kohn, also a number of coal barges that had anchored in the vicinity, for the four-funnelled 22,600-tonner needs a considerable area in which to range. Particular attention was given the nature of the bottom soundings being taken to prove that the harbor bed was not strewn with boulders that might puncture the hull in event of dragging in a gale. The anchorage selected shows more than 30 feet at low tide and the ship's draft is 25 feet, her keel being seven feet higher than when started for transatlantic service.

United States Marshal Murchie at once went aboard from the revenue tug Winthammet to confer with Capt. Polack relative to matters in connection with the liner still pending against the ship on account of her alleged failure to deliver millions in specie taken aboard at New York and brought back to this country when the commander abandoned his passage to Germany on July 25 and turned back. It was arranged that keepers alternate and small boats of the liner will serve as a ferry.

Capt. Polack was not quite sure last night that he is pleased to leave harbor and the kind people of the village, many of whom he counts as personal friends. He has a testimonial from townspeople urging him not to quit Bar Harbor. The three months' sojourn in the Mt. Desert harbor had proved enjoyable to both officers and crew and the anchorage there was satisfactory in that there was abundant room.

Happy Days at Bar Harbor

"I went fishing, lobstering and sailing at Bar Harbor and had lots of sport," explained the Cecelie's commander, alluding to the request that his ship be kept at Mt. Desert. "Only a day or two ago we caught 200 pounds of fish, found lobsters in our six traps, drank real milk and sailed to our hearts' content. These fish are being served in the officers' mess tonight, and they are sweet to the very bone. Bar Harbor may be great as a summer resort, but the fish they grow in Frenchman's bay are surprising fine."

"Yes, there are 600 men aboard the Kronprinzessin Cecelie and I am certain that 90 per cent would start for Germany tomorrow if there was any way to get there. I would like to go myself if the ship was all right. Anyhow, I have other duties at present and must make the most of circumstances as I find them. Visitors are welcomed at 15 cents apiece for the Red Cross."

"Last time I was in Boston was way back in 1884 in the German bark Prudentia which I commanded."

Intending Is Expensive

The Kronprinzessin Cecelie resplendent in royal silks and $2000 per trip rooms, requires about 20 tons of water a week and her boilers, at low pressure, consume many tons of fuel each 24 hours. The husky crew demands beef and the steward's department meets the requirement to the tune of about 40,000 pounds of meat each month. The grocery bill is enormous, too. Supplies while the liner was at Bar Harbor came mainly from New York. Boston merchants will have the contracts.

HELD A LADIES' NIGHT

APPEAR AT MATHEWS' HALL IS LARGELY ATTENDED—COMING EVENTS

The ladies' night, held under the auspices of the Mathews Temperance institute in the quarters of the institute in Central street, last evening, was a complete success in every particular. General dancing was started at 8 o'clock and continued until midnight to the pleasing strains of Carlin's novelty orchestra, the playing of which was a decided feature. Fully 300 young people turned out for the affair, which is a fitting testimonial to the popularity of the respective members of the society. It was announced at intermission that another night will be given over to the ladies on next Friday evening. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Frank J. Linnell, chairman; Walter T. Powers, William H. Carey, Edward T. Draper, Andrew J. Welsh and Edward A. Welsh.

The coming events of importance are the lectures to be given in the near future with Hon. John N. Cole of Boston, Frederick T. Fish of Boston, and Rev. D. A. O'Brien, a former member of the society as speakers. Carnival night, which the members say will be the most memorable in the history of the institute is scheduled for December 10. The 33rd anniversary of the organization will be held in January.

During the present year the society has made rapid strides. The treasury has swelled and new members are being admitted at every meeting. If plans map out right, the institute will hold a triumphant parade in the near future.

THE PARK COMMISSION

PARKS AND PLAYGROUNDS DISCUSSED BY PARK BOARD LAST NIGHT

The park commission met last night and discussed the subject of a playground committee, a very light subject, but of sufficient importance to keep the commissioners talking for an hour or so and after the smoke of battle had cleared away, Chairman McKay announced the permanent committees as follows: Committee on trees, Messrs. Mills, Carr and Wood; committee on parks, Messrs. Weed, McKay and Carr; committee on playgrounds, Messrs. McKay and Rountree.

The opinion of the city solicitor relative to the acceptance of a parkway in Raven road off Andover street, was read. The solicitor stated in his opinion that it would be permissible to accept it, but that its upkeep would devolve upon the park department.

E. W. Trull, who had petitioned for the parkway, held telephonic communication with Chairman McKay. Mr. Trull said he would be willing to supply the materials for constructing the parkway.

It was decided to look over the parkway before taking any action.

Mr. Carr suggested that the electric lights at Shoult park be put in shape in anticipation of the forming of a league for skating. He suggested if it would be possible to transfer the lights from Fort Hill park, now that there is little use for lights there. It was said that the Fort Hill park lights come under the supervision of the street department. The matter was left in the hands of the superintendent.

Mr. Rountree wanted to know if the new playground in the South Common had been turned over to the park department. He was informed that it had not. Chairman McKay felt as did Mr. Rountree, while Mr. Weed said that inasmuch as the park department has nothing whatever to do with the assigning of its use, he could see no reason why the park department should pay for its maintenance. He moved and it was voted to refer the matter to the mayor and commissioner of public property.

At the suggestion of Mr. Weed it was voted to have the superintendent prepare a map of all of the park spaces jurisdiction of the park department, parliament.

ARREST DOCTOR COTTON LOAN BUTLER CLUB DANCE

Charged With Alleged Murder of Mildred Sullivan

Sec'y McAdoo Rushes His Plans to Complete the $100,000,000

HOULTON, Me., Nov. 7.—Dr. Lionel Dudley of Presque Isle was arrested at a local hotel today, charged with the alleged murder of Mildred Sullivan, the young Houlton girl who has been missing since Sept. 4.

Dr. Dudley, together with Miss Kate O. Michael of Wallingford, a nurse, have been awaiting action by the grand jury the latter part of this month on the charge of performing an illegal operation upon Miss Sullivan, who was last seen alive at Presque Isle, where she went ostensibly to attend the county fair. Miss Alice Pelletier of Presque Isle was held as an alleged accessory after the fact. They were arrested in Boston late in September at the request of the Houlton county authorities and brought here.

SEC. DONAHUE AT OFFICE

His First Visit to the State House Since the Automobile Accident at Adams

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Secretary of State Frank J. Donahue was at his office at the state house yesterday afternoon for the first time since the automobile accident at Adams, Oct. 26, when he and other congressional candidates were badly injured. He said that he was feeling very well and his spirits and manner clearly bore out this statement. Not until the middle of next week will he return to his desk regularly, however.

Mr. Donahue left St. Elizabeth's hospital Wednesday after the removal of the stitches from the laceration in his chin. He carries his left arm in a sling and will be obliged to do so for some time. The arm gives him considerable pain, but notwithstanding this fact he is very cheerful. He discusses his defeat at Tuesday's election with a broad smile.

BLIND CHILDREN MINISTERS

Pupils of Perkins Institution in Watertown Present Entertainment Got Up at Week's Notice

WATERTOWN, Nov. 7.—Pupils of the Perkins Institution for the Blind gave a minstrel show last evening in the large assembly hall of the institute, more than 200 persons attending. It was rather informal, having been gotten up at only a week's notice.

Jacob Wallockstein was intercomedian and Charles Gibson, Adrian Salasas, Peter J. Slamin and Edwin C. Smith were endmen. The chorus included Herbert Imenlin, Olin Robertson, Axel Dow, S. J. Macer, S. J. Spencer, Emil Shoenner, Samuel Hayden, Charles L. De, Harold Brooks and Malcolm Cobb. Frank Mack and Herbert Imenlin sang a duet and there was a whistling solo by Axel Dow. The orchestra was composed of members of the institution.

FEATURES FOR MONDAY

Women's Page Will Have Fashion Cuts and News of the Styles, etc.—Lady Lookabout Has Bright Observations

The women's page of The Sun will appear in all editions on Monday. This is a feature which has been arranged so as to appeal to the women and every picture and every bit of reading matter is carefully selected. The result is an excellent fashion feature with many home suggestions, etc. Home dressmakers of this city are especially interested in this weekly feature of The Sun and are using the fashion cuts as guides in making garments. Local merchants have special advertisements on this page in which the ladies will find many pleasing offerings. The advertisements should be read as well as the news.

Lady Lookabout has an interesting article dealing with the suffrage movement and speaks of the results of the recent elections in this connection. She also tells in an interesting way the adventures of a young woman motorist who had a tire "blow out," and who had a most trying experience. Everyone should read "Lady Lookabout" Monday.

Some very good kitchen hints, together with some valuable receipts are contributed by "The Cook" in "What the Cook Says," which will be found in Monday's Sun. Among the receipts is one for whole wheat bread. Cook gives other excellent suggestions. A girl may make her own egg shampoo if she will but follow the directions which will be found Monday in "What Horstense Told Me." Detailed information regarding this hair treatment is given. Horstense also gives to the girls other beauty hints, including a discussion of manicuring, skin treatment, etc.

"How to Sleep," describing the proper position for sleeping, time, etc., is discussed in "The Rabbit's Foot." "The French Maid" will describe for the readers the luxurious boudoir, telling how the bedrooms may be fitted up for the winter.

FUNERALS

WOGANDER—The funeral services of John E. Wogander were held at his home, 502 Gannett street, yesterday afternoon. Rev. E. J. Strohman, pastor of the Swedish M. E. church, conducted the services and appropriate selections were sung by Olaf Bernstrom. The flowers were many and beautiful and included: Piffow, inscribed "Husband and Father" from the family and other offerings from Mrs. Wogander, Mrs. Julia Nelson, Mrs. Gustaf Nelson, Mrs. Hanna Hamblitt and family, Eugene V. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Abrahamson and family. The bearers were Emil Pearson, Carl Abrahamson, Julius Nelson, Mrs. Anna Hamblitt and family, Eugene V. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Abrahamson and family. The funeral was in the family lot in Westlawn cemetery, where the committal services were read by Rev. Strohman. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker Wm. H. Saunders.

HARVARD FAVORITE IN GAME WITH PRINCETON

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 7.—Champion-ship football reached here today in the contest between Harvard and Princeton in the stadium. Two years ago Harvard won from Princeton for the first time in 23 years. Last year, Harvard won again when Brickley kicked a field goal for the only score of the game. The Princeton players today were bent on avenging these defeats and adding another to their long series of victories since the first meeting of the two colleges in 1877.

Harvard was a slight favorite in the betting but a large body of Princeton backers arrived today and the odds dwindled to nearly even money.

Both teams spent last night several miles away from today's scene of action. The Harvard players rested at the Country club in Brookline and the Princeton men at Auburndale.

Most of the players were reported in excellent shape. There was some doubt as to Pennock and Mahan of Harvard but it was expected that they would enter the game, possibly giving way to substitutes. Two or three of the Princeton players were said to be slightly below par and it was believed that while Shea and Hightley probably would start at the ends, they might go out in favor of Brown and Lamberton. The weather was ideal. There was little wind and a typical Indian summer sky. The turf was dry and springs. The probable lineup:

Princeton	Harvard

English Cruiser Good Hope Sunk With Admiral Cradock and 900 Men

Rear Admiral CRADOCK... ENGLISH CRUISER, GOOD HOPE

LONDON, Nov. 7.—It is officially announced by the Admiralty that the British cruiser Good Hope took fire during the engagement with the Germans off the coast of Chile last Sunday and foundered. The cruiser was in command of Rear-Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock and carried a crew of 900 men. It is believed that all went to their death.

The Admiralty statement says that it is believed the British cruiser Monmouth, which the Germans reported had been sunk, was run ashore.

The battleship Conspicuous, it adds, was not present at the time of the fight.

The statement says:

"The Admiralty now has received trustworthy information about the action on the Chilean coast.

"During Sunday, Nov. 1, the Good Hope, Monmouth and Glasgow came up with the Scharnhorst, Gneisenau, Leipzig and Dresden. Both squadrons were steaming south in a strong wind and a considerable sea.

"The German squadron declined action until sunset, when the light gave it an important advantage. The action lasted an hour.

"Early in the action both the Good Hope and Monmouth took fire, but fought until nearly dark, when a serious explosion occurred on the Good Hope and she foundered.

"The Monmouth hoisted off at dark, making water badly, and appeared unable to steam away. She was accompanied by the Glasgow, which had meanwhile during the whole action fought the Leipzig and Dresden.

"On the enemy again approaching the wounded Monmouth, the Glasgow, which also was under fire from one of the armored cruisers, drew off.

"The enemy then attacked the Monmouth again, but with what result is not known. The Glasgow is not extensively damaged and has very few casualties.

"Neither the Otranto nor the Canopus was engaged.

"Reports received by the foreign office from Valparaiso state that a delirious warship is ashore on the Chilean coast, and it is possible that this may prove to be the Monmouth. Energetic measures are being taken on this assumption to rescue the survivors.

"The action appears to the Admiralty to have been most gallantly contested, but in the absence of the Canopus the enemy's preponderance in force was considerable."

TOKIO SAYS IT WAS NOT WITHOUT DESPERATE RESISTANCE THAT GERMANS VASTLY OUTNUMBERED GAVE UP FIGHT

Pending decisive developments on any of the European fields of battle, the fall of Tsing Tau held first place in the attention of military men today. Official reports from Tokio show that it was not without desperate resistance that the German garrison, vastly outnumbered by British and Japanese, gave up the fight. For days the German forces had been subjected to a withering fire from land and sea. At last the central fort fell before the impetuous attack of the Japanese whose bravery, says Tokio, rivaled that displayed in the historic charges on Port Arthur.

"Suddenly," says the official report from Tokio, "the flag of surrender ran up in the morning breeze on the weather bureau mount towering above the sea and land."

Tokio today is celebrating with an outburst of popular enthusiasm, the fall of Tsing Tau, which occurred after a siege of about three weeks. The vice minister of the navy states that Japan will hold Tsing Tau until the war is over, when she will "open negotiations" with China.

With the fighting at Tsing Tau at an end the question is raised as to what Japan will do next. It is suggested that she will not inaugurate an offensive naval campaign on the Pacific, employing the fleet released from the bombardment of Tsing Tau in an attempt to run down the German warships which wrought such havoc to British shipping and defeated the British fleet off Chile.

Notwithstanding Russian claims to an overwhelming success in the east, there is nothing to show that the German and Austrian forces have met great disaster, and although they were compelled to retreat they apparently were able to fall back upon strongly fortified positions selected in advance.

The probability that they are safe in these positions, for the present at least, leads London to suggest that German troops will be withdrawn and rushed to the west to bolster up the battered forces there for a supreme effort to pierce the allied line to the north of Ypres. For the last two days heavy cannonading has been under way and this is believed to be preliminary to the main German attack.

line through France there are no decisive changes.

Although today's official French statement asserts that the Germans have been driven back at various points, the situation in the main apparently is practically the same as has been the case for several weeks, so far as the general line of battle is concerned.

LONDON LONE SOCIALIST

MEYER LONDON

Meyer London has awakened to fame. Almost overnight he finds himself pushed into the spot light of publicity. And it is very likely that he will remain there for the next two years. Who is Meyer London, you ask. He is the one lone socialist congressman who will sit in the next congress. He was elected from the twelfth district of New York, defeating a democratic congressman there after a hot fight at the recent election. London now has a chance to make himself a national laughing stock or emblazon a name that will help his party and make himself respected and honored.

Y. M. C. A. SPORTS

The results of the senior weekly gym-athletic competition at the Y. M. C. A. last evening were as follows: Puck, P. H. Knight, first, 70 points; J. Paquet, second, 65 points. A. Trudeau, third, 67 points; J. Couillard, fourth, 67 points. Standing broad jump: G. Waterman, first, 11.45; second, A. Trudeau, 11.30; third, P. H. Knight, 11.15; fourth, 11.00. Two lap run: P. H. Knight, first, 1:15; second, A. Trudeau, 1:18; third, H. Hart, 1:20; fourth, 1:25. Twenty-seven men competed last evening which shows that the series of events that will be held until the middle of December, will be well worth seeing. On Friday evening, Nov. 13, the events will be: 5 lap run, 12 pound shot put, high horizontal bar. The officials for last night's meet were: Judges of athletic events, H. Felch and P. Magee; judge of gymnastics and time, M. P. Pury.

THE SPELLBINDER

As one looks over the list of the candidates who have taken out nomination papers for municipal offices, he is forcibly reminded of Pope's celebrated couplet:

"Hope springs eternal in the human breast;
Man never is, but always to be blest."

Some of them apparently, cannot see the handwriting on the ballot and with their forces "undiminished by death and unrecruited by birth or conversion" annually help to swell the list of "also rans." This year's campaign will have one novel feature, the attempt of a candidate to "come back" as in the case of Andrew E. Barrett, who after one term was defeated and now aspires to the second term which that denied him a year ago. Another interesting feature will be the attempt of a candidate who has shown the required strength in the school board field to transfer that strength to the aldermanic pasture, as in the case of Abel H. Campbell. And there will be some new ones. The story is being told about one candidate who, as soon as it became known that he was to run for political office, was promptly "discharged" by the corporation by which he had been employed for years. The corporation might have waited until after the primaries, but corporations have no feelings, except when their tax-bills are high and they go before the assessors and weepfully apply for an abatement.

Up to this writing there has been no great demand for nomination papers on the part of school board candidates, though there will be a sufficient number of candidates to fill the required six nominations. Mrs. Marion Sproule, who is possessed of strong socialist tendencies, politically, has again taken out papers. Last year Mrs. Sproule received 274 votes in the primaries while the successful candidate received over 400. Her best ward was ward 3 where she received 405 votes while her lowest was received in ward 5, where she polled 155. As an elster-suffragette one might expect that Mrs. Sproule will have two staunch supporters in "As She Sees It" and "Lady Lookabout," though both may pass her up on account of her socialist views.

It may be of interest to publish the vote received in last year's primaries by the candidates who are trying again this year. Their vote was as follows:

Aubrey, 244; Barrett, 3156; Clapp, 1929; Duncan, 2342; Gallagher, 945; Mistella, 1332.

Brennan a Good Loser

Representative John W. Brennan lost no time in showing that he was a good loser, for when the result became known he did not wait to send a letter of congratulation to his successful opponent, but sought him out and congratulated him personally. Though defeated, Representative Brennan feels gratified at the handsome vote given him and desires to thank the voters of ward 1 and District for their support. Representative Brennan will be heard from later when conditions will be more propitious.

Accidents Will Happen

Just like those who kick against the charter, when it's the men elected to office that are at fault, some are now kicking against the idea of a traffic squad because a woman was knocked down by a wagon the second day that the new squad was at work. Accidents will happen even with the best regulated of traffic squads on the job.

The Mayor Was Right

At the dedication of the Harrisonia hotel, a few evenings ago, Toastmaster J. H. Murphy gave Mayor Walsh a very flattering introduction and his Honor immediately stated that he knew that the toastmaster's remarks would not appear in "The Spellbinder" column. His Honor was perfectly right, for it would be as poor taste to report a hotel dedication in the political column, as it was to talk politics at a hotel dedication.

Clerk of Police Court

Papers are out asking Gov. Walsh to reappoint James F. Savage, clerk of the Lowell police court, as his term expires with the year. Report has it that there is a democratic candidate in the field for the position which Mr. Savage has held for a number of years.

One on the Bank Men

The commissioner of finance in speaking at the Hamilton mills a few days ago appropriated the "credit" due the city council as a whole, to himself, when he said: "When the war broke out on a short time ago I financed the city so that you men could be kept at work."

The commissioner evidently referred to the attempt of the municipal council to use the perpetual care funds by withdrawing $50,000 from the local banks at one time, a proceeding, which had become public at the time would have caused the greatest and most disastrous run on the banks of Lowell that the city has ever known, and from which might have been completely recovered. After the experience that Lowell has passed through with the Traders bank, imagine what would have happened had it become known that the city itself was withdrawing all its trust funds at one time, from practically every savings bank in Lowell.

Principal Perkins Becomes a Voter

About the same time that Dr. John H. Lambert, the school-committeeman whose long suit is experience as a politician for school principals, visited the city clerk's office to take out nomination papers for a second term, Mr. Paul Perkins, the recently-elected principal of the Green school, visited the office of the registrars of voters and became a registered voter of the city of Lowell, and will cast his first vote at the coming city primaries, when undoubtedly he will vote for Dr. Lambert. In the old days it was customary to become a voter first and then go after a city job, but that qualification doesn't go any longer. When Chris. J. Hagan was a candidate for the permanent principalship of the Edison school, having served one year as a temporary principal, Dr. Lambert refused to vote for him, and desired a candidate with experience for such an important position. There was no hesitation, however, over the election of Mr. Perkins, whose occupation outside of his college days as a student, was that of a motorman on the street cars during vacation, which showed that he probably has the right kind of stuff in him. If not, overburdened with experience as an educator, Dr. Lambert will probably seek a reelection on the ground that he has had experience as a member of the school board for one term, even as did Mr. Hagan seek his permanent appointment after one term of successful experience. The new principal of the Green school is 23 years of age.

Who Said "Sore-Head?"

Enter the headline, "The Faithful Folk," the Courier-Citizen laments editorially, as follows:

Lowell democrats obediently went and voted for Walsh, despite his studied disregard of them. Apparently the way to make Lowell democrats love you is to club them unmercifully hard. For a city that had done so much for Mr. Walsh and had given him such handsome support a year ago, Lowell got about as unkind a result all through the year as it was possible to get. But it turned up again at the scratch and dutifully increased the testimony of its love and affection for the governor by adding a few hundred to the plurality given before. Perhaps this year the governor will do more for these devoted adherents whom no frost can repel.

Yes, ungrammatically but emphatically, they went and done it; with studied disregard of the Courier-Citizen's tremendous efforts to set their right. Apparently the way to make Lowell democrats love their candidate is to have the Courier-Citizen club him unmercifully hard. For a paper that has done so much for Lowell democrats, the Courier-Citizen got about as unkind a result as it was possible to get. After whacking him consistently last year, it turned up again at the scratch and dutifully increased the testimony of its love and affection for the governor by adding a few more whacks, while the democracy showed its appreciation by adding a few more hundred to his plurality.

"The prophets shall become wind, and the word is not in them."

The Financial Report

Section 36 of the city charter says that there "shall" be printed "monthly" a report of the receipts and expenditures of the government showing the city's financial condition. This hasn't been done though, whether it's because the municipal council didn't want to give too much publicity to the financial condition, or in its effort to live up to its name as an economical administration, it violated the charter to save a printing bill, is a question.

Candidate Dunn in Town

As soon as he had rested up after election night, Henry P. Dunn came to Lowell yesterday and spent the afternoon going among his friends in wards five and nine to thank them personally for their support. Mr. Dunn is the most cheerful loser that the writer has run up against in a long time. Speaking of the election, Mr. Dunn said: "The municipal council didn't want to give too much publicity to the financial condition, or in its effort to live up to its name as an economical administration, it violated the charter to save a printing bill, is a question."

Time for Christmas

It's about time that the city automobile, owned by Mr. Gardner, of the water department was formally christened for it is several months old and as yet has not been lettered with the name of the city and the department to which it belongs, as is required by ordinance. Everybody knows of course that the delay in christening with the ordinance is not due to any desire on the part of Mr. Gardner to have a few joy rides, for he's not that kind of a city official.

Inefficient Precinct Officers

The delays in counting the ballots in some of the precincts on state election night have caused much comment and the story is now around that some of the precinct officers couldn't count toothpicks, not to speak of ballots. In some cases one or two men, it is said, had to do all the work by reason of the fact that the others weren't qualified to do it.

THE SPELLBINDER.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

OPERA HOUSE

Miss Edith Storey, the Vitaphone motion picture star, who is portraying Viola Allen's part of Glory Quayle in "The Christian," the famous story by Hall Caine, the picture version of which will be presented at the Lowell Opera House for one week beginning Monday, Nov. 9, has much to say relative to the values of acting in the drama and in pictures. Miss Storey is well qualified to speak since she has been called "The Bernhardt of the Screen" and prior to her entrance into pictures she was an actress on the stage.

According to Miss Storey, playing such a part as Glory Quayle in "The Christian" in pictures is infinitely harder than doing the same thing in the drama. Miss Storey's contention is that the photo-play actress is deprived of her power of speech, and anyone who stops for a moment to consider, will realize that it is difficult they would have if they were asked to convey all of their meanings without using a word.

In the photo-play Miss Storey is seen at her best, even though she has a splendid elocutionary delivery. But on the screen where this ability is useless, she shows every motion and facial expression and gesture, by which she has reduced to such a science that it is possible for her to carry on a conversation with another convey all of her meanings, and not make a sound.

She has taught herself all of the rudiments of theatrical acting under David Belasco and others and then to become a screen actress she has deliberately thrown away her elocutionary powers and studied mute expression from a purely scientific standpoint.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The Primrose Four, positively the world's most striking heavyweight quartet, will be the feature act on the bill at the B. F. Keith theatre, next week. Four male singers, whose aggregate weight is 1000 will warble out all of the very latest songs, and some of the old melodies. "One thousand pounds of harmony" is guaranteed to fill the theatre with a whole new unusual quartet, and while the harmony may not bear very heavy on the scales it is a surety that the four singers will put the indicator several figures over the 1000-pound mark.

Conley and Webb will come to town with their rapid-fire melange of singing, comedy, stunning stage effects, music and beautiful ballet. Mr. Conley is the pianist of the duo, and Miss Webb is the singer. Time was when these two were content to do a so-called "straight" act in vaudeville. Then there was no demand for versatility. But now, by the exigencies created by entertainment lovers, particularly lovers of vaudeville, they are forced to purvey several quite distinctive lines of entertainment. It has a wholly novel finish to it, and the duo is a real novelty. Conley and Webb are two of the most versatile players appearing in vaudeville, and they are bound to prove real pleasers.

Jack Kennedy & Co. will produce the downright fascinating playlet called "The Flareback." It is built upon a wholly unusual theme, and it will cause no end of talk. There are inclusive lines in it, and some most remarkable situations. Mr. Kennedy is well known as an actor, and his supporting company is all that could be desired. Special scenery will add much to the effectiveness of this act.

Date and Doyle hold out one of the surprises of the bill. They are singers and dancers, with plenty of up-to-the-minute stuff, but their surprise comes at the end of their act. About everybody will sit up and take notice of them.

With Sweetman is the man who plays two clarinets at the same time, and who also delivers over a lot of funny stuff. He is an entertainer who is eagerly sought by the police for his work. No one knows yet how to suit the tastes of an audience than he.

The Seebachs offer a combination of masculine agility and strength, feminine beauty and sweetness, gymnastics and singing. Harry Seebach is a champion big puncher. He has a rare assortment of models which have been awarded him for his skill. The exhibition of bag punching he presents is thrilling and amazing. The act is most highly praised by the public. Harriet Seebach who sings and who assists her partner in his gymnastic work.

Tulla Gonzales is new to this section of the country. In fact, she hasn't long been out of her native Havana. She is booked as the "Cuban Physical Culture Girl" and is said to have an act which is most attractive. In addition to these acts the Merrimack Square Pictorial will show a lot of new views taken in Europe as well as in this country.

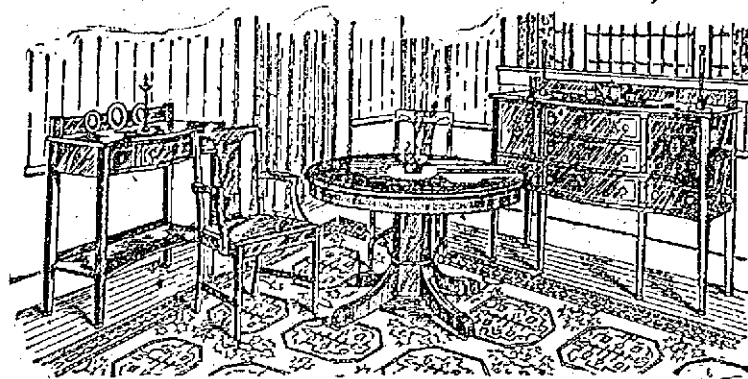

It is well to secure tickets in advance if possible, as oftentimes the most desirable ones have been taken when you arrive at the theatre. Phone 25.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

It is a well known fact that when George M. Cohan decided to retire from the stage, he set about writing a play in which he should say good-by to the public. This play was "Broadway Jones" and it was a natural result that Mr. Cohan should throw his entire self into making this the crowning effort of his career. Events proved it to be the best he had done in play writing as well as in his historic achievement of making "Broadway Jones" the most entertaining comedy he had ever written. It will be produced the coming week by the stock company at the Merrimack Square theatre, and as will be seen next week, Mr. Cohan even from the very beginning had in mind this wonderful plays production for stock.

There is a character in "Broadway Jones" that is of vast interest to those familiar with its origin. This is the character of the wealthy widow, who has many persons familiar with Manhattan life know that this widow exists in real life, and is a most spectacular figure in the city of New York. The story told is decidedly Comedienne. It is one of those simple, straight away stories that increase the interest of the audience and the crowd. It is a comedy of the sort that keeps an audience in good humor. Jackson Jones is a native of Connecticut and a young millionaire. He goes to New York City to spend his money and get the fastest pace New York ever knew. He succeeds in getting separated from his money with amazing rapidity, and eventually becomes known as "Broadway Jones." Finally his money is gone, and he begins to look around for some way of existence. Almost before he knows it he finds himself engaged to a wealthy widow well along in years. She has a million dollars and wants a husband, and Jones is about to supply the want when his friend Robert Wallace, steps in and saves him. Then the unexpected happens. Word comes that a millionaire in Connecticut has died and made Jones his sole heir. Away goes Jones to Connecticut to look over the property. Arriving on the scene, he encounters a most unexpected person in a young girl Josie Richards, who for a

FOOTBALL GAMES PIN BOYS BUSY

Many Important Grid-iron Struggles in the East Today

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Taking first rank as an important football game in the east today, the contest at Cambridge between Harvard and Princeton brings together teams of equal quality so far as experts are able to determine from an analysis of their previous games this season. Neither team has been defeated this fall, although each has been held to a tie. Since 1877 when Harvard and Princeton began playing intercollegiate football, the Tigers have won 12 games to Harvard's five, the Crimson having won the last two contests.

At New Haven Yale faces Brown today with every indication of a victory. Brown has not had a very successful season so far, having been defeated by Cornell and tied by Amherst. Reports from Providence, however, are to the effect that Brown's hard week of practice has served to strengthen the team and develop plays which are expected to furnish interesting problems for Yale to solve. The game in its second invasion of the east today meets the odds at West Point and if the westerners have profited by their defeat by Yale the West Point team will have to play much better football than it has shown in previous games this season in state of defeat.

Of the other important games in the east, the Pittsburgh and Washington and Jefferson contest should furnish one of the best played games of the entire season. Each team has made a strong showing, Pittsburgh having defeated Cornell, Carlisle, Navy and Georgetown, while Washington and Jefferson has a defeat over Yale to its credit. Cornell plays the Franklin and Marshall college teams which defeated the University of Pennsylvania. Syracuse meets Rutgers and Dartmouth the strong Tufts team.

Principal games in the east today follow:

Harvard vs. Princeton at Cambridge. Yale vs. Brown at New Haven. Dartmouth vs. Tufts at Hanover. Cornell vs. Franklin and Marshall at Ithaca. Army vs. Notre Dame at West Point. Navy vs. Fordham at Annapolis. Syracuse vs. Rutgers at Syracuse. Union vs. New York University at Schenectady. Lehigh vs. Pennsylvania State at South Bethlehem. Holy Cross vs. Carlisle at Manchester. N. H. Lowell High vs. Waltham High at Waltham.

JIMMY CLABBY WON

GAVE GEORGE CHIP A SOUND THRASHING AT SAN FRANCISCO LAST NIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—Jimmy Clabby of Hammond, Ind., gave George Chip of Newcastle, Pa., a sound thrashing last night and won the decision at the end of 20 rounds of hard fighting. Clabby fought cautiously, but never failed to take the aggressive when the opportunity offered.

CUTLER WON BELGIUM MATCH. CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 7.—Albert Cutler defeated Calvin Belmont 140 to 308 in the billiard players' league match here last night.

WHAT THE FRENCH MAID SAID

MARIE ON COMPLEXIONS

"Look at my face, Marie, whatever is the matter, my complexion looks as muddy as can be and, yes, there is a wrinkle, right there, near my eye," Marjorie began to sob as she dropped, full length, on to the couch in her aunt's sitting room.

"A girl your age should certainly take great care of her complexion," said Marie, "but don't despair. Let's find out what has done the damage and then repair it."

"You generally are a pretty healthy specimen, thanks to the many outdoor games and sports in which you have indulged. Your figure, then, is at least that of firm, strong, healthy rather than that of artificial rosy which once was considered entirely beautiful."

"You walk well shod, dress your neck becomingly, and are always daintily groomed. Your hair you know full well how to manage; one item of your store of good looks which might be said to be the most important one, since without it you would be much put to it to appear well should be a good complexion."

"You should start upon the season's gayer with smooth forehead, pink cheeks, a snowy chin and nose; and if you take just some little thought and care you will not lose any of this beauty, and the different festivities occur and are succeeded by others."

"Late hours, refreshments at all hours, a great amount of nervous excitement all day long and some fine day our young lady awakes with a horrid start to the knowledge that her good complexion has vanished, goodness only knows where and she is left with a skin dotted with blackheads, punctured here and there with small pimples, a generally sallow or pale appearance, lines around and under the eyes.

"Last sleep—this is the traitor which so often depresses vitality, and the next thing a cold is caught with all its accompanying discomforts. "Last sleep adds no color to the lips nor brightens the eyes—and hearing this in mind, the wise girl will take pains to catch up, as the saying goes, or to make up arrears after a night or two when the sleeping hours were few. She had indeed better spend a whole day in bed once a week if lost sleep can be made up in no other way. Such a twenty-four hours of rest will work wonders as a beautifying agent."

"Then irregular eating or the partaking of sweets and rich—these sometimes mean a cancerous mouth, which in itself painful and inconvenient."

"Some girls instinctively seem to know how to take care of their complexions, others do not. Some, indeed, are reckless and do not care, depending it too much trouble to be hampered by the thought of cleanliness. Nevertheless the girl who wishes to retain all of that charm of youth which is in no other way better expressed than in a good complexion will not disdain to observe that little rule of prevention which is worth so much more than the early pound of cure."

SEIGEL MAY ESCAPE

COUNSEL PLAN TO FIGHT FOR TRIAL UNDER NEW MISDEMEANOR STATUTE

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Indicted on 11 separate charges of grand larceny, Henry Siegel, whose failure for millions left many East Side depositors in his private bank destitute, may possibly be tried only on a misdemeanor charge. Five hundred dollars fine, with no jail penalty, is the minimum penalty in a misdemeanor case. The maximum penalty is a year's imprisonment in the penitentiary or a $500 fine, or both. By good behavior this year's term could be cut to 10 months.

Asst.-Dist. Atty. William Dean Embree and Arthur Train, who will have charge of prosecuting the one-time "diamond prince," admitted yesterday they have every reason to believe the bitter legal battle has been laid out by Siegel's attorneys to have their millionaire client tried for a misdemeanor instead of grand larceny.

It is understood that John B. Stinchfield, who will defend Siegel, will invoke a comparatively new law, which allows a defendant to make a statement of financial condition, which makes the purpose of fraudulently obtaining money merely a misdemeanor. The district attorney claims to have in his possession some of the Siegel booklets in which there are discrepancies of $1,000,000 or more. The prosecution also has witnesses who will swear that Siegel accepted deposits of from $1 to $100 from the struggling men and women of the East Side, who made up the bulk of his depositors, after he lured them to be insolvent. Included in the evidence is a letter in which Siegel admitted to having taken $110,000 from his bank and deposited in another institution to his private account.

Siegel will go to trial on Monday in Queens County, on a charge of receiving stolen goods. The work of rounding up witnesses for the state began yesterday.

E. T. MOSES SENTENCED

VICE PRESIDENT OF OXYPATHIC CO. GIVEN 15 MONTHS BY JUDGE MARTIN

RUTLAND, Vt., Nov. 7.—E. T. Moses, vice president of the Oxyphatic Co., was sentenced to 15 months in the Rutland penitentiary by Judge Martin in federal court here today. Moses, who is a resident of Rutland, N. Y., was convicted yesterday of fraudulent use of the mails, the government charging that he circulated pamphlets making false claims for an apparatus manufactured by the Oxyphatic company.

"UNCLE JOE" SEES PAPER. DANVILLE, Ill., Nov. 7.—Congressman-elect Joseph G. Cannon yesterday bought a copy of the Danville Press-Democrat for $25,000 damages. The principle does not give the cause of action. A political article is believed to have given offense to Mr. Cannon.

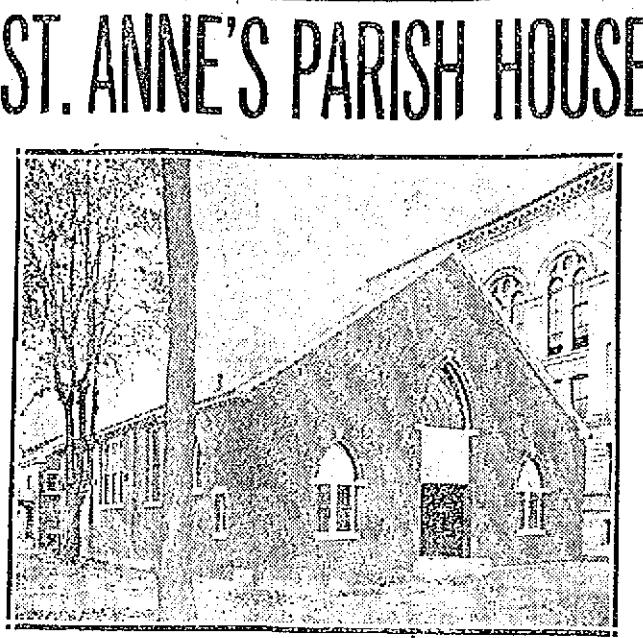

PROTEST IN COURT

Capt. John A. Fish Interrupts Questioning of Witness at Trial on Charge of Bunking Yeacht

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Capt. John A. Fish, insurance broker, yachtman and former British soldier, made an open protest yesterday in the United States district court against the course taken by the prosecuting attorney in Captain Fish's case. The latter is on trial before Judge Morton and a jury on an indictment accusing him of burning his schooner yacht Santa II to defraud insurance underwriters of $15,000 insurance which he had placed on the boat.

Ex-District Attorney French, who is trying the case for the government, was cross-examining Catherine Barnes, a cousin of the defendant, who was on the yacht at the time of the fire, in regard to deeds of certain property in Connecticut, which latter is being tried before Judge Morton and a jury on an indictment accusing him of burning his schooner yacht Santa II to defraud insurance underwriters of $15,000 insurance which he had placed on the boat.

His counsel, ex-Asst. Dist. Atty. Lawrence, apologized to the court for his client and made the latter sit down.

THE NEW PARISH HOUSE OF ST. ANNE'S CHURCH ON KIRK ST.

Formal Opening of New Building to be Held on Monday Evening With Rt. Rev. Bishop Lawrence in Attendance—Cost $20,000

The formal opening of the new parish house adjoining St. Anne's church in Kirk and Ann streets, will take place Monday evening and the guest of honor at the exercises will be Rt. Rev. Bishop Lawrence, D. D., of Boston. The affair will be in the form of an informal reception for all members of the parish and will be presided over by the pastor, Rev. Appleton Grannis, who will deliver an address of welcome, while the speaker of the evening will be Bishop Lawrence. The finishing touches in the building were put on today and it is safe to say that the edifice is one of the best of its kind in this city. The new structure was connected with the old Theodore Edison orphanage. It is a one-story and a half brick building containing a large assembly hall with a seating capacity of about 600 including the gallery. The main entrance of the new building is on Kirk street and on each side of the vestibule are located two large toilet and check rooms. The assembly hall is also equipped with a large stage with an ante-room on each side and doors leading to the Theodore Edison orphanage, which will serve as a cloakroom. The walls of the assembly hall are of polished wood and are finished with red and light brick and the woodwork is in the natural color. The building has a pitched roof and is well ventilated and lighted. A large steam boiler has been installed in the basement for the heating of both buildings, which now are really but one.

DAVID LAMAR ARRESTED EX-MAYOR MARSH DEAD

"WOLF OF WALL STREET" MUST STAND TRIAL NOW ON IMPERSONATION CHARGE

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—David Lamar, the "Wolf of Wall street," who has been fighting removal to this city from the District of Columbia since his indictment in 1913 on a charge of impersonating a government officer with intent to defraud, was arrested in the corridor of an up-town hotel here last night by two agents of the department of justice. He was taken before William N. O'Leary, chief agent in New York of the department of justice, who permitted him to consult with counsel, and then ordered him locked up for the night.

The arrest was a surprise both to Lamar and to his captors. The latest reports to the department of justice agents here had indicated he was still in Washington and was likely to remain there until the supreme court in the district had passed upon his appeal.

Last night the agents were walking along the corridor just as Lamar went quickly through it. Glancing at him as he passed, the detectives recognized him as the much-wanted man and immediately seized him. Lamar told them he was making a secret flying trip to this city and expected to dodge the federal authorities.

Now that he is in this jurisdiction Lamar undoubtedly will have to plead to the indictment which charges him with violating section 32 of the United States criminal code by impersonating Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania in order to defraud Lewis Cass Leidy, J. P. Morgan & Co. and the United States Steel corporation.

When he appeared before the senate lobby investigating committee, Lamar admitted that he had impersonated Congressman Palmer and also Congressman Borden of New York. He was arrested in September, 1913, on this charge and on a supplementary one that in telephonic conversation he had the authority of Speaker Clark and Senator Stone of Missouri.

Removal proceedings resulted in his being ordered to New York for trial and he gave a bond to come to this city to answer the indictment. Later, however, he raised the contention that neither a senator nor a congressman was a government officer. The contention caused more delay. Since that time Lamar has continued his fight.

OPENS NEW STORE. A new and up-to-date fruit, confectionery and cigar store with an attractive ice cream and soda parlor, was opened today by J. Danas, at 32 Gorham street, corner of Appleton street, at the stand formerly occupied by Moore's drug store. Mr. Danas is a well known local business man, having been the proprietor of a shoe shine parlor. The new store has been fittingly decorated and both the show windows and the interior displays form a most attractive arrangement.

Mr. Danas will give a box of chocolates free to each customer today. He has a special line of home made candles, made at the store.

THAT DEFECTIVE CHILDREN BECOME NORMAL AFTER VISITS TO THE DENTIST IS TRUE.

The men who study juvenile delinquency and the causes of crime in general, have recently discovered that bad boys become good as soon as the holes in their teeth are filled. Truant officers and principals of schools assert that defective children become normal after a few visits to the dentist.

These latter statements have been received with incredulity by at least a part of the public and with scoffing from a few editors who ought to know better. But no one who has read the medical journals in the last few months and has seen what the greatest doctors in the world say about the influence of bad teeth upon health, intelligence and morality will scoff or even doubt.

The matter is so simple that any child can understand it. A hole in the tooth is due to decay. The animal matter of which the tooth is composed is decaying. The decaying mass is fertile soil for the breeding of disease germs which with their full grown strength enter the system, attacking it at its weakest point and break down the health. Again persons with bad teeth cannot chew their food properly and it is not therefore properly digested. Malnutrition results. The blood is poisoned by disease germs and the organs cannot work in their usual healthy order. Stagnation or clogging is the result and physical degeneracy soon follows. This soon leads to mental and moral degeneracy.

If your children are backward about learning, get excited easily and become cross, bless them and their future health and happiness with a trip to the dentist. Their little teeth doubtlessly need attention.

I guarantee not to hurt them and they need not be afraid as the great pain destroyer "Nap-a-Min" makes all dental operations done in these offices absolutely painless.

MR. JOHN T. CROWLEY DOG BITE CASE

FORMERLY OF NORTH CHELMSFORD ELECTED REPRESENTATIVE IN WHITMAN

A feature of the recent political contests which is particularly gratifying to many people in North Chelmsford, was the success of John T. Crowley, who was elected as representative in Whitman, Mass.

Mr. Crowley was born in North Chelmsford and lived there until five years ago when he went to Abington to accept a prominent position. He was at one time employed as a salesman for the Lowell Machine shop, and in well and favorably known in this city. His many friends in North Chelmsford will be pleased to hear of his success for while a resident of the village he was highly respected. Mr. Crowley has a sister, Mrs. Francis J. Sullivan, Grace street, this city. The Brockton Times had the following account of his election.

John T. Crowley of Abington, democrat, was elected representative yesterday over Harold P. Gurney, progressive and E. Clifton Taft, republican. The vote was close in the district, Crowley, 568; Gurney, 550, and Taft, 566. The friends of Mr. Gurney stated that, as only 15 votes separated the leaders they should ask for a recount. In Whitman the progressive vote fell off greatly from last year, but Gurney held his own and gained, running 100 votes ahead of his party.

When word came from Whitman, the other town in the district giving the vote, showing that Crowley was elected, his friends made up a party, burned red-fire, had an auto parade to Whitman and Rockland and at the latter place Mr. Crowley was a guest of the speakers at the Barry celebration. Mr. Crowley has been a resident of Abington about five years, is an expert machinist, employed by the American Textile company, and is well known in Catholic and in fraternal circles. He has been a candidate of the office for two years. His vote in both Abington and Whitman was 451, constituting a record for this office.

HELD FOR DOUBLE KILLING

GEORGE E. WARNER PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO MURDER OF WIFE'S PARENTS

CHESTER DEPOT, Vt., Nov. 7.—George E. Warner of Andover, who was arrested Thursday night by Sheriff Leland of Chester near his mother's home in that town on charge of murder of Henry P. and George Wiggins Wednesday at the home near Simonsville, pleaded not guilty yesterday afternoon before Judge Herbert B. Blanchard of the municipal court of Windston and waived examination.

He was taken to the jail in Woodstock, being held without bail for the state, being charged with the murder of Henry P. and George Wiggins. The state was represented by State Attorney Raymond Trainor of White River Junction. The respondent was represented by Fred G. Bicknell of this village.

The funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Wiggins was held this afternoon. Warner confessed the officers say, that he shot the couple and alleges, according to the police, that his wife's parents were responsible for differences which led to her suing for divorce.

TRANSIT OF MERCURY

VIEWED BY MANY LOWELL RESIDENTS FROM ROOFS OF BUILDINGS

Many Lowell residents from the roofs of buildings watched the transit of the planet mercury over the sun's disc using smoked glass for the purpose. The planet was clearly visible as a speck on the sun, passing shortly after 5 o'clock. The day was ideal for the observation of this rather rare phenomenon.

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

It looks as though the Boot Girls' club has virtually disbanded for all time.

John Mulligan of the Prescott mills is pulling up big scores at the Y. M. C. I. alleys.

Philip Mulcahy of the Bon Marche men's wear counter is one of the most accommodating clerks in the business.

It is rumored about that one of our local mills has received a large order for 35 inch gray goods from a foreign agent.

Some people wonder how long it took the fortunate mill that received that 165 yard order of drilling, to turn the goods out.

Miss May Moriarty of the Helme Electric Co., is entertaining an uncle from New Jersey at her home in Swift street.

Miss May Graham of the Talbot mills, North Billerica, has returned from an enjoyable vacation spent with relatives in Claremont, N. H.

The Mathews' ladies night held last night in the spacious quarters of the institute was a largely attended and highly enjoyable affair.

Harold Frazer, of the Lamson Store Service company, is being congratulated by his many friends on his approaching marriage.

R. O. Roberts, employed as a loom-fixer at the Washington mills, has just been handed his resignation and will attend the Lowell Textile school.

Matt Wholley of Howard's drug store expressed himself as much pleased at the success of the husking bee and dance held in Dracut.

William Conroy, of Maker's picture store has proven himself a capable promoter of social events by the success of the husking bee held last night.

John Dawson of the Hamilton Manufacturing company has returned from a hunting trip in Maine. He was gone two weeks and secured some very fine specimens.

Bobby Whalen, formerly janitor of the Y. M. C. I., and now employed at the Tremont & Suffolk mills has become a member of the bowling team and is rapidly proving his worth as a bowler.

Miss Anna Spillane, formerly employed at the J. L. Chaffoux store has returned after spending a very enjoyable vacation with friends in Amesbury, Mass.

J. Paul Doherty's talk at the A. G. Pollard Employers Mutual Benefit association was highly interesting and is now the subject of much favorable comment.

Miss Madeline Boland's singing at the Street Railway Men's ball held last night won much applause and she responded to several encores. Miss Boland is employed at the Lawrence Manufacturing company.

Mr. J. A. Millette, of Worcester, general organizer for the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America is in this city for the purpose of building up the local organization. He expects to complete his work in two or three weeks.

Mr. John Warren, the popular head clerk of the soda fountain at the Bon Marche store continues to please many patrons with his winning smile and ingratiating ways. "Jack" as he is intimately called by his friends, is always on the job.

The many friends of Mr. James Kelly, a highly respected resident of Belvidere and an employee of the Hartford Bigelow Carpet Co., will be pained to learn of his death, which occurred at St. John's hospital this morning after a sickness which lasted only a few days.

The Belvidere football team will clash on the gridiron next Saturday with a speedy eleven from Newburyport. The team has made rapid progress under the able coaching of Mr. Robert Yates, an old football star, at present employed at the Hartford Bigelow Carpet Co.

Secretary Charles Farrell of the Manufacturers' bowling league has received a beautiful silver prize cup, awarded by the Moste people of Boston. The cup is of large dimensions and is well worth striving for. Mr. Farrell has also received other valuable prizes from local business men.

BOARD OF MISSIONS

Many Lowell People Attend Annual Meeting of Andover and Woburn Branch Board of Missions

WINCHESTER, Nov. 7.—The annual meeting of the Andover and Woburn branch of the woman's board of missions was held Thursday in the First Congregational church, more than 200 delegates attending at the morning session. Mrs. Edward Y. Hinks of Cambridge, president. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Stephen A. Norton of Woburn. Following various reports, Miss Laura Ward, the new missionary of the branch to China, gave a short talk and Mrs. Mary F. Daniels, president of the woman's board of missions, delivered an address on "The Christian Woman's Outlook and Outlook."

Luncheon was served at 12.30 in the vestry by the Winchester society. At a conference of "Junior Lookouts" at 1.15 an address was delivered by Miss Mary Preston.

Rev. Dr. Cyrus Richardson, acting pastor of the church, opened the afternoon session with prayer. These oficers were elected: Mrs. Edward Y. Hinks of Cambridge, president; Mrs. C. F. Belcher of Malden, Mrs. E. V. Bigelow of Andover, Miss Annie M. Chapin of Melrose, Mrs. G. E. Chapin of Stoneham, Mrs. Joshua Coll of

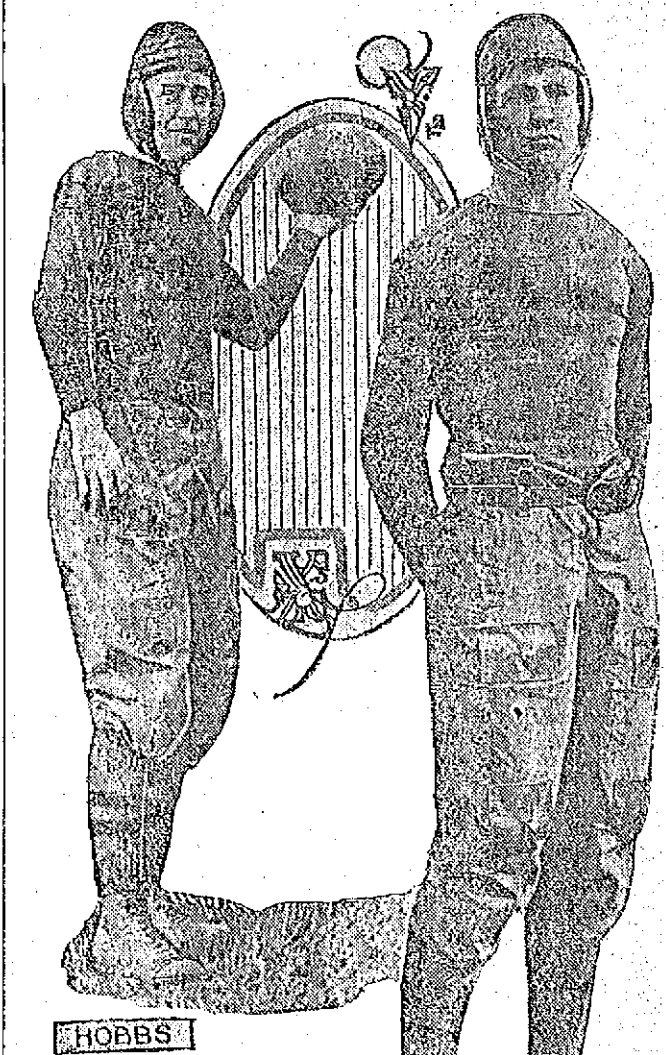

Winchester, Mrs. J. E. Field of Lowell, Mrs. E. S. Gould of Lawrence, Mrs. M. C. Messenger of Melrose Highlands, Mrs. S. R. Hamilton of Wakefield, Mrs. C. F. COLE A CANDIDATE IF CUSHING RUNS

Ex-Speaker Will Seek Republican Nomination for Governor Next Year if Lieutenant Governor Elect Grafton Cushing Thows His Hat in the Ring

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—If there is a contest for the republican nomination for governor next fall, ex-Speaker John N. Cole of Andover will be one of the candidates. Mr. Cole has no desire to make Mr. McCall fight for a re-nomination if the latter wants it, and, unless some other candidate enters the field against the Winchester man, Mr. Cole will keep his hands off; but, if there are two candidates for the republican nomination, there will be three, and one of those three will be the former speaker of the house.

Mr. Cole has not been particularly active in politics since 1908, when, after serving for three years as speaker of the house, he was a candidate for the republican nomination for lieutenant governor and was beaten in the state convention by Louis A. Frothingham. And yet Mr. Cole has not dropped entirely out of public vision. For he made him chairman of the commission on economy and efficiency, and six or seven months ago Mr. Cole resigned that position in order to become chairman of the commission created by Mayor Curley to "boom Boston."

This public service and his printing and publishing business in Andover have kept the former speaker busy, but he has found time to keep in touch with political matters and to take some part in them. As one of his friends said yesterday he has been biding his time and waiting for his opportunity.

Mr. Cole was always a thorn in the flesh of the men who are most influential in determining the policy of the republican party in this state; they never cared for him, and Mr. Cole and his friends know that those leaders prevented him from being the republican nominee for lieutenant governor.

The ex-speaker, according to his close friends, thinks it is time to make another fight against these dominant influences in the republican party, especially if they are to arrange another line of succession and make it plain that everybody who aspires to republican preferment in this state must live in the Back Bay, or in Brookline, Cambridge, Winchester, or some other similar suburb. In other words, Mr. Cole and those who agree with him think that the "blue curtain" is being pulled, and they call the "high brow" up in Vermont, are preparing to run things again in this state. He does not propose to submit to this dictation.

No one knows whether or not there will be a contest for the republican nomination for governor next year. Mr. McCall believes in moving with deliberation and does not see the necessity of making, on the very first day after an election, a public announcement of what he intends to do a year from that time; he is keeping his own counsel, and his attitude has the approval of most people. But some of the friends of Grafton C. Cushing, who has just been elected lieutenant governor, have made the suggestion that, inasmuch as he ran ahead of Mr. McCall at the polls last Tuesday, Mr. Cushing ought to be the republican nominee for governor next fall; there have been hints that Mr. Cushing would be a candidate for the nomination, whether or not Mr. McCall ran again. In view of this development, certain politicians have tried to make Mr. McCall tell what he would do in 1918.

There is no reason for believing that this attempt to force Mr. McCall and substitute Mr. Cushing as the next republican candidate for governor has been sanctioned by the matter, but the matter has been the subject of gossip and it has stirred up the friends of Mr. Cole. The situation just described for Mr. Cushing is a candidate for governor next year, Mr. Cole will also be a candidate.

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once children there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

For over thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

PARKS AND PLAYGROUNDS DIS- CUSSED BY PARK BOARD LAST NIGHT

The park commission met last night and discussed the subject of a playground committee, a very light subject, but of sufficient importance to keep the commissioners talking for an hour or so and after the smoke of battle had cleared away, Chairman McKay announced the permanent committees as follows: Committee on trees, Messrs. Mills, Carr and Weed; committee on parks, Messrs. Weed, McKay and Carr; and committee on playgrounds, Messrs. McKay and Rountree.

The opinion of the city solicitor relative to the acceptance of a parkway in Raven road off Andover street, was read. The solicitor stated in his opinion that it would be permissible to accept it, but that its upkeep would devolve upon the park department.

E. W. Trull, who had petitioned for the parkway, held telephonic communication with Chairman McKay. Mr. Trull said he would be willing to supply the materials for constructing the parkway.

It was decided to look over the parkway before taking any action. Mr. Carr suggested that the electric lights at Shedd park be put in shape in anticipation of the forming of ice for skating. He wondered if it would be possible to transfer the lights from Fort Hill park, now that there is little ice for lights there. It was said that the Fort Hill park lights come under the supervision of the street department. The matter was left in the hands of the superintendent.

Mr. Rountree wanted to know if the new bandstand on the South common had been turned over to the park department. He was informed that it had not. Chairman McKay felt as did Mr. Rountree, that Mr. Weed said that inasmuch as the park department has nothing whatever to do with the assigning of its use, he could see no reason why the park department should pay for its maintenance. He moved and it was so voted to refer the matter to the mayor and commissioner of public property.

At the suggestion of Mr. Weed it was voted to have the superintendent prepare a map of all of the park spaces jurisdiction of the park department.

COTTON LOAN

Sec'y McAdoo Rushes His Plans to Complete the $100,000,000

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Despite fears on the part of some bankers that the raising of the proposed $135,000,000 cotton loan fund may be held as a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, Secretary McAdoo went ahead today with plans for obtaining the $20,000,000 necessary to complete the $100,000,000 that northern banks are to subscribe. Eighty million dollars has been raised. It is announced, and the fear of anti-trust law violation virtually is the only obstacle to the plan's success.

Secretary McAdoo, however, does not hold the bankers apprehension and is confident of the success of the plan. After he had conferred last night with Attorney-General Gregory it was reported that the attorney-general held that the loan plan could not be construed in violation of any law. Fears largely on the part of the New England bankers that the raising of the fund might be held in violation of the law caused officials in charge of the plan to ask the attorney-general for an opinion as to its legality. The bankers and others are said to have misgivings as to the lawfulness of the plan on account of the indictments recently of former directors of the New Haven railroad. Acquisition by the Tennessee Coal and Iron Co. by the United States Steel Co. was sanctioned here by the authorities but afterwards held by others to have been in violation of the anti-trust law was also pointed to by the bankers.

Officials of the department of justice are understood to have been of the opinion when consulted by a representative of the reserve board regarding the proposed loan that there was no violation of the law, that the fund was to be raised voluntarily and that its object was not to restrain competition or raise prices but to extend aid in making loans to producers. While this opinion satisfied most of the bankers and others who had been asked to contribute it did not convince the New Englanders. They are understood to have pledged contributions contingent upon a favorable opinion by the attorney-general. It is understood that the attorney-general upholds the opinion of his subordinates that the cotton loan plan could not be construed to be in violation of any law, but has not prepared a written opinion.

SEC. DONAHUE AT OFFICE
His First Visit to the State House Since the Automobile Accident at Adams

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Secretary of State Frank J. Donahue was at his office at the state house yesterday afternoon for the first time since the automobile accident at Adams, Oct. 26, when he and other democratic candidates were badly injured. He said that he was feeling very well and his spirits and manner clearly bore out this statement. Not until the middle of next week will he return to his desk regularly, however.

Mr. Donahue left St. Elizabeth hospital Wednesday after the removal of the stitches from the deep cut under his chin. He carries his left arm in a sling and will be obliged to do so for some time. The arm gives him considerable pain, but notwithstanding this fact he is very cheerful. It is understood that the attorney-general upholds the opinion of his subordinates that the cotton loan plan could not be construed to be in violation of any law, but has not prepared a written opinion.

THE RABBIT'S FOOT

BY GWEN SEARS

BACK TO THE CITY AND WORK

Summer is over and the girl who has had her fill of outdoor pleasures now turns her thoughts in other directions. Many women return from a strenuous outdoor vacation to inertness, or perhaps on the other hand, they return from a vacation of idleness to one of accumulated work and worry. These sudden changes either way with add nothing to beauty. The one who immediately gives up regular exercise for long, dwindling hours will surely become sallow and heavy of physiognomy. The girl who has been idle, the woman who has been resting and who comes home in strapping on burdens which for the first time seem so staggering, will appear pale and hollow-eyed. How much better would it be in both of these cases might use a little common sense and avoid extremes in either case. The judicious mixture of work and rest, together with complexion care will best add to the benefit received during the vacation time and none of its good would be lost. Where it is possible, the little by little return to the usual routine is excellent. The day, cool response of shower bath, the out-of-door walk each day, the rather abstemious fare, the eight hours' sleep a night in an airy bedroom, these will help mightily in the effort toward a good complexion, then the local work where the skin of the face is rejuvenated, cared for and revived, will be found to be most helpful and beneficial.

FRENCH AM. GUARD MET

Convention to be Held in Lowell
January 31—200 Delegates
Expected

An interesting meeting of delegates of the various semi-military guards of this city which are affiliated to the French American Volunteer brigade of the United States was held Thursday in the quarters of Garde Frontenac in Dutton street, the meeting having been called for the purpose of making arrangements for the coming convention of the brigade, which will be held in this city.

There were five delegates present from each guard and the meeting was opened by Col. Albert Bergeron of Garde Frontenac. The first matter to come before the meeting was the election of officers for the convention committee and the result was as follows: Col. Albert Bergeron, chairman; Capt. Alfred Grenier, Garde St. Louis; vice chairman; Major Arthur D. Lamoureux, A. G. Cadets; secretary; Capt. Nelson Phillips, Garde d'Honneur; treasurer; Lieut. Alfred Renaud, Garde Sacre-Coeur; master of ceremonies.

It was unanimously voted to hold the convention on Sunday, Jan. 31, the opening of the convention to be a solemn high mass, the place and time to be decided later. The first business session will be held on the Sunday afternoon and in the evening a banquet will be held. It is probable the convention will be held at the C. M. C. hall in Pawtucket street, but this matter will be taken up at a later date.

On the Monday following the opening of the convention two sessions will be held and on this day the officers for the ensuing two sessions will be chosen. On Tuesday the delegates will be given an automobile tour through the city and in the evening they will attend a drama which will be given under the auspices of the local guards.

It is expected that nearly 200 delegates will attend the convention and of course this will mean a lot for the business of Lowell for these men will spend three days in the Spindle City. The guards represented at last night's meeting and their representatives were as follows: Garde Frontenac—Col. Albert Bergeron, Lieut. Mathias Pelouquin, Privates Adelard Dube, Arthur Verville and George Dorels. Garde d'Honneur—Capt. Nelson Phillips, Lieut. Alfred Renaud, Lieut. Horace Desilets, Lieut. Alfred Renaud, Lieut. Normand Cote, Sergt. Henri Grenier and Corp. Simeon Goulet.

BEHIND CLOSED DOORS COLLEGE GIRLS' DANCE

STENOGRAPHER FOR D. A. SULLIVAN, BANK WRECKER, BEFORE GRAND JURY

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Miss Louise Burkhardt of Yonkers, formerly stenographer for David A. Sullivan, the Brooklyn bank wrecker now in Sing Sing, testified today before the grand jury in Brooklyn which is investigating charges made by depositors of the Union bank, that Sullivan while in prison has manipulated some of the assets of that bank.

Miss Burkhardt appeared to be in a condition approaching collapse when she left the jury room under instructions to appear again Monday and bring certain records. There was a great deal of speculation as to the nature of her testimony but no inkling of its purport was disclosed.

Reports that District Attorney Crosey after hearing Miss Burkhardt's evidence began a search for Mrs. David A. Sullivan, wife of the bank wrecker, in order to call her before the jury, were circulated. The inquiry was adjourned until Monday.

FINE CLOTHING DISPLAY
Professional Demonstrator Exhibiting Various Models of Fall Apparel at P. & Q. Shop

An unusual and very attractive demonstration of the newest models in men's clothing is being held in the spacious show windows of the P. & Q. shop on Central street. A professional demonstrator is conducting this demonstration and passersby witness a fine display. The demonstrator exhibits the various styles of apparel himself acting as a model. He wears the various cut suits, overcoats, top coats, etc. showing how the garments appear and emphasizing the quality and style of the goods.

The line of clothing shown is a very attractive one. The Lowell public is invited to visit the store and see for themselves that all the claims of the manufacturers of this well known line are just. There are certain features of the tailoring which are not visible from a mere exhibit, but which will doubtless interest many people. Low prices are a remarkable feature of the policy of this store.

The present display is being carried on under the personal direction of the manager of the entire chain of P. & Q. stores, Mr. A. Davidson, who is in Lowell for a brief period. Mr. Davidson expressed to the writer the belief that it will not be long before the great majority of men will be seeking the P. & Q. offerings, so rapid is the spread of their popularity. The demonstration will continue all day Saturday.

COL. CARMICHAEL MENTIONED
Friends of Col. James B. Carmichael, commissioner of fire and water, are booming him as a candidate either for the public service commission or the board of canalization and arbitration. Col. Carmichael stated yesterday that he had not talked with Gov. Walsh and had not approached him in the matter in any way. The colonel admitted, however, that friends of his had been urging him to become a candidate. The colonel was non-committal in regard to the matter.

Has Been Found Totally Ineffective by Special Committee

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—According to the report issued today by a committee of the board of health, the alleged Friedman cure for tuberculosis, the cure has been found totally ineffective.

The report details merely the medical observations made on certain patients, the laboratory studies on the culture used by Dr. Friedman and refers to the moral recalcitrance of the doctor sufficiently to make it clear that it was his own fault that the investigation was not continued longer and upon a greater number of suitable cases.

"It is pointed out that the manner in which Dr. Friedman presented his claims before the Board of Health, made them tantamount to a contention that he had discovered at last the sovereign cure for tuberculosis in all its forms, provided of course that the disease had not already progressed beyond all hope of recovery."

"These claims the report takes up in detail and then draws the deadly parallel between them and the results of the application of the treatment to patients under the observation of the service doctors. 'Whereas the claims are based on cases which always seem to get well or at least to show phenomenal improvement, after one or two injections, the cases which reacted in this manner among the test series were conspicuously few.'"

The report does not commit itself as to whether the improvement noted in these few cases was due to the treatment or to the stimulus of a great hope or to unassignable causes which would improve in some cases but it does point out distinctly that if anyone prefers the first explanation "he must in justice attribute also to the treatment the very distinct and unusual deterioration in the condition of certain other patients which progressed in some of them to a speedy death."

ATTEMPT TO ENTER HOUSE
An attempt was made recently to enter the home of Cleophas Heroux in Rosemont terrace, rear of the Textile school, but apparently the thieves were frightened away before securing any valuables. The attempted break was made during the afternoon when the occupants of the house were at home. When one of the family returned it was discovered that the door had been pried and windows removed in an effort to gain an entrance.

DEMOCRAT LEADS
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 6.—Revised election returns from virtually every county in Wisconsin as compiled by the Milwaukee Journal, but with estimates made in a few precincts not yet received, show the democrats for United States senator, 124,760, and McGovern, republican, 124,305, showing a plurality for Husting of 455. It is generally conceded an official count will be necessary to decide the winner.

FIGHTING IN MEXICO
EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 6.—The Carranza troops have retired before an advance of 10,000 Villa soldiers after work, according to an official Villa report today. Gen. Leon commanded the Carranza forces.

AUTO STRUCK WAGON
A touring car crashed into one of the Cudahy Co.'s wagons at the corner of Aiken and Moody streets yesterday when a fatal injury was caused. The car was driven by a man who was killed. The car was struck by a wagon which was carrying a load of lumber.

WILL OF JUDGE EMERY BROKEN
BOSTON, Nov. 6.—The will of Judge S. A. Emery of Portsmouth, N. H., was broken by a jury in the superior court today on the ground that it was procured by fraud and undue influence on the part of his second wife, Mary B. Emery, who was left the entire estate, amounting to $60,000.

VILLA READY TO QUIT

RETIRE TO PRIVATE LIFE IF NECESSARY TO BRING ABOUT END OF CARRANZA
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Gen. Villa has formally notified the national congress at Aguascalientes of his willingness to resign command of his troops and retire to private life if it is necessary to bring about the elimination of Gen. Carranza.

Villa's statement is in answer to the stipulations of Carranza that with his own retirement Villa and Zapata should be eliminated from military authority. According to reports from American Consul Silliman resistance by Carranza of the convention's orders will depend upon the attitude of General Pablo Gonzalez, commander of the division of the east. He is at Queretaro with several thousand troops and indications are that he will remain loyal to Carranza.

BARRED FROM THEATRE
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Secretary Daniels was indignant today when he received a report that bluejackets in uniform had been barred from a New York theatre.

"This is nothing less than an outrage," said Secretary Daniels, "and I shall instruct the commandant of the New York yard to question the rights of the men in question are protected when the complaint comes up for hearing."

FRIEDMANN CURE I. W. W. LEADERS ELECTED SENATOR

Contempt Proceedings Against Bedard, Yates, Trautman & Shaheen

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Contempt proceedings were begun in the supreme court today against Joseph A. Bedard, William Yates, William Trautman and Joseph Shaheen, all of Lawrence, for their failure to abide by a court order requiring them to turn over $15,375 as trustees of a fund raised in 1912 for the benefit of the Lawrence strikers.

The supreme court last spring held the four defendants severally liable for $3,500 and Bedard, Trautman and Shaheen for the further sum of $5375. Proceedings were instituted at the request of contributors to the fund.

Service was made on Yates in Cambridge and by letter on Shaheen, who is in Florida. Bedard and Trautman could not be found.

LOST THREE CHILDREN

MR. AND MRS. CAMILLE LAVOIE
SUFFER SEVERE BLOW—THREE DEATHS IN TWO WEEKS
Mr. and Mrs. Camille Lavoie, of 7 Ward street are receiving the sympathy of their many friends on account of the death of their beloved child, Gerard, aged 2 years and 4 months, who passed away yesterday.

The death of the child is particularly sad owing to the fact that this is the third child of the couple to pass away within two weeks. On Oct. 23, Paul, aged 1 year and 10 months and George, Gerard's twin brother, died. The third child, Gerard, was born at that time, but the parents hoped he would recover, but yesterday morning he passed away.

HOLD UP INFECTED CATTLE
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—At all freight stations in this city and New Jersey where incoming livestock is received, 15 inspectors have been on duty for several days to prevent cattle and other livestock infected with the foot and mouth disease from entering this market. Today this force was increased by a score.

THE STATE REFERENDA
PARTY ENROLLMENT ABOLISHED—SATURDAY HALF-HOLIDAYS FOR STATE EMPLOYEES
BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Returns from the three referendums submitted in Tuesday's election showed today that the state has abolished party enrollment for primaries and granted Saturday half-holidays for state employees. Many of the cities and towns also favored granting two weeks' vacation to municipal employees.

QUARANTINE EXTENDED
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Federal quarantine to check the spread of the foot and mouth disease were extended today over the states of Iowa and Massachusetts by Secretary Houston of the department of agriculture.

PEORIA STOCKYARDS CLOSED
PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 6.—Peoria stockyards today received orders from the Illinois livestock commission to close until further notice from the commissioner.

WILFRID CADORETTE
Elected Senator
Five years ago he removed to Centerville, R. I., where he purchased a large department store, which he has been conducting successfully since. Last year Mr. Cadorette was candidate for police commissioner at Centerville, but was defeated by a small margin. A few weeks ago he filed his nomination papers for senator and although his opponent was Lawyer Archambault, one of the strongest democrats in the state, he won the contest by a large majority.

TWO BACHELORS ELECTED

Women Declare Bay State in Disgrace—Say Walsh and Cushing Should be Ashamed

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Massachusetts is disgraced—and both republicans and democrats have done it. Let them bow their heads in utter shame.

They have elected two bachelors—count them, two complete, disengaged bachelors—to the two highest offices of state, and consequently the state will, next year, have no "leading lady," and with no "leading lady" it cannot set the styles for the United States.

Such is the opinion of at least one member of the executive committee of the Women's Trade Board, which held a meeting last night to discuss styles, and whether Boston or New York will lead United States styles. It wound up by discussing also governors and bachelors. And Mrs. Page, the member who is up in arms over Massachusetts "shame," intimated that the other members felt just as she does.

Mrs. Page explained that the board was taking over styles when one member wanted to know who would set the style in Massachusetts. Someone else pointed out that the "leading lady of the state" should do it. "But who is the leading lady?" another wanted to know. And that brought the discussion right down to the election of Tuesday.

DE LUXE CASE

Hartley and Farmer to Serve Two Years—A $10,000,000 Swindle

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—W. J. Hartley and J. J. Farmer, recently convicted of using the mails to defraud purchasers of rare books, were sentenced today to serve a term of two years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta. The Anglo-American Authors association, a corporation composed of the defendants and others was fined $2000.

Counsel for Hartley and Farmer filed with the court a writ of error which acts as a stay and bail was fixed at $10,000 each.

The extent of the swindle charged against the defendants and others tried with them was approximately $10,000,000, according to the government's experts.

HELD ANNUAL BANQUET

A. G. POLLARD EMPLOYEES M. H. A. HAD MOST ENJOYABLE TIME LAST NIGHT
The annual banquet of the A. G. Pollard Employees Mutual Benefit association was held Thursday in the Middlesex Women's club quarters in Middle street and was in all respects a grand success. Fully 200 members sat down to the sumptuous repast prepared by Caterer Dick Tallaferra, and it can safely be stated, all brought their appetites with them. Mr. Arthur Lebrun, a past president of the association, made a capable toastmaster and introduced as speakers of the evening, President Raoul Monier, Vice President Charles Delaronde, Secretary J. Paul Doherty, Treasurer Justin H. Kimball and Auditors John Orrell and Joseph Lebrun. Mr. A. G. Pollard was also present and gave a very interesting talk on good fellowship and cooperation. He was loudly applauded at the close of his remarks.

Immediately after the banquet the gathering repaired to Keith's theatre where a first class performance was witnessed and thoroughly enjoyed.

TO HOLD SPECIAL ELECTION
BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Official notice was yesterday received by the elections division of the secretary of state's office of the death yesterday of Fred C. Taft of Uxbridge, who was elected Tuesday a representative in the 8th Worcester district as a republican.

The vacancy will be filled by a special election, which, however, cannot be held until the general court convenes in January and a speaker is chosen, who shall announce the vacancy and call a special election.

Mr. Taft died of angina pectoris at the age of 46. He had been a semi-invalid for three years, was stricken Monday evening and was unable to go to the polls Tuesday.

Mr. Taft was first elected a selectman in 1910, was re-elected in 1913, and for the last two years had been chairman of the board.

ANOTHER NEW HAVEN DIRECTOR
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Thomas DeWitt Cuyler, indicted in the New Haven case last Monday, appeared in the federal branch of the district court here this afternoon and pleaded: "Not guilty." He was given ten days in which to change his plea and was released on a $5000 bond.

All of the 21 men indicted with the exception of two, Charles T. Brooks, former national republican national committeeman from Connecticut, and James S. Eilon of Waterbury, Conn., have now entered their pleas. The latter two were expected to appear in court later today or tomorrow.

N. H. QUARANTINE CATTLE
CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 6.—By reason of the outbreak of the foot and mouth disease in various sections of the country and the discovery of several cases of the disease among cattle in Massachusetts, Andrew L. If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

It's this way, as Mrs. Page explained it in detail after the meeting. The executive board thinks that, now the war has blockaded Paris styles, either Boston or New York will set future American styles. To "set a style" any state needs a "leading lady." Under normal conditions, the governor's wife is the "leading lady." If the governor is so beautiful, or so unfortunate, or so unwise as not to have found a mate, then, of course, the wife of the lieutenant-governor is the "leading lady."

But what is a state going to do, Mrs. Page and her co-workers want to know, if neither governor nor lieutenant-governor can boast a spouse?

Governor Walsh has no wife, as says Mrs. Page. "Lieutenant-Governor-elect Cushing has no wife. And there you are. What are we going to do? What do the people think about it? Have we got to let New York take the lead in setting American styles? That's what's going to happen, unless—unless, mark you—one of the other of them, Mr. Walsh or Mr. Cushing, gets married before next January. I think they'd better."

"We think it is a deplorable state of affairs that next year both our chief officials will be bachelors. Why were two bachelors picked out, anyway? It does not look very well for Massachusetts. One a democrat, one a republican! I'm ashamed of both of them."

Colson Heights, a Billerica homestead, has given another impetus to the real estate and building operations in that location. The owners plan the extensive development of the property which is now very attractive. This is one of a large number of land holdings which have been cut up into house lots and offered for sale. Thus far, the principal buyers have been the mechanics employed at the Boston and Maine car shops. A description of the operations of Colson Heights appears elsewhere in this section.

In Lowell, the number of permits granted during the past week was very small. A few are building garages, while others are remodeling or enlarging their homes. A number of residences the construction of which was begun some months ago, are now completed and are being offered for sale. It is rumored that Mr. Deemer, who has already erected six beautiful new houses near the corner of Stevens and Middlesex streets, intends to promote even greater building operations at another location on Stevens street.

Contracts have been closed on the purchase and sale of a splendid cottage house situated near Fletcher street. The house is a full two and one-half story with seven rooms and bath. There are about 2000 square feet of land attached at the rate of 25c per foot. The purchaser of this cozy house buys purely for a home. Names of grantor and grantee will be given later.

tensive alterations and improvements. Also through this office has been sold the property situated at 15 Clifford street in the Highlands section. This parcel comprises an excellent cottage house of seven rooms and bath. The house is completely surrounded by a large garden spot laid out to fruit trees and shrubbery. The land amounts to approximately 10,000 square feet and fronts on both Clifford street and Reylston avenue. The sale is effected on behalf of Mr. Lewis Abare, the grantor being Mrs. Ursula Carroll of Lynnfield. Mrs. Carroll purchases for personal occupancy.

Contracts have been closed on the purchase and sale of a most interesting parcel of residential realty situated near Fairmount street on Belvidere hill. The property is unquestionably one of the finest residences in the city of Lowell. It has 15 rooms, three baths, finish in solid mahogany and quartered oak of the richest character and construction of a magnificent grade throughout. The grounds are most extensive, totaling 150,000 square feet, or somewhat over three acres. There is an excellent tennis court, the premises as well as a splendid stable. The transfer is effected on behalf of a local estate, the purchaser coming to Lowell from out of town.

Henry T. Wheeler of 33 Baldwin street will build a new 14 by 24 foot hen coop. The coop will have a pitch roof and a foundation of posts.

An addition is being built on the home of Frederick Butterfield at 212 West Meadow road and will be fitted up as a kitchen. The material used is wood and the addition will be 16 by 20 feet. It will have a stone foundation and a wall of hard plaster. New plumbing and new bath and kitchen fixtures will be installed upon the completion of the structure.

Patrick Hickey will construct an addition to his house at 24 Cedar street, his purpose being to enlarge one room and to provide for a driveway to the second floor. The addition will adjoin the all of the present building on the rear and one side and a second story will be constructed on the ell. Window openings will be cut and two new rooms will be afforded by the additional story on the ell. Two sinks will be installed. The estimated cost of the work is $500.

Benj. Mortimer of 11 Morton street will have extensive additions and alterations made upon his property located at 151 Lawrence st. A new partition will be constructed to separate the front stairway from the downstairs tenement. An addition will be built which will afford additional rooms. This addition is to consist of two stories and there will be a new pantry and bath provided in each tenement. The addition will be built of wood and will have a foundation of stone. All new plumbing apparatus and fixtures will be installed. The estimated cost of the work is $1500.

New Storage Shed
A new one story building, in all probability to be used as a storage shed, is to be erected by Albert J. Brooks in the rear of his residence at 39 Chase avenue. The building will have a foundation of concrete and fireproof material will be used largely in the construction.

To Construct Steel Garage
A new garage, to consist of a frame-work of steel covered with steel, is to be erected by Carl E. Harris, near his residence at 33 Summit street, at a cost of approximately $200. The front of the garage will measure 14 feet and the side 18 feet. The foundation and floor will be constructed of concrete.

Building New Bungalow
Annie Elizabeth Malzen of Boston will build a new bungalow on her property at 311 Parker street, this city. The bungalow when completed will be a most attractive appearing structure and will be built along the newest lines. It will measure 28 by 36 feet, and will have two bay windows, and also a spacious piazza on one side. There will be one fireplace and the bungalow is to be equipped with apparatus for steam heating. The estimated cost is about $1700.

About Electric Installations
Mr. J. F. Gallagher, a local electrical contractor, located at 32 Middle st., formerly instructor at the Lowell vocational school, offers some very good suggestions for property owners who are considering having their houses wired or the equipment changed; impress upon the contractor the kind of installation desired; an electrical installation must not be made; it needs careful attention; splices and switches connections should be very carefully made; if one desires an installation that is free from any danger of mechanical injury, armored cable should be used; if wiring for electrical appliances, do not attach wires to old installers, but have a floor or base board plug installed; give the job to a contractor who will stand behind his work.

LEGAL QUESTION IN PLUMBING
A contract to install plumbing and heating in a house provided the petitioners should furnish the plumbing and heating complete, doing first-class work, and leaving everything in first-class condition ready for immediate use. The work was substantially completed in August, but at that time there was a slight leak in the pipes and the workmen had put the hot water pipe on the cold water faucet, and vice versa. Petitioners, in response to a request, look out the necessary pipes, relocated the joints, and screwed them tighter, stopping the leaks and changed the hot and cold water lines. Hold, that the contract was not completed until the repairs were finished, and hence their right to file a claim for ten dated from that time.

NO MORE LEAKY FAUCETS
The householder is always ready and eager to adopt any scheme that will relieve him of the expensive visits of the plumber and he is doubly rejoiced if he sees the water bill change for the better. One of the surest ways to run up a big water bill is to have leaky faucets and no one wants to pay for water that runs to waste. Furthermore, there is often a mineral deposit in the water that disfigures the basins and tubs and all this must be charged against the leaky faucet. Everyone knows that a washer worn thin by constant friction, is the most frequent cause of this trouble. Anything that will eliminate this nuisance is welcome, and our readers will be interested to know that we now have a washerless faucet that will put an end to this annoyance. This faucet has been thoroughly tested abroad, where it has given entire satisfaction and has been authorized by the London water board. Instead of a washer we have a conical valve with direct bearing upon a spherical seat making possible a fine contract which provides a perfectly tight joint.

OLD WATER TANK RAZED
There has recently been torn down at the northwest corner of Lathrop and Reade streets, New York city, the four-story building which contained for more than a century the iron tank which supplied water to the lower part of the city before the installation of the Croton service. This iron tank was one of the landmarks of the city and in the early days it supplied water to the citizens. It played an important part. Beneath the tank in the building was a large well, but it had not been used since 1842.

Sections of the wooden pipes which furnished water to many houses in the lower part of the city have frequently been dug up and during the excavations for the Hall of Records and the subway many of these old water pipes in a good state of preservation were unearthed.

BUILD NOW
The temporary letting up of general building operations is making a favorable opportunity this fall and winter for the homebuilder, not soon to be repeated. Have you thought about what is ahead of us and its sure effect on the cost of building as in reverse to present conditions?

Right now, every contractor you meet is in position to give you a $125 return for your money for every dollar invested and for two reasons. He can buy material comparatively cheap and put good workmen on your job for the same pay that in rush times goes to the incapable man furnishing 50 per cent efficiency. Good live men are right ahead and so a word to the wise that they be forehanded and build now, for a $5000 house today in less than a year will cost $6000.

Nor will you be required to pay high interest rates should you wish.

ONE STORY BUNGALOW DESIGN

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—From a Photograph

FLOOR PLAN

There is no waste of space in this entire bungalow plan. Two bedrooms on the first floor, and in case of need the den could be used as an extra chamber. There can be three chambers finished in the second story if one desires, but the estimated cost does not include finishing the second story. Size of the house is 25 feet wide and 35 feet deep. Full basement under entire house. First story 9 feet. Chambers finished in pine to paint, balance in red gum, red oak or birch, with birch or white maple floors throughout first story. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $2300.

ABOUT WHITEWASH
Whitewash is a preservative; it is not as good as paint in some ways, and it may be better than paint in certain other ways. Lime used for whitewash is a good disinfectant and it serves to destroy the fungus growth which may be setting up on the outside of a building. Whitewash is a good thing for rough, outside timber and fencing and it is certainly a preservative.

VARNISHING FLOORS
Properly clean, scrape and dust the floor surface, including upon same attention as is given to hardwood. Apply one coat of good quality floor varnish, slightly oil with turpentine, allowing it to set forty-eight hours. When thoroughly dry, sandpaper lightly with 0 paper and remove dust; turn to sand and finish floor as before. Apply a third coat of varnish, full strength, and either leave in gloss, or rub to a dull finish as owner may direct.

ATTRACTIVE COLSON HEIGHTS
Colson Heights is the name of a home site of excellent location and high character situated in Billerica. It was set apart for those whose desire is to purchase land and erect high class residences and has been already taken advantage of in great measure by prospective home builders.

The property includes about 500 home sites which range in size from 5,000 to 10,000 square feet and the prices are at the present time from 2 to 3 cents per foot. The property is managed by Mr. J. W. Perrigo, sales manager representing the firm of Ed-ward F. Twombly & Co. The office is located at the corner of Talbot and Pollard streets, North Billerica. The owners are developers and builders, as well as salesmen, and it is their intention to continually add to the attractiveness and value of the property. A number of the skilled mechanics at Colson Heights have built attractive homes. Indications point to the rapid increase of personal holdings at this location. Some are buying for investment purposes. The owners are offering the lots as ideal sites for those who are employed in the city and who prefer suburban homes, pointing out the advantages from the standpoint of health, etc.

The office of the manager is open every day and Sunday is set aside as inspection day. The location of Colson Heights is easily reached. Electric cars to Lowell and Boston pass the site every fifteen minutes. It is situated near the Talbot school, and post office and the town is built up to it and partly around it.

SLEEPYTIME TALES

BY VIRGINIA VALE

FOR THE LITTLE READERS OF THE SUN

DANDY LEARNS TO TANGO

Once upon a time Frank taught his pony Dandy a number of tricks and it was such fun to teach him, and Dandy was so easy to learn that Frank said to his father: "I am going to teach Dandy to do the Tango."

One bright cool morning Frank started in to give the pony his first lesson. Frank began to whistle and with a small whip touched Dandy's front feet, first one then the other, making him keep time to the music. Very soon Dandy knew what Frank wanted him to do when he touched his feet and he would do it at once.

Then Frank would give him a small piece of sugar to teach him the next step. It was not very long before Dandy could Tango in the very latest style.

One day he heard his mother talking about raising some money to help a poor man to go south for his health. Frank thought to himself, why couldn't I charge ten cents and have Dandy go through all of his tricks and then I could help the poor man. He asked his mother and she thought that it was a fine thing to do and said she would help all she could.

Dandy was brushed until his coat shone like satin and his mane and tail were tied with a blue ribbon and then he was led out into a tent that someone had loaned for the occasion. Dandy seemed to know that it was some special occasion and went through all of his tricks in his very best manner. After he was through, everyone crowded around and petted him until Frank thought he would be spoiled but Dandy seemed to like it and pranced around and around until it was time to go home.

Frank found that he had collected quite a little money for the man, so, with what his mother had collected he was able to start at once for the south. Wasn't it nice that Dandy could help as well as to please.

NEUTRALITY IN HOTELS

Foreigners Instead of Americans Kept Guessing Since Dishes Are Americanized

From the wrath of man some good may come, for it appears that as one of the minor consequences of the war abroad American hotels and restaurants are reforming their bills of fare. Heretofore we had been educated to calling them menus, but now we are to say it in plain United States.

You see, this was the way of it. It was noticed by the men who ran the well restaurants in the east that German guests were objecting to French and Russian dishes, and Frenchmen were objecting to German dishes and Russians were objecting to Austrian dishes, etc. So it went. Nobody was satisfied. So the intelligent caterers finally struck upon the notion that it would be a nice, neutral thing to give the various dishes names that Americans could understand, and let the foreigners do the guessing for awhile.

So it is said that one can now go into a hotel and buy a dish of ham and eggs—just like that. If you want sweetbreads with new peas you say so, being careful to call the waiter Jack instead of Jules or Francois. It is unnecessary to mutter through something that sounds like ris de veau aux petits pois.

Most any American can sit down nowadays and discover in advance just what he is going to eat—at least the plain United States name for it. And the best of it is that the new nomenclature is coming westward.—Los Angeles Exchange.

The Berlin Fire department is now being run by women who have taken the place of their husbands called to war.

Boys Placed Lighted Matches in Boxes — Postmaster Crowley Takes Steps to Catch the Offenders — Federal Detectives Will Investigate Affair

Postmaster Crowley has reported to the police that several letters were burned in a letter box at the corner of Spaulding and Merrimack streets as a result of boys putting lighted matches in the box.

The matter was first brought to the attention of the postmaster, who in turn notified the police in an endeavor to capture the young vandals, who perpetrated the crime. The police are hot on the trail of the boys, who if captured will be severely punished, for a charge of destroying United States mail will be brought against them. This matter would be taken up by the federal authorities in the event of the capture of the culprits and it is safe to say that the offenders will be severely dealt with.

It seems that this is not the first time letters were burned in letter boxes in this city by boys who through devilry put matches in the steel boxes, not knowing probably how serious the offense is. Postmaster Crowley has made up his mind to put a stop to such vicious play and has notified the postal authorities who may send detectives here to find the guilty parties.

FOUR WANT TO BE MAYOR

CONTEST ON FOR FIRST CHIEF EXECUTIVE OF REVERE—PRIMARIES THREE WEEKS AWAY

REVERE, Nov. 7.—At present there are four avowed candidates for the honor of being the first mayor of Revere, which will take its place among the Massachusetts cities Jan. 1. There are only three weeks in which to arrange for the filing of nomination papers, for new registrations, ward voting places and the primary.

The principal development yesterday was the filing of a nomination paper as a candidate for mayor in the republican primary by Arthur B. Curtis. Mr. Curtis stated early in the week that he would not enter the primary, but would run as an independent. The independent strength, however, has apparently turned to James P. Dolan, who was endorsed at a meeting of citizens Wednesday night, and Mr. Curtis has decided to appeal to his party.

Mr. Dolan has already filed his papers for the democratic nomination, and as he has no opposition there he will appear on the ballot as democrat and independent.

Two other nomination papers are expected to be filed for the republican primary before the time for closing the list at 5 p. m. today. These are for Walter T. White, the present chairman of the board of selectmen, and William W. Gordon, now selectman from precinct 4. Mr. White has been an avowed republican candidate for several months before the vote on the charter was taken and has the support of a large part of the party organization.

It has been rumored all day that Mr. Gordon has withdrawn from the contest and would run for councilman-at-large. He stated last night that he is still in the ring and that his majority paper will go in. He also stated that his papers have been prepared for the council nomination.

Next in general interest is the question of candidates for the council. Four of these are to be nominated at large, and up to this writing there are six in the field, all running in the republican primary. The new entries yesterday were Alfred S. Hall and Charles H. Brown.

Mr. Hall has been refusing requests from his friends for several days that he be a candidate. He has been chairman of the Revere water commission for several years and previously held many other town offices and served in the state house and senate. Mr. Brown is also on the water commission.

Other Commissioner Herbert S. Gruenfield and Ralph M. Butterworth of the school committee and Allan Robertson, a Revere Beach lawyer, are the other aspirants.

Howard H. Trask, now on the school committee, will file papers for the republican nomination for councilman-at-large, and Cornelius F. Greene will do the same for the democratic nomination.

New candidates announced yesterday for councilman from the wards are Fred C. Miskelly in ward 1 and Robert E. Beckert, ward 3. Joseph B. Smith, Jr., will file papers for the three-year term on the school committee, a body which is to be reduced from six members to three under the city charter.

Activity is also shown among candidates for assessors, several of the applicants being new as assessors. V. Ellwood Tracy, Albin B. Carter, Forest C. Toward and Daniel O'Brien are in this list. Charles H. Bates and George G. Burke of the present board will seek re-election.

KNEW HE HAD NO CHANCE

JOSEPH WALKER STATES HIS POSITION—WILL STAY IN PROGRESSIVE RANKS

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Joseph Walker, the progressive candidate for governor in the recent campaign, gave out last night the following personal statement:

"I joined the progressive party because I believed in the things for which it stood, and for no other reason. I believe in those things still. I shall continue to fight in the ranks of the progressive party."

"The pendulum has swung one way. It will surely swing the other way. The people will not permanently prefer Progress to Roosevelt. In the end progressive principles and policies are sure to win because they are truly democratic, sound and designed to establish social justice. They make for industrial stability and assure lasting prosperity for the masses. Washington and his army did not surrender at Valley Forge; neither will we."

"I accepted the progressive nomination for governor from a sense of duty to the party and for no other reason. I knew at the time that the party was without money, was in debt and was temporarily disorganized. I knew that I could not win, but I hoped to hold the progressive together for the future. I put up as hard a fight as I could and I have no personal regrets."

"As a candidate for office, when I was confronted with the prohibition question, I took the right and righteous side, regardless of the immediate political effect. When I was confronted with the race and religious question I took the only tenable position. I asserted that the race and religious issue had no place in American politics, but that the only way to keep it out was by a complete separation of church and state."

"I therefore stood for the clearest amendment to the constitution of Massachusetts prohibiting all appropriations for sectarian purposes. I have stuck to the political methods which I believed to be clean and right."

"I am used to temporary defeats. They are the least of my troubles. I have faith in the future, and shall never give up the fight."

TWO KILLED BY AUTOS

AGED MAN WAS RUN DOWN IN DORCHESTER AND YOUNG MAN STRUCK IN TREMONT STREET

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Two men were killed and a boy seriously injured by being run down by automobiles in different parts of the city yesterday, and as a result of the accidents two men will face charges of manslaughter in the police courts today.

Those who were killed are Thomas S. O'Connor, 70 years old, 15 Chase street, Dorchester, and George E. Collins, 26 years old, 185 Washington avenue, Chelsea. The injured boy is William Goldman, 10 years old, 43 Glenway street, Dorchester.

O'Connor was struck by the automobile of Henry S. Dowd, of 11 Glenmar street, Dorchester, as he was crossing Columbia road almost in front of the Russell school late yesterday afternoon. The aged man suddenly became confused as Dowd's car approached in the direction of Franklin park.

TOKIO CELEBRATES FALL OF TSING TAU

German Fortress Captured by Japanese and English After an Actual Siege of More Than Three Weeks—Petrograd Reports Turks Driven Back

TOKIO, Nov. 7.—Tokio is celebrating today the fall of the German fortress at Tsing Tau after an actual siege of a few days more than three weeks. It was in the middle of September that the real attack began, although the preparations for the taking of the German stronghold in Asia were begun immediately after war was declared by Japan on Aug. 15. Crowds collected everywhere today and many processions were formed, the enthusiastic people dragging about with them floats decorated with flowers as a symbol of victory. Japanese and British flags are floating everywhere throughout the city. The final and successful attack on Tsing Tau began shortly after midnight Friday morning and the first inroad by the allied forces which was largely instrumental in the fall of the place was the taking of the middle fort of the first line of defense. This was accomplished by a brilliant charge of infantry and engineers led by General Yamashita. Simultaneously with the charge of General Yamashita, other were made, the troops dashing forward with cries of "Hanzai," Chung-chiu was captured soon thereafter with its two heavy cannon.

A detachment of the first line occupied the Jitis, Bismarck and Moltke forts at seven in the morning and then the enemy hoisted the white flag was hoisted on the coast forts at the mouth of the Haiipo at 7.30 o'clock.

PETROGRAD REPORTS TURKS DRIVEN BACK WITH GREAT LOSSES

PETROGRAD, Nov. 7.—An official communication from the general staff in Caucasus dated Nov. 5 says: "There has not been any considerable actions as yet. Some Kurdish regiments, supported by infantry and masses of the population in arms attempted an offensive movement in the region northeast of Karakilissa. The Turks were driven back with great losses."

"The Russians continue to pursue the Turkish and Kurdish troops who were defeated in the hill regions of Passine, Diadene and Balazet. These places have been occupied by our troops. The Turkish troops have been in part exterminated and in part dispersed."

The enemy hoisted the white flag on the weather astronomical station adjoining the governor's office. Another white flag was hoisted on the coast forts at the mouth of the Haiipo at 7.30 o'clock.

Berlin says Amer of Afghanistan has sent 170,000 troops to Indian frontier and several Indian tribes have joined the Afghans.

Report from German sources that the Sheikh-ul-Islam has proclaimed the duty of every Mussulman is to his faith.

GERMANS TO MAKE FINAL AND DESPERATE EFFORT TO SMASH ALLIES' LINE, BLOCKING WAY TO CALAIS

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Mystery again cloaks the movements of the antagonists along the battlefronts in the eastern arena of the war, but the belief is growing in London that Germany, safe within her defenses behind the River Warthe and with the Austrians behind strongly fortified positions from Cracow to the passes of the Carpathians, is rushing her best corps on the eastern front to the west in a final desperate effort to smash the allies' line blocking their way to Calais.

Petrograd reports that the Austrians after making a final furious onslaught upon the Russian lines along the River San had withdrawn in all directions until their front now extends from Bukta pass in the Carpathians to Cracow with a wedge extending to Przemysl, which fortress continues to resist the Russian assault.

Another despatch from Petrograd declares that a general pursuit of the retreating Austrians is under way, but the cautious tone of the official communication added to significant admissions from Vienna creates the impression that the Austrians are regaining their fortified positions with out suffering greater disaster. With the Teutonic allies safe in their new positions, it is quite likely, in the opinion of London observers, that heavy reinforcements have been sent from the eastern front for the supreme effort along the western line of battle.

The feeling is growing here that the recent raid of a German offensive in the North sea and this impression has been increased by the news that Dutch fishing vessels have found floating mines to be so thick, some of them even catching their nets that they have given up all efforts to continue their occupation. These German reports also that they have seen hundreds of bodies floating in the sea.

GERMANS CLING TO THEIR POSITIONS IN FLANDERS—ADVANCE TAGE WITH ALLIES

PARIS, Nov. 7.—With renewed energy the Germans are clinging tenaciously to their positions in Flanders, especially the Ypres region but the initiative, so important in modern warfare is now passing to the allies.

Eye witnesses from the front declare that the fighting around Dixmude is as furious as ever. The Germans have attacked again and again and positions have been won and lost many times but the advantage has remained with the allies. No less violent was the struggle south of Ypres between Wytschaete and Messines for command of the high road leading from Ypres to Arras and Little. This road is now in possession of the allies.

Now or never is the time for the Germans to bring up reserves to make a decisive effort to win through. In the opinion of military experts, according to prisoners taken recently, however, while there is no lack of men there is a great dearth of officers, large numbers having been sent to the Russian front where the need of them is greater to make up staffs for the reserves corps opposing the ever-growing Russian army. The German efforts to pass Arras and break through to the coast by way of the hill country of Artois continue but with less success.

The army formerly commanded by the German crown prince east of the Argonne region has resumed its attempt to force a passage across the forest to join the army on the other side. The French, however, retain command of the only roads across this difficult region and all attacks though made with great determination have failed to shake the French positions.

Interest begins Saturday, Nov. 7 at the Central Savings bank.

German Liner Cecelie Makes Trip From Bar Harbor, Me., in 12 Hours — 600 Men Interned Aboard, of Whom 90 per cent Would Gladly go to Front

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Conveyed by torpedo boat destroyers the $4,500,000 North German Lloyd liner Kronprinzessin Cecelie, Capt. Charles Polack, arrived in Boston from Bar Harbor, Me., yesterday, after a 12-hour run. The passage was without incident, although the steamship at times was far beyond the three-mile limit.

Capt. Polack had plenty of speed in reserve but was forced to steam not faster than 16 miles an hour because one of the destroyers was short of fuel and therefore unable to log much better than her normal cruising gait. There was little need of unusual precaution in transferring the liner to winter quarters here. It would appear, nations at war with Germany having signified their disinterest.

At no time during the trip was observation less than 10 miles, therefore the Kronprinzessin Cecelie might have dodged into safety had a hostile craft put in an appearance. Strict watch naturally was maintained and the liner's commander never left the navigating bridge till his ship had been anchored on a line between Long Island and Deer Island and less than four miles below the city wharves.

With propeller barely turning, the liner crept between the German steamships Ockenfels and Kohn, where a berth had been assigned for the vessel by Harbor Master Hild calculated to give a swinging radius of at least 2500 feet.

Safe Anchorage Chosen

This was accomplished by moving the German steamships Wilhelm and Kohn, also a number of coal barges that had anchored in the vicinity, for the four-funnelled 25,650-tonner needs a considerable area in which to range. Particular attention was given the nature of the bottom, soundings being taken to prove that the harbor bed was not strewed with landmines, might puncture the hull in event of dragging in a gale. The anchorage selected shows more than 30 feet at low tide and the ship's draft is 25 feet, her trim being several feet lighter than when stored for transatlantic service.

United States Marshal Murchie at once went aboard from the revenue cutter Winthamston to confer with Capt. Polack relative to matters in connection with the liner suit pending against the ship on account of her alleged failure to deliver millions in specie taken aboard at New York and brought back to this country when the commander abandoned his passage to Germany on July 25 and turned back. It was arranged that keepers alternate and small boats of the liner will serve as a ferry.

Happy Days at Bar Harbor

"I went fishing, lobstering and sailing at Bar Harbor and had lots of sport," explained the Cecelie's commander, alluding to the request that his ship be kept at Mt. Desert. "Only a day or two ago we caught 200 pounds of fish found lobsters in traps, drank real milk and sailed to our hearts' content. Those fish are being served in the officers' mess tonight, and they are sweet to the very bone. Bar Harbor may be great as a summer resort, but the fish they grow in Frenchman's bay are surpassing fine."

"Yes, there are 600 men aboard the Kronprinzessin Cecelie and I am certain that 90 per cent would stay for Germany tomorrow if there was any way to let her. I would like to go myself if the ship was all right. Anyhow, I have other duties at present and must make the most of circumstances as I find them. Visitors are welcomed at 25 cents apiece for the Red Cross."

"Last time I was in Boston was way back in 1884 in the German bark Prudentia, which I commanded."

"Now I shall look up old acquaintances, stroll down to Lewis wharf and try to find my way on some of the old streets that I recall, but an afraid I cannot locate. We shall send a boat to Winston twice a day for the mails by way of the landing at Point Shirley and the Winthrop street car and steam line."

Interning Is Expensive

The Kronprinzessin Cecelie resplendent in royal suits and $2000 per trip rooms, requires about 20 tons of water a week and her boilers, at low pressure, consume many tons of fuel each 24 hours. The husky crew demand beef and the steward's department meets the requirement to the tune of about 40,000 pounds of meat each month. The grocery bill is enormous, too. Supplies while the liner was at Bar Harbor came mainly from New York. Now Boston merchants will have the contracts.

SALEM FUND DECISION

JUDGE ADVOCATE GEN. CROWDER AWARDS INFORMATION ON SINGLE POINT BEFORE RULING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Hope was expressed yesterday by Brig. Gen. Crowder, judge advocate general of the war department, that he would be able to give a decision today in regard to the relief fund of $200,000 appropriated by congress for the sufferers by the great fire at Salem.

There is only one point to be settled before I can decide on the availability of the fund or the purposes to which it should be devoted," said Gen. Crowder, "and I wrote yesterday for information under that head. As soon as I receive an answer, which may be tomorrow, I shall be able to speak on the subject."

MAD DOG IN WESTBORO

BOSTON TERRIER BITES TWO PERSONS—ONE OF THE VICTIMS TO TAKE PASTEUR TREATMENT

WESTBORO, Nov. 7.—Alarm is felt by Westboro people as the result of a report made to the board of health Thursday that two persons had been bitten by a Boston terrier owned by John Scott of East Main street. The animal has disappeared.

Waldo H. Warren, one of those bitten, is to take the Pasteur treatment. Dr. C. H. Reed is anxious to get the dog in order that the head may be examined to ascertain whether the animal was diseased.

The animal, it is said, bit other dogs. Study mandolla, banjo with Hovey.

FEATURES FOR MONDAY

Women's Page Will Have Fashion Cuts and News of the Styles, etc.—Lady Lookabout Has Bright Observations

The women's page of The Sun will appear in all editions on Monday. This is a feature which has been arranged so as to appeal to the women and every picture and every bit of reading matter is carefully selected. The result is an excellent fashion feature with many home suggestions, etc. Home dressmakers of this city are especially interested in this weekly feature. The Sun and are using the fashion cuts as guides in making garments. Local merchants have special advertisements on this page in which the ladies will find many pleasing offerings. The advertisements should be read as well as the news.

Lady Lookabout has an interesting article dealing with the suffrage movement and speaks of the results of the recent elections in this connection. She also tells in an interesting way the adventures of a young woman motorist who had a "blow out," and who had a most trying experience. Every one should read "Lady Lookabout" Monday.

Some very good kitchen hints, together with some valuable receipts are contributed by "The Cook," in "What the Cook Says," which will be found in Monday's Sun. Among the receipts is one for whole wheat bread. Cook gives other excellent suggestions.

A girl may make her own egg shampoo if she will but follow the directions which will be found Monday in "What Hortense Told Me." Detailed information regarding this hair treatment is given. Hortense also gives in the girls' other beauty hints, including a discussion of manicuring, skin treatment, etc.

"How to Sleep," describing the proper position for sleeping, etc., etc., is discussed in "The Rabbit's Foot." "The French Maid" will describe for the readers the luxurious boudoir, telling how the bedrooms may be fitted up for the winter.

Little Ned lost his hat in a peculiar manner while enjoying a trip on the steam cars. His experience was an odd one and is told in "Ned's Hat," a Sleepytime Tale.

If your teeth trouble you, see Dr. Gagnon, 166 Merrimack street.

ARREST DOCTOR

Charged With Alleged Murder of Mildred Sullivan

HOULTON, Me., Nov. 7.—Dr. Lionel Dudley of Presque Isle was arrested at a local hotel today, charged with the alleged murder of Mildred Sullivan, the young Houlton girl who has been missing since Sept. 4.

Dr. Dudley, together with Miss Kate O. Michael of Wallingford, a nurse, have been awaiting action by the grand jury the latter part of this month on the charge of performing an illegal operation upon Miss Sullivan, who was last seen alive at Presque Isle, where she went ostensibly to attend the county fair. Miss Alice Pellerier of Presque Isle was held as an alleged accessory after the fact. They were arrested in Boston late in September at the request of the Houlton county authorities and brought here.

The authorities absolutely refused to explain why the arrest had been made or give an intimation of any development that necessitated taking Dr. Dudley into custody on the new and more serious charge.

The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff Martin Lawlis, who has been working on the case for weeks and who was named in the warrant as plaintiff. The warrant charges that the girl was murdered on Sept. 4, the day of her disappearance at Presque Isle.

Since early in September, the authorities and relatives of the 17-year-old girl have thoroughly searched the county for some trace of her or of her body. Several promising clues have been found from time to time, but they apparently did not develop into anything tangible.

Asked if the body had been found or if the arrest was made on the strength of a confession by some one connected with the case, the officials declined to throw any light on the mystery. It was considered significant, however, that the date of her alleged murder was definitely fixed in the warrant.

Dr. Dudley came here from his home last night for the purpose of consulting his counsel, who are preparing for his defense in the event that the grand jury should find an indictment against him.

When you have any real estate to sell, consult J. F. Donohoe, Donovan bldg., telephone.

HARVARD 20 - PRINCETON 0

MAHAN STAR OF TODAY'S GAME AT CAMBRIDGE

Third Edition

RUSSIAN FORCES ARE ATTACKING GERMANS

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 7.—Champion-ship football reached here today in the contest between Harvard and Princeton in the stadium. Two years ago Harvard won from Princeton for the first time in 23 years. Last year, Harvard won again when Brickley kicked a field goal for the only score of the game. The Princeton players today were bent on avenging these defeats and adding another to their long series of victories since the first meeting of the two colleges in 1877.

Harvard was a slight favorite in the betting but a large body of Princeton backers arrived today and the odds dwindled to nearly even money.

Both teams spent last night several miles away from today's scene of action. The Harvard players rested at the Country club in Brookline and the Princeton men at Auburndale.

Although suffering throughout the season with pulled tendons, Eddie Mahan, left halfback for the Harvard eleven, was expected to play in his usual position. Before the game the strained muscles were subjected to a vigorous massage by the Harvard trainer.

The weather was ideal. There was little wind and a typical Indian summer sky. The turf was dry and springy. The lineup:

Princeton
Highley, ls.
McLean, lt.
Spink, lg.
Gener, c.
E. Trenkman, rg.
Ballin, rt.
Brown, re.
Ames, qb.
Glyck, lb.
Tibbot, rh.
Driggs, fb.

The gridiron was dry and fast although the heavy turf had been worn away by practice and play until the field along its edges was brown instead of the traditional green.

The crowds were unusually slow in arriving at the stadium. During the final 30 minutes before the kickoff the thousands poured out of the subway, trolley and motor cars and filed into the stadium.

The Harvard squad was first on the field, the backs practicing passing, catching and kicking the ball. The players were soon followed by the Harvard cheering squad, headed by the usual brass band and when the Princeton team and subs jogged into the arena and the rival cheering contingents began their regular inter-change of songs and yells it was evident that the stadium would be filled almost to the capacity.

Both teams were on the field promptly and after some practice both captains met to toss the coin.

A light wind blew up when play was about to start.

Harvard won the toss and elected to defend the west goal.

FIRST PERIOD

Driggs kicked off to Logan on Harvard's 20 yard line. The ball was run back 15 yards. After a rush with slight gain Harvard kicked to Princeton's 30 yard line. Princeton immediately kicked to Harvard's 45 yard line. Harvard retaliated by kicking on the first down to Princeton's 20 yard line. After one rush Princeton kicked and Logan fumbled in the middle of the field. Princeton recovered the ball. On the first rush Driggs was thrown for a loss of a yard. Glyck could not gain through center. Driggs punted to Logan on Harvard's 15 yard line. There was no runback. Bradlee made two yards through center. Mahan kicked on the ball. On the first down the pass was poor and Harvard got the ball on Princeton's 45 yard line. Francke made six yards through center. On the second rush he added another yard. There was a Harvard fumble but Mahan snapped up the ball and ran to the 30 yard line for a first down. Francke could not gain and Logan made one yard. Mahan plunged through two yards. Mahan dropped back to the 30 yard line for a goal from the field. He missed it by five yards. Princeton put the ball in play on the 20 yard line. Driggs punted out of bounds on Princeton's 30 yard line, where it was Harvard's ball. Francke fired through center for four yards. He made a yard more on another plunge through center. Mahan made a first down on Princeton's 20 yard line. Two plunges into the Princeton's line by Mahan were followed by a goal from the field by the same player. It was a perfect kick.

On the kickoff Hardwick took the ball but fumbled. On the first down Driggs fumbled and the ball went to Harvard. There were two more fumbles and an exchange of kicks. Harvard captured the ball on their 25 yard line. Bradlee made six yards through center. Francke could not gain. Mahan punted to Ames on Princeton's 30 yard line. After exchanging kicks it was Princeton's ball on their own 20 yard line. Driggs kicked to Mahan on Harvard's 40 yard line. He was thrown without gain. On the first down Harwick dashed around right end for 19 yards. This was the longest run so far of the game. Mahan shot through for three yards. On a fake, Francke made six yards more. Score end of first period: Harvard 3, Princeton 0.

SECOND PERIOD

The second period started with the ball on Harvard's 33 yard line. Bradlee made three yards. Then Harvard tried a forward pass, which was intercepted. Mahan dropped back but missed a goal from the field from the 38 yard line, the ball being partially blocked. Princeton put the ball in play and kicked to Mahan, who caught it on the 30 yard line, running it back to midfield. Bradlee made three yards on the first rush and two on the second through center. Another Harvard forward pass failed. Mahan immediately kicked out of bounds on Princeton's 30 yard line. Driggs kicked to Logan on Harvard's 35 yard line. The ball was run back to the middle of the field. Mahan kicked on the first down to Princeton's seven yard line. Nobody touched the ball. The players lined up with the ball on the ground. Driggs kicked to Logan on Princeton's 35 yard line where there was a fair catch. Mahan could not gain in a plunge at center. Francke on a delayed pass carried the ball to Princeton's 23 yard line for a first down. Mahan struck the center for a five yard gain. Bradlee carried the ball to Princeton's 14 yard line. Francke made a first down on Princeton's 13 yard line. Francke drove through two yards. Mahan added another. The ball was on Princeton's ten yard line, nearly in front of the goal posts. Dropping back to the 17 yard line, the red-haired Mahan dropped his second goal from the field with the ease of a Brickley.

Driggs kicked off to Francke on Harvard's 10 yard line. The ball was run back to the 22 yard line. On the first down Harvard skirted Princeton's right end for 15 yards. Francke could not gain through center. Bradlee made 12 yards through center. He lost his sweater in his efforts. It was Harvard's ball on Princeton's 33 yard line for a first down. Bradlee rolled over the Princeton line for five yards. Hardwick made a first down on Princeton's 18 yard line. Francke struggled through to the 18 yard line. Bradlee added two more yards. On a fake goal from the field Logan made a first down on Princeton's three yard line. On the first play Francke made a yard. Bradlee carried it to the one yard line for the third down. On the third down Bradlee went through for the first touchdown. Princeton tried to check the play but the big Harvard halfback found a hole. Hardwick kicked an easy goal and Princeton once more lined up for a kickoff. Hardwick caught the ball on Harvard's five yard line and ran it back 15 yards. Hardwick made three yards around right end. Harvard punted out of bounds in the center of the field, where it was Princeton's ball. Princeton tried one of their open formations. It was a forward pass that failed.

Another open formation by Princeton directed a forward pass, which failed. Princeton then tried an on-side kick that Mahan punted down on Harvard's 30 yard line and ran back six yards.

On the first down Bradlee fumbled twice but recovered and gained two yards. In trying Princeton's right end Mahan lost two yards and then kicked to Tibbot on Princeton's 21 yard line. He was thrown without gain. Driggs kicked to Logan on Harvard's 30 yard line. The ball was run back five yards. Coolidge made seven yards. Francke made a yard through center. Mahan punted to Princeton's ten yard line. Princeton ran the ball back 15 yards where the period ended.

Score end of second period: Harvard 13, Princeton 0.

Summary of First Half
During the first half of the game Princeton was both outplayed and out-generaled by Harvard. Excepting for a moment when the Tigers recovered a fumbled ball in Harvard's territory during the first period they never threatened the Crimson goal line.

Using the advantage of the wind at their back, the Cambridge team went into the lead with a field goal from the toe of Eddie Mahan and rapidly added additional points through the plunges and field goal kicking. The Princetonians were completely bewildered by the concealed ball attacks which the Harvard backs repeatedly used at the outset of their charges. The forward line working in perfect harmony opened many holes or boxed ends which permitted the runner a clear field into the secondary defense. The early portion of the half was marred by continual fumbling in which both teams were equally guilty of careless handling of the pigskin.

Harvard pursued tactics somewhat similar to those of last year of attempting field goals when within striking distance of Princeton's line yet the team showed it had a scoring punch once it had gained a lead which warranted taking the chances of holding the ball for play on the fourth down.

Both Francke and Mahan outpunted Driggs but this advantage was nullified by the speed with which the Princeton ends came down the field under kicks. The tackling was hard by both sides but that of the Harvard players was cleaner than that of the Tigers.

During the 30 minutes of play Harvard made nine first downs to Princeton's none; punted nine times to Princeton's 13; tried four field goals, of which two scored, to Princeton's none; and two forward passes, both of which were grounded, to Princeton's two, with similar results. Neither team was penalized.

THIRD PERIOD

At the opening of the third period, Law went in for Driggs and F. Trenkman for Glyck. It was Harvard's kickoff. Smith took Hardwick's place at Harvard's right end. Mahan kicked off to Law on Princeton's five yard line. Law ran it back 22 yards. Law punted on the first down to Logan, who muffed it and it was Princeton's ball on Harvard's 38 yard line. Tibbot failed to gain around left end. Trenkman made four yards through center. On a lateral pass, Ames to Law, there was no gain. Law tried a goal from the field from the 40 yard line. The ball fell short. Logan caught it and ran it back to the 30 yard line. Mahan made three yards through center. He then kicked to Tibbot. There was a fumble on Princeton's 33 yard line but Princeton recovered the ball. Law immediately kicked to Mahan on Harvard's 20 yard line. The ball was run back nine yards. Smith could not gain. Mahan immediately punted to Princeton's 28 yard line where it was Princeton's ball. Ames could not gain round left end. Law kicked to Mahan, who caught the ball on Harvard's 15 yard line and ran it back to mid field. Mahan kicked to Tibbot on the three yard line. The referee declared it a touchback and Princeton put the ball in play on the 20 yard line. Law kicked to Logan on Harvard's 45 yard line. Mahan's fair catch was interfered with and Princeton was penalized 15 yards.

It was Harvard's ball on Princeton's 40 yard line. Francke made four yards on the first rush and two more on the second. Mahan almost made a goal from the field from the 44 yard line. The ball missed the goalpost by a few feet. Law immediately kicked on his first down to Harvard's 32 yard line. On the first down Mahan plunged through for four yards. He then kicked to Ames on Princeton's 15 yard line. The ball was run back ten yards. Westen was injured. The big guard recovered quickly. Law kicked and the ball was partially blocked. Bradlee made three yards. Francke squirmed through for four yards. Mahan tried a forward pass to Smith but it failed. Mahan failed in an effort to drop another goal from the field from the 46 yard line. Law kicked to Mahan on Harvard's 10 yard line. The ball was run back four yards. Smith made four yards around Princeton's left end. Mahan then plunged through for eight yards more. It was the first down. Bradlee ran through a big hole in the Princeton's center to the Tigers' 25 yard line. Mahan gathered in three more. Francke carried the pigskin to Princeton's 20 yard line. Withington went in for Francke. Francke planted the ball for a first down on Princeton's 16 yard line. Score end third period: Harvard 12, Princeton 0.

FOURTH PERIOD

On a fake attempt for a goal from the field, Bradlee carried the ball to Princeton's three yard line for a first down. Francke gained a scant yard. On the third down, Francke carried the ball to within a foot of Princeton's goal line. Hardwick went in for Mahan. On the first rush in the fourth period Hardwick carried the ball over. Hardwick kicked the goal. Score: Harvard 20, Princeton 0. At this point both teams were greatly altered by subs.

Law kicked off for Princeton. The ball was run back 15 yards. On the first rush King, who had replaced Francke, made eight yards. Harvard was offside and lost five yards on the first down. King added four yards through center and then gathered in three more through the same place. Princeton's ball through center was followed by a punt to Princeton's 30 yard line.

There was a mixup and the ball was carried back to the 26 yard line. Whitney immediately kicked to Ames on Princeton's 40 yard line. The ball was run back four yards.

Ames tried a fake formation. Ames made eight yards. Ames threw a forward pass which Tibbot muffed. It was claimed the pass was interfered with and it was Princeton's ball in midfield. Ames tried Harvard's end for no gain.

Princeton tried an on-side kick which King caught on Harvard's 34 yard line. Whitney gained four yards inside of tackle and then added four more.

Whitney then kicked short to the center of the field, where it was Princeton's ball. Ames hurried the ball far down the field on an attempted forward pass.

The ball was brought back but time was called before it was put into play again. Final score: Harvard 20, Princeton 0.

Final scores: Holy Cross 0, Carleton 0. Yale 14, Brown 6. West Point 21, Fordham 0.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 7.—Russian forces are attacking the German position at Sierrades on the Warthe in Russian Poland, southeast of Kalisz and about 15 miles east of the German border, according to the information reaching here today. This engagement marks the beginning of the Russian advance against the last fortified German position on Russian soil. The Germans are heavily entrenched.

PRINCIPAL FEATURES OF TODAY'S EUROPEAN WAR NEWS IN BRIEF FORM
Pending decisive developments on any of the European fields of battle the fall of Tsing Tau held first place in the attention of military men today. Official reports from Tokyo show that it was not without desperate resistance that the German garrison, vastly outnumbered by British and Japanese, gave up the fight. For days the German forces had been subjected to a withering fire from land and sea. At last the central fort fell before the impetuous attack of the Japanese. Continued to page nine

UNKNOWN MAN FOUND

An unknown man was found lying on the sidewalk, near the corner of Agawam and Lawrence streets, about 4 o'clock this afternoon. He was unconscious and persons who found him were unable to secure any information concerning his identity. The ambulance was called and he was removed to the hospital. It is thought that the man was stricken with a shock.

BRUSH FIRE

An alarm from box 215 at 4 o'clock this afternoon summoned a portion of the fire department to Rogers street, where a brush fire was in progress near the Concord river.

J. J. DALTON TAKES OUT PAPERS

Among the last to take out nomination papers for commissioner was John J. Dalton of Nesmith street. Mr. Dalton was formerly employed by the Boston & Maine railroad but an accident a few years ago, incapacitating him from steady employment, he gave up his position and has since been successful in professional musical circles.

WOODEN BLEACHERS CONDEMNED

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—The wooden bleachers at the Harvard stadium and Fenway park have been condemned by the building commissioner as unsafe and he has ordered them replaced by metal or concrete structures before next season, it was announced today.

MIRROR FIRES

A brick brush fire in a field next to 156 Waverly avenue gave the firemen of Engine 4 short battle this afternoon. No damage.

At 2:30 o'clock Hose 10 was called to Fourth avenue where a clump of bushes was burning. The fire fighters quickly extinguished the flames with no damage resulting.

SIX YOUTHS WHO TRAVEL BY FREIGHT ARRESTED

Six young men, ranging in ages from 15 to 21, were lined up in the local court this morning for unlawfully walking the railroad tracks of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, early last evening. Each pleaded guilty and after Judge Eli-right learned the circumstances of their cases he placed the entire group in the care of Probation Officer Statery. The youths gave their names and addresses as follows: William Diney, 100 Central street; John A. Crowley, 3 Fulton avenue.

CANDIDATES FILE PAPERS

The time for the filing of nomination papers for alderman or school board expired at 5 o'clock this evening, and all candidates, it was stated at city hall, had filed their papers.

The last to take out papers for alderman was Thomas H. Kelley of 70 Rolfe street, and, for school committee, James W. McKenna of 757 Bridge street.

LONDON LONE SOCIALIST

MEYER LONDON

Meyer London has awakened to fame. Almost overnight he finds himself pushed into the spot light of publicity. And it is very likely that he will remain there for the next two years. Who is Meyer London, you ask. He is the one lone socialist congressman who will sit in the next congress. He was elected from the Twelfth district of New York, defeating a democratic congressman there after a hot fight at the recent election. London now has a chance to make himself a national laughing stock or embazon a name that will help his party and make himself respected and honored.

Y. M. C. A. SPORTS

The results of the senior weekly gym-athletic competition at the Y. M. C. A. last evening were as follows:
 Buck: P. H. Knight, first, 10 points; J. Knight, second, 6 points; A. Trudeau, third, 67 points; J. Coulthard, fourth, 67 points.
 Standing broad jump: G. Waterman, first; H. Dakis, second; A. Trudeau, third; P. H. Knight, fourth. Distance 9 feet, 3 1/2 inches.
 Two lay runs: P. H. Knight, first; Dickson, second; A. Trudeau, third; H. Harris, fourth. Time, 15 1/2 seconds.
 Twenty-seven men competed last evening which shows that the series of events that will be held until the middle of December, will be well worth seeing.
 On Friday evening, Nov. 13, the events will be: 5 lap run, 12 pound shot put, high horizontal bar. The officials for last night's meet were: Judges of athletic events, H. Felch and P. Magee; judge of gymnastics and time, M. F. Purdy.

THE SPELLBINDER

As one looks over the list of the candidates who have taken out nomination papers for municipal offices, he is forcibly reminded of Pope's celebrated couplet:
 "Hope springs eternal in the human breast;
 Man never is, but always to be blest."

Some of them apparently, cannot see the handwriting on the ballot and with their forces undiminished by death and unrecruited by birth or conversion, annually help to swell the list of "also rans." This year's campaign will have one novel feature, the attempt of a candidate to "come back" as in the case of Andrew E. Barrett, who after one term was defeated, now aspires to the second term which he lost by a narrow margin. Another interesting feature will be the attempt of a candidate who has shown the required strength in the school board field to transfer that strength to the aldermanic pasture, as in the case of Abel R. Campbell. And there will be some new ones. The story is being told about one candidate who, as soon as it became known that he was to run for political office, was promptly discharged by the corporation by which he had been employed for years. The corporation might have waited until after the primaries, but corporations have no feelings, except when their tax-bills are high and they go before the assessors and weepfully apply for an abatement.

Up to this writing there has been no great demand for nomination papers on the part of school board candidates though there will be a sufficient number of candidates to fill the required six nominations. Mrs. Marion Sproule, who is possessed of strong socialist tendencies, politically, has again taken out papers. Last year Mrs. Sproule received 274 votes in the primaries while the successful one received over 4000 each. Her best ward was ward 3 where she received 405 votes while her lowest received 158. As a sister-suffragist one might expect that Mrs. Sproule will have two staunch supporters in "As She Sees It" and "Lady Lookabout," though both may pass her up on account of her socialist views.

It may be of interest to publish the vote received in last year's primaries by the candidates who are trying again this year. Their vote was as follows:

Brennan a Good Loser

Representative John W. Brennan lost no time in showing that he was a good loser, for when the result became known he did not wait to send a letter of congratulation to his successful opponent, but sought him out and congratulated him personally. Though defeated, Representative Brennan feels gratified at the handsome vote given him and desires to thank the voters of ward 1 and Dracut for their support. Representative Brennan will be heard from later when conditions will be more propitious.

Accidents Will Happen

Just like those who kick against the charter, when it's the men elected to office that are at fault, some are now kicking against the idea of a traffic squad because a woman was knocked down by a wagon this second day that the new squad was at work. Accidents will happen even with the best regulated of traffic squads on the job.

The Mayor Was Right

At the dedication of the Harrisonia hotel, a few evenings ago, Toastmaster Hennessy gave Mayor Murphy a very flattering introduction and his Honor immediately stated that he knew that the toastmaster's remarks would not appear in "The Spellbinder" column. His Honor was perfectly right, for it would be as poor taste to report a hotel dedication in the political column, as it was to talk politics at a hotel dedication.

Clerk of Police Court

Papers are out asking Gov. Walsh to reappoint James F. Savage, clerk of the Lowell police court, as his term will expire with the year. Report has it that there is a democratic candidate in the field for the position which Mr. Savage has held for a number of years.

One on the Bank Men

The commissioner of finance in speaking at the Hamilton mills a few days ago appropriated the "crook" due the city council as a whole, to him self, when he said: "When the war panic came on a short time ago I financed the city so that you men could be kept at work."

The commissioner evidently referred to the attempt of the municipal council to use the perpetual care funds by withdrawing $80,000 from the local banks at one time, a proceeding, which had it become public at the time would have caused the greatest and most disastrous run on the banks of Lowell, that the city has ever known, and from which, the local bank men haven't as yet completely recovered. After the experience that Lowell has passed through with the Traders bank, imagine what would have happened had it become known that the city itself was withdrawing all its trust funds at one time, from practically every savings bank in Lowell.

Principal Perkins Becomes a Voter

About the same time that Dr. John H. Lambert, the school-committeeman whose long suit to experience as qualification for school principal, visited the city clerk's office to take out nomination papers for a second term, Mr. Paul Perkins, the recently-elected principal of the Green school visited the office of the registrars of voters and became a registered voter of the city of Lowell, and will cast his first vote at the coming city primaries, when undoubtedly he will vote for Dr. Lambert. In the old days it was customary to become a voter first and then go after a city job, but that qualification doesn't go any longer. When Chris. J. Hagen was a candidate for the permanent principality of the Edison school, having served one year as a temporary principal, Dr. Lambert refused to vote for him, as he decried a candidate with experience for such an important position. There was no hesitation, however, over the election of Mr. Perkins, whose occupation outside of his college days as a student, was that of a motorman on the street cars during vacation, which showed that he probably has the right kind of stuff in him, if not overburdened with experience as an educator. Dr. Lambert will probably seek a reelection on the ground that he has had experience as a member of the school board for one term, even as did Mr. Hagen seek his permanent appointment after one term of successful experience. The new principal of the Green school is 23 years of age.

Who Said "Sore-Head?"

Under the headline, "The Faithful Folk," the Courier-Citizen lamented editorially, as follows:

"Lowell democrats obediently went and voted for Walsh, despite his studied disregard of them. Apparently the way to make Lowell democrats love him is to club them unmercifully hard. For a city that had done so much for Mr. Walsh and had given him such handsome support a year ago, Lowell got about as unkind a cut all through the year as it was possible to get. But it turned up again at the scratch and dutifully increased the testimony of its love and affection for the governor by adding a few more whacks, while the democracy showed its appreciation by adding a few more hundred to his plurality. Perhaps this year the governor will do more for these devoted adherents whom no frost can repel."

Yes, ungrammatically but emphatically, they went and done it, with studied disregard of the Courier-Citizen's tremendous efforts to set them right. Apparently the way to make Lowell democrats love their candidate is to have the Courier-Citizen club him unmercifully hard. For a paper that has done so much for Lowell democrats, the Courier-Citizen got about as unkind a cut as it was possible to get. After whacking him consistently last year, it turned up again at the scratch and dutifully increased the testimony of its love and affection for the governor by adding a few more whacks, while the democracy showed its appreciation by adding a few more hundred to his plurality.

The Financial Report

Section 36 of the city charter says that there "shall be printed monthly" a report of the receipts and expenditures of the government showing the city's financial condition. This hasn't been done though, whether it's because the municipal council didn't want to give too much publicity to the financial condition, or in its effort to live up to its name as an economical administration, it violated the charter to save a printing bill, is a question.

Candidate Dunn in Town

As soon as he had rested up after election night, Henry P. Dunn came to Lowell yesterday and spent the afternoon going among his friends in ward five and nine, to thank them personally for their support. Mr. Dunn is the most cheerful loser that the writer has run up against in a long time. Speaking of the election, Mr. Dunn said: "As soon as I became aware of the great slump of the progressive I knew that I was defeated and yet though defeated I feel proud of the vote I received. In ward six, Lynn, my home ward, I received the largest vote ever given a candidate in a local contest and ran 11 votes ahead of Governor Walsh. But it is my Lowell vote which I feel most grateful for. I came here a few weeks ago a total stranger and proceeded to make myself acquainted with the voters of wards five and nine. Following an exceptionally strong man like Senator Fisher I considered that if I did nearly as well as he in this city, I would be doing finely. But I received 48 votes more in wards five and nine than Senator Fisher did, while in the entire district I received 208 more votes than he did last year. That's certainly using a stranger well and that's why I ran up here today personally to thank my Lowell supporters. It was the progressive slump that elected the republican."

Time for Christening

It's about time that the city automobile used by Mr. Gardner, of the water department was formally christened for it is several months old and as yet has not been lettered with the name of the city and the department to which it belongs, as is required by ordinance. Everybody knows of course that the delay in complying with the ordinance is not due to any desire on the part of Mr. Gardner to have a few joy rides, for he's not that kind of a city official.

Inefficient Precinct Officers

The delays in counting the ballots in some of the precincts on state election night have caused much comment and the story is now around that some of the precinct officers couldn't count toothpicks, not to speak of ballots. In some cases one or two men it is said, had to do all the work by reason of the fact that the others weren't qualified to do it.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

OPERA HOUSE

Miss Edith Storey, the Vitaphone motion picture star, who is portraying Viola Allen's part of Glory Quale in "The Christian," the famous story by Hall Caine, the pictureized version of which will be presented at the Lowell Opera House for one week beginning Monday, Nov. 9, has much to say relative to the values of acting in the drama and in pictures. Miss Storey is well qualified to speak since she has been called "The Bernhardt of the Screen," and prior to her entrance into pictures she was an actress on the stage.

According to Miss Storey, playing such a role as that of Viola in "The Christian" in pictures is infinitely harder than doing the same thing in the drama. Miss Storey's contention is that the photograph actress is deprived of her power of speech and anyone who stops for a moment to consider, will realize what difficulty they would have if they were asked to convey all of their meanings without using a word.

In the photo-play Miss Storey is seen at her best, even though she has a splendid elocutionary delivery. But on the screen this ability is useless, she shows every motion and runs the gamut of feeling merely by facial expression and gestures. She has a screen where the conversation with another, convey all of her meanings, and not make a sound.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The Primrose Four, positively the world's most striking heavy-weight quartet, will be the feature act on the bill at the B. F. Keith theatre, next week. Four male singers whose aggregate weight is 1000 will warble out all of the very latest songs, and some of the old melodies. "One thousand pounds of harmony" is guaranteed by those who see and hear this wholly unusual quartet, and while the lyrics may not bear very heavy on the scales it is a surety that the four singers will put the indicator several figures over the 1000-pound mark.

Conley and Webb will come to town with their rapid-fire melody of singing, comedy, stunning stage effects, music and beautiful raiment. Mr. Conley is the pianist of the duo, and it is he who does the singing. Time was when these two were content to do a so-called "straight" act in vaudeville. Then there was no demand for variety. But now, by the exigencies created by entertainment lovers, particularly lovers of vaudeville, they are forced to purvey several quite distinctive lines of entertainment. The act has a wholly novel finish to it. There is a most realistic cyclone, with comedy attachments. Conley and Webb are two of the most versatile players appearing in vaudeville, and they are bound to prove real pleasures.

Jack Kennedy & Co. will produce the downright "fascinating" playlet called "The Flareback." It is built upon a wholly unusual theme, and will cause no end of talk. There are inclusive lines in it, and some most revealing situations. Mr. Kennedy is well known as an actor, and his supporting company is all that could be desired. Special scenery will add much to the effectiveness of this act.

Dale and Boyle held out one of the surprises of the bill. They are singers and dancers, with plenty of up-to-the-minute stuff, but their surprise comes at the end of their act. About everybody will sit up and take notice of them.

Willbur Sweatman is the man who plays two clarinets at the same time, and who also delivers over a lot of funny stuff. He is an entertainer who is eagerly sought because of the polish of his work. No one knows better how to suit the tastes of an audience than he.

The Seelins offer a combination of masculine agility and strength, feminine beauty and sweetness, gymnastics and singing. Harry Seebach is a champion bar pumper. He has a rare assortment of medals which have been awarded him for his skill. The exhibition of bag punching he presents is lightning and amazing. The act is materially helped by pretty Harriet Seebach who sings, and who assists her partner in his gymnastic work.

Julia Gonzales is new to this section of the country, in fact Julia hasn't long been out of her native Havana. She is booked as the "Cuban Physical Culture Girl" and is said to have an act which is most attractive. In addition to these acts the Hearst-Selig News Pictorial will show a lot of new views taken in Europe as well as in this country.

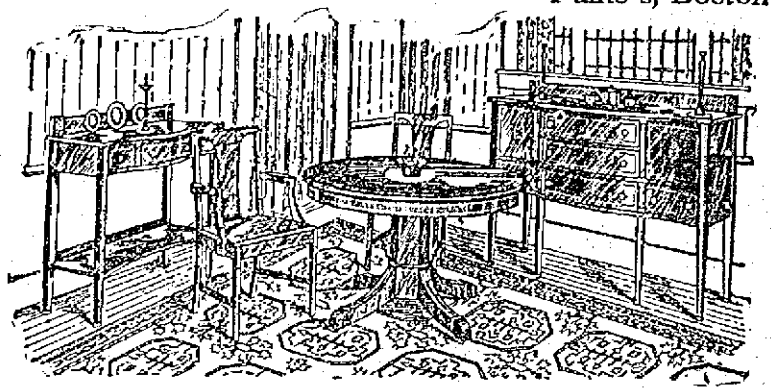

It is well to secure tickets in advance if possible, as oftentimes the most desirable ones have been taken. The acts will arrive at the theatre, Phone 25.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

It is a well known fact that when George M. Cohan decided to retire from the stage, he set about writing a play in which he should say good-bye to the public. This play was "Broadway Jones," and it was but a natural result that Mr. Cohan should throw his entire self into making this the crowning effort of his career. Events proved it to be the best he had done in play writing as well as in dramatic achievement. "Broadway Jones" was accepted as the most entertaining comedy he had ever written. It will be produced the coming week by the stock company at the Merrimack Square theatre, and as will be seen next week, Mr. Cohan is far from the very beginning had in mind this wonderful play production for stock.

There is a character in "Broadway Jones" that is of vast interest to those familiar with it. This is the character of the wealthy widow. This good many persons familiar with Manhattan life know that this widow exists in real life, and is a most spectacular figure in the existence of New York. The story told, is decidedly Cohanesque. It is one of those simple, straight away stories that increases the interest till the end. It is a comedy of the sort that keeps an audience in good humor. Jackson Jones is a native of Connecticut and a young millionaire. He was accepted as New York City to spend his money and not the fastest pace New York ever knew. He succeeds in getting separated from his money with amazing rapidity, and eventually becomes known as "Broadway Jones." Finally his friend Robert Wallace, steps in and saves him. Then the unexpected happens. Word comes that a millionaire uncle who owns a chewing gum factory, has died. Away goes Jones to Jonesville, Conn. to look over the inheritance. Arriving on the scene, he encounters a most unexpected person in a young girl Josie Richards, who for a long time has been the stenographer and confidential employe of his uncle. It is a most American play in every sense of the word and one which happily fits to a nicety the different members of the Merrimack Square Theatre Stock Co. "Broadway Jones" will be played by Sam A. Meharry, Miss Frances Shannon will be seen as "Josie Richards" and others who appear prominently in the cast are: Sadie Galloway, Dorothy Arde, Eugene Desmond, Wm. D. Freeman and May B. Hurst. Geo. MacEntee has looked after the staging of the play and an elaborate production, well worthy of local theatregoers patronage is promised.

FOOTBALL GAMES PIN BOYS BUSY

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Taking first rank as an important football game in the east today, the contest at Cambridge between Harvard and Princeton brings together teams of equality as far as experts are able to determine from an analysis of their previous games this season. Neither team has been defeated this fall, although each has been held to a tie. Since 1877 when Harvard and Princeton began playing intercollegiate football, the Tigers have won 13 games to Harvard's five, the Crimson having won the last two contests.

At New Haven Yale faces Brown today with every indication of a victory. Brown has not had a very successful season so far, having been defeated by Cornell and tied by Amherst. Reports from Providence, however, are to the effect that Brown's hard week of practice has served to strengthen the line and develop plays which are expected to furnish interesting problems for Yale to solve. Yale's game in its second invasion of the east today meets the cadets at West Point and if the westerners have predicted by their defeat by Yale the West Point team will have to play much better football than it has shown in previous games this season to stage off defeat.

Of the other important games in the east, the Pittsburgh and Washington and Jefferson contest should furnish one of the best played games of the entire season. Each team has made a strong showing, Pittsburgh having defeated Cornell, Carlisle, Navy and Georgetown, while Washington and Jefferson has a defeat over Yale to its credit. Cornell plays the Franklin and Marshall college team which defeated the University of Pennsylvania. Syracuse meets Rutgers and Dartmouth the strong Tufts team.

Principal games in the east today follow:

- Harvard vs. Princeton at Cambridge.
- Yale vs. Brown at New Haven.
- Dartmouth vs. Tufts at Hanover.
- Cornell vs. Franklin and Marshall at Ithaca.
- Army vs. Notre Dame at West Point.
- Navy vs. Fordham at Annapolis.
- Syracuse vs. Rutgers at Syracuse.
- Union vs. New York University at Schenectady.
- Lehigh vs. Pennsylvania State at South Bethlehem.
- Holy Cross vs. Carlisle at Manchester, N. H.
- Lowell High vs. Waltham High at Waltham.

MARIE ON COMPLEXIONS

"Look at my face Marie, whatever her good complexion has vanished, is the matter, my complexion looks as muddy as can be and, yes, there is a wrinkle, right there, near my eye," Marjorie began to sob as she dropped, full length, on to the couch in her aunt's sitting room.

"A girl your age should certainly take good care of her complexion," said Marie, "but don't despair. Let's find out what has done the damage and then repair it."

"You generally are a pretty healthy specimen, thanks to the many outdoor games and sports in which you have indulged. Your figure, then, is at least that of firm, strong, healthy rather than that of artificial sort which once was considered entirely beautiful."

"You walk well shod, dress your neck becomingly, and are always daintily gloved. Your hair you know full well how to manage; one item of your store of good looks which might be said to be the most important, since without it you would be much put to it to appear well should be a good complexion."

"You should start upon the season's gayer with smooth forehead, pink cheeks, a snowy chin and nose; and if you take just some little thought and care you will not lose any of this beauty, as the different festivities occur and are succeeded by others."

"Late hour, refreshments at all hours, a great amount of nervous excitement all do their work and some fine day our young lady awakes with a hurried start to the knowledge that her

SEIGEL MAY ESCAPE

COUNSEL PLAN TO FIGHT FOR TRIAL UNDER NEW MISDEMEANOR STATUTE

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Indicted on 14 separate charges of grand larceny, Henry Siegel, whose failure for months left many East Side depositors in his private bank destitute, may possibly be tried only on a misdemeanor charge. Five hundred dollars fine, with no jail penalty, is the minimum penalty in a misdemeanor case. The maximum penalty is a year's imprisonment in the penitentiary or a $500 fine, or both. By good behavior this year's term could be cut to 10 months.

Asst. Dist. Atty. William Dean Embree and Arthur Train, who will have charge of prosecuting the one-time "merchant prince," admitted yesterday they have every reason to believe the bitter legal battle has been laid out by Siegel's attorneys to have their millionaire client tried for a misdemeanor instead of grand larceny.

It is understood that John R. Stanchfield, who will defend Siegel, will invoke a comparatively new law, effective two years ago, which makes a charge of submitting a false statement of financial condition for the purpose of fraudulently obtaining money more a misdemeanor than a felony.

It is understood that Siegel's attorneys claim to have in his possession some of the Siegel books in which there are discrepancies of $1,000,000 or more. The prosecution also has witnesses who will swear that Siegel accepted deposits of from $1 to $100 from the struggling men and women of the East Side, who made up the bulk of his depositors, after he knew his bank to be insolvent.

Included in the evidence the prosecutor will submit is a letterhead to prove that Siegel borrowed $100,000 from his bank and deposited in another institution to his private account.

Siegel will go to trial on Monday in Genesee, Livingston county, on a charge of perjury he was granted. The work of rounding up witnesses for the state began yesterday.

E. T. MOSES SENTENCED

VICE PRESIDENT OF OXYPATH CO. GIVEN 18 MONTHS BY JUDGE MARTIN

RUTLAND, Vt., Nov. 7.—E. T. Moses, vice president of the Oxyphat Co., was sentenced to 18 months in the Rutland penitentiary by Judge Martin in a federal court here today. Moses, who is a resident of Buffalo, N. Y., was convicted yesterday of fraudulent use of the mails, the government charging that he circulated pamphlets making false curative claims for an apparatus manufactured by the Oxyphat company.

PROTESTS IN COURT

Conf. John A. Fish Interrupts Questioning of Witness at Trial on Charge of Burning Yacht

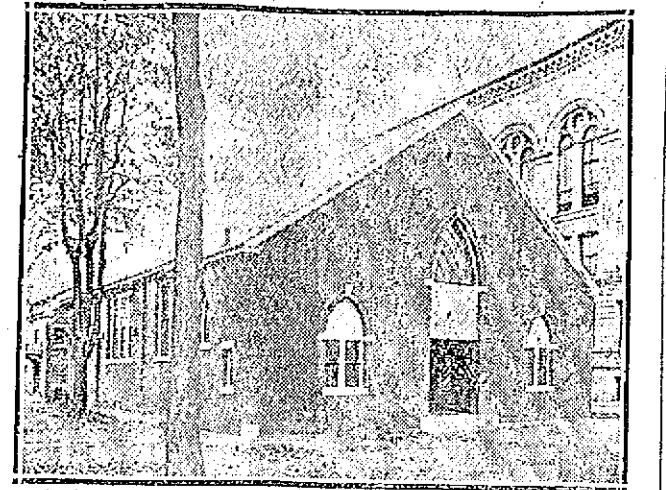

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Capt. John A. Fish, insurance broker and former British soldier, made a protest yesterday in the United States district court against the course taken by the prosecuting attorney in Captain Fish's case. The latter is on trial before Judge Morton and a jury on an indictment charging him of burning his schooner yacht Santa II to defraud insurance underwriters of $15,000 insurance which he had placed on the boat.

Ex-District Attorney French, who is trying the case for the government, was cross-examining Catherine Barnes, a cousin of the defendant, who was on the yacht at the time of the fire, in regard to deeds of certain property in Connecticut, which were executed by Fish.

The deeds stated the property was free and clear of insurance and the prosecuting attorney was questioning her closely about the deeds and property when Capt. Fish jumped up suddenly and declared "You've gone far. Do you accuse me of forgery as well as other charges?"

His counsel, ex-Asst. Dist. Atty. Lewis, apologized to the court for his client and made the latter sit down.

DAVID LAMAR ARRESTED EX-MAYOR MARSH DEAD

"WOLF OF WALL STREET" MUST STAND TRIAL NOW ON IMPERSONATION CHARGE

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—David Lamar, the "Wolf of Wall Street," who has been fighting removal to this city from the District of Columbia since his indictment in 1913 on a charge of impersonating a government officer with intent to defraud, was arrested in the corridor of an up-town hotel before William N. O'Leary, chief agent in New York of the department of justice, who permitted him to consult with counsel, and then ordered him locked up for the night.

The arrest was a surprise both to Lamar and to his captors. The latest reports to the department of justice agents here had indicated he was still in Washington and was likely to remain there until the supreme court for the district had passed upon his appeal.

Early this morning the agents were walking along the corridor just as Lamar went quickly through it. Glancing at him as he passed, the detectives recognized him as the much-wanted man and immediately seized him. Lamar told them he was making a secret flying trip to this city and had expected to be arrested in Philadelphia.

New that he is in this jurisdiction Lamar undoubtedly will have to plead to the indictment which charges him with violating section 32 of the United States criminal code by impersonating Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer in Pennsylvania. In order to defraud Lewis Cass Lydard, J. P. Morgan & Co. and the United States Steel corporation.

When he appeared before the senate investigating committee, Lamar admitted that he had impersonated Congressman Palmer and also Congressman Hiram of New York. He was arrested in September, 1913, on this charge and on a supplementary charge that in telephonic conversation he had the authority of Speaker Clark and Senator Stone of Missouri.

Removal proceedings resulted in his being ordered to New York for trial city to answer the indictment. Later, however, he raised the contention that neither a senator nor a congressman was a government officer. The contention caused more delay. Since that time Lamar has continued his flight.

OPENS NEW STORE

A new and up-to-date fruit, confectionery and cigar store with an attractive ice cream and soda parlor, was opened today by J. Danas, at 32 Gorham street, corner of Appleton street, at the stand formerly occupied by Moore's drug store. Mr. Danas is a well known local business man, having been the proprietor of a shoe shine parlor. The new store has been fittingly decorated and both the show windows and the interior displays form a most attractive arrangement. Mr. Danas will give a box of chocolates free to each customer today. He has a special line of home made candies, made at the store.

BLIND CHILDREN MINSTRELS

Pupils of Perkins Institution in Watertown Present Entertainment Got Up at Water's Notice

WATERTOWN, Nov. 7.—Pupils of the Perkins Institution for the Blind gave a minstrel show last evening in the large assembly hall of the institution, more than 200 persons attending. It was rather informal, having been gotten up at only a week's notice.

Jacob Wallackstein was interlocutor and Charles Gibson, Adria Salas, Peter J. Slamin, and Edwin C. Smith were emcees. The chorus included Herbert Iwenlin, Olin Robertson, Axel Dow, S. J. Mack, S. J. Spencer, Emil Schooner, Samuel Hayden, Charles Little, Harold Brooks and Malcolm Coble. Francis Mack and Herbert Iwenlin sang a duet and there was a whistling solo by Axel Dow. The orchestra was composed of members of the institution.

THAT DEFECTIVE CHILDREN BECOME NORMAL AFTER VISITS TO THE DENTIST IS TRUE.

The men who study juvenile delinquency and the causes of crime in general, have recently discovered that bad boys become good as soon as the holes in their teeth are filled. Truant officers and principals of schools assert that defective children become normal after a few visits to the dentist.

These latter statements have been received with incredulity by at least a part of the public and with scoffing from a few editors who are opposed to disease germ which with their full grown strength enter the system, attacking it at its weakest point and break down the health. Again persons with bad teeth cannot chew their food properly and it is not therefore properly digested. Malnutrition results, the blood is poisoned by disease germs and the organs cannot work in their usual healthy order. Stagnation or clogging is the result and physical degeneracy soon follows. This soon leads to mental and moral degeneracy.

The matter is so simple that any child can understand it. A hole in the tooth is due to decay. The animal matter of which the tooth is composed is decaying. The decaying mass is fertile soil for the breeding of disease germs which with their full grown strength enter the system, attacking it at its weakest point and break down the health. Again persons with bad teeth cannot chew their food properly and it is not therefore properly digested. Malnutrition results, the blood is poisoned by disease germs and the organs cannot work in their usual healthy order. Stagnation or clogging is the result and physical degeneracy soon follows. This soon leads to mental and moral degeneracy.

If your children are backward about learning, get excited easily and become cross, bless them and their future health and happiness with a trip to the dentist. Their little teeth doubtless need attention.

I guarantee not to hurt them and they need not be afraid of the great pain destroyer "Nap-a-Mini" makes all dental operations done in these offices absolutely painless.

MR. JOHN T. CROWLEY DOG BITE CASE

FORMERLY OF NORTH CHELMSFORD ELECTED REPRESENTATIVE IN WHITMAN

A feature of the recent political contests which is particularly gratifying to many people in North Chelmsford, was the success of John T. Crowley, who was elected as representative in Whitman, Mass.

Mr. Crowley was born in North Chelmsford and lived there until five years ago when he went to Abington to accept a prominent position. He was at one time employed as a salesman for the Lowell Machine shop, and in well and favorably known in this city. His many friends in North Chelmsford will be pleased to hear of his success for while a resident of the village he was highly respected. Mr. Crowley has a sister, Mrs. Francis J. Sullivan, Grace street, this city. The Brockton Times had the following account of his election:

John T. Crowley of Abington, democratic, was elected representative yesterday over Harold P. Gurney, progressive and E. Clifton Taff, republican. The vote was close in the district. Crowley, 908; Gurney, 850, and Taff, 566. The friends of Mr. Gurney stated that, as only 13 votes separated the leaders they should ask for a recount. In Whitman the progressive vote fell off greatly from last year, but Gurney held his own and gained, running 200 votes ahead of his party.

When word came from Whitman, the other town in the district giving the vote, showing that Crowley was elected, his friends made up a party, burning red-fire, had an auto parade to Whitman and Rockland and at the latter place Mr. Crowley was one of the speakers at the Barry celebration. Mr. Crowley has been a resident of Abington about five years. Is an expert machinist, employed by the American Textile company, and is well known in Catholic and fraternal circles. He has been a candidate of the office for two years. His vote in both Abington and Whitman was 484, constituting a record for this office.

HELD FOR DOUBLE KILLING

GEORGE E. WARNER PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO MURDER OF WIFE'S PARENTS

CHESTER, DEPT., Vt., Nov. 7.—George E. Warner of Andover, who was arrested Thursday night by Sheriff Leland of Chester near his mother's home in that town on charge of murder of Henry F. and George Wiggins Wednesday at their home near Simonsville, pleaded not guilty yesterday afternoon before Judge Herbert H. Blannard of the municipal court of Windsor and waived examination.

He was taken to the jail in Watertown, being held without bail for the December term of county court. The state was represented by State Attorney Raymond Trainor of White River Junction. The respondent was represented by Fred G. Bicknell of this village.

The funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Wiggins was held this afternoon. Warner confessed, the officers say, that he shot the couple, and alleged, according to the police, that his wife's parents were responsible for differences which led to her suing for divorce.

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE ST. RAILWAY MEN'S BALL

Quarantine in 13 States—Chicago Union Stock Yards Closed—No Visitors at Hood Farm

Owing to the prevalence of the foot and mouth disease among cattle throughout the country, no visitors will be allowed at Hood Farm until further notice. There is no disease of any kind in the Hood Farm herd, but it is deemed wise to take every precaution against the introduction of a disease so contagious as the foot and mouth disease.

QUARANTINE IN 13 STATES

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The Chicago Union stockyards, for the first time since its organization 49 years ago, was closed today because of the epidemic of the foot and mouth disease which is raging among cattle in 13 states.

Placed under quarantine by state and federal officials for a period of nine days, the Chicago yard will undergo a thorough process of disinfection before the slaughtering of animals will be permitted.

Professional rat catchers today began to destroy the thousands of rats which infest the yards and trap shots blazed away at pigeons, thousands of which live among the cattle pens. Both rats and pigeons, government experts said, carry the disease. All dogs and cats within the neighborhood of the yards were ordered to the gas box.

SERIOUS IN NEW YORK

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 7.—The foot and mouth disease situation in New York state is of the utmost seriousness, as stated last night by the State Agricultural department. It is possible, the statement says, that quarantine will have to be placed against so many counties in the state that the movement of cattle, even for short distances, will be seriously interfered with.

The most serious situation in the state today is at Seneca Falls, where Commissioner Calvin J. Hudson and J. G. Willis, chief veterinarian, are in personal charge. Mr. Hudson has asked all veterinary surgeons in the state to report any suspicious conditions to him.

Department officials do not believe there will be any scarcity of meat because of the epidemic. It was pointed out that in all the large centers of population the packing houses have ample reserve stock of meat in cold storage.

SHIPMENT OF LIVESTOCK

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Shipments of livestock between Massachusetts and New York were authorized by Fred Walker, commissioner of animal industries, today provided the shipments were consigned to places under federal supervision and were placarded for immediate slaughter.

Governor Walsh and the executive council met this afternoon to consider the situation.

Enjoyable Event Held in Associate Hall—Fine Turnout of the Members and Their Friends

One of the most delightful events of the season was held last night at the St. Railway Men's Ball, held in the Associate hall, the occasion being the ninth annual concert and ball of the St. Railway Men's association, located at 280. The hall was taxed to its capacity long before the starting of the evening's festivities, and as a result the financial returns were most satisfactory, in fact far beyond the fondest expectations of those in direct charge.

A concert program which added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening formally opened the festivities. It consisted of several selections by Miss Madeline Boland, who has won her way into the hearts of many an audience around Lowell with her singing, and a number of readings by Jas.

Anderson gave "Celebration Day in Tennessee," in a pleasing manner. Ed. Handley sang "High Cost of Living," and he was forced to respond to many encores. Fred Lindsey rendered "Where Comes a Night," and Robert Lindsey wound up the program with "I Love the Whole U. S.," assisted by a large chorus.

The concert was followed by general dancing, which continued until midnight, and was enjoyed by nearly everyone present. A fine orchestra furnished the music for dancing and the floor was crowded with the beautiful decorations which adorned the hall at every point.

On entering the hall each guest was presented a handsome souvenir program.

GREEKS WHO FOUGHT IN BALKAN WAR ARE TO BE GIVEN MEDALS OF HONOR

The Lowell Greek veterans of the Balkan War will be presented silver medals as a token of appreciation for their service on the part of the king of Greece. The affair will be held at the Greek Orthodox church in Jefferson at a week from tomorrow and the ceremony will be an impressive one. In addition to a medal each veteran will receive an autographed photograph of the king of Greece.

The ceremony will be attended by the members of the community and distinguished out-of-town guests including D. T. Timayenis, consul-general, Dr. Anton Vrahounis and George Anagnostou, president of the Greek community of Boston. The medals will be presented by Mr. Timayenis, while interesting remarks will be delivered by the other guests.

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN TO BAR OUT UNDESIRABLE VISITORS AND CRANKS CRAZED OVER THE WAR

The United States Cartridge company has adopted a plan of barring out visitors unless they are known to the office. Each employee has a number without which he cannot be admitted. This is doubtless a precaution against the admission of cranks who might be crazed over the war and disposed to do some harm.

PATIENTS AT HOSPITAL
Mrs. Margaret Bamford, who was burned while cooking in her room at 64 Central street yesterday afternoon is still in a critical condition at the Lowell hospital although the authorities believe that she will recover.

John J. Kenney, the vocational school boy injured in the explosion, is on the road to recovery at St. John's hospital.

Each told the court that he had been employed in the country during the summer months and when the cold weather set in, he was obliged to seek employment elsewhere. Having been in Boston, five of the number had set out to reach the Hub when they were detected hanging about the freight yards and placed under arrest. They claimed that they had never appeared in court before and some of the defendants said that it was their first time on the road, and if they ever arrived home, it would be their last time. Welch, the only one who testified that he never met any of his companions until yesterday.

Patrolman Dan Lynch discovered the defendants on the railroad tracks about 2 o'clock last evening and, believing it was their intention to jump a freight, he summoned Patrolman John D. Conlon and the six boys were apprehended and taken to the station. As it was their first appearance in any court, suspended sentences were ordered.

Michael Kane was complained of by a patrolman for annoying young girls who were returning from evening school about 8 o'clock last evening. Michael said that he was drunk and could not deny the allegation of the police officer. "These young girls must be protected," said the court. "Send him to jail for one month."

George Keyes, the man who so earnestly said that he had a wife and seven children in Hudson, when arraigned yesterday, was ordered to pay a fine of six dollars after Probation Officer Slattery had advised the court that Hudson authorities could find no trace of Keyes' family. Frank Cruise, who appeared from a one month's jail sentence yesterday, withdrew his appeal today and the sentence was enforced.

on the sidewalk in Hurd street last night, according to the testimony of Patrolmen McNulty and Dooley. Benjamin, who hails from Newburyport, pleaded not guilty to a charge of drunkenness but after hearing the officers' testimony, withdrew his plea, saying that it must be so for he never knew an officer to tell a falsehood. John McKean pleaded guilty to vagrancy and was sent to the state farm.

Non-support
Non-support of his wife was the complaint against James L. Robertson, who was represented by Lawyer William Regan. George P. Toye, appearing for the complainant, asked for a continuance and this was granted by the court. It is thought that a settlement will be made.

Two women were sentenced to one month in jail for drunkenness; five male offenders were sentenced by the court.

An Old Assault Case

A lively row which occurred in a house at 67 Davidson street on October 14 was tried in court today when William Chonolevskit was charged with assault and battery upon Marya Sawlson. It seems that an altercation arose between the two parties which resulted in the throwing of milk bottles. One of the bottles struck the complainant, inflicting a cut. After the evidence had been submitted, defendant was ordered to pay a fine of $14. William D. Regan for the complainant and Daniel J. Donahue for the defendant.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL

The Lowell high school football team met one of the strongest teams around the Hub this afternoon when it clashed with Waltham high school eleven. Waltham is a contender for the championship of the state, while Lowell has been defeated the five times that it has marched onto fields this year, but the local players are confident and will fight to the end.

MANCHESTER MARTYRS

At their quarters, 32 Middle street, tomorrow afternoon the Irish National Brotherhood will observe the anniversary of the Manchester martyrs. There will be many speakers and a fine musical program.

MATRIMONIAL

Paul Foye and Miss Nellie McEvoy were married at St. Michael's church by Rev. John J. Shaw, pastor. The witnesses were Raymond Foye and Miss Marcella McEvoy. After enjoying an automobile trip, the happy couple will be at home to their friends at 19 Fifth street after Nov. 7.

Callao, Peru, Nov. 6.—(Delayed.) Four warships passed Callao southbound today. They kept far out from the coast and their nationality could not be made out.

NOTES FROM CITY HALL

TIME LIMIT FOR FILING NOMINATION PAPERS EXPIRES TODAY—MORE NEW CANDIDATES

There wasn't much doing at the hall today. Commissioners and others were struggling hard to think of something worth while and when verging on success some fellow would drop around and ask "how about a job?" When that question was asked the commissioners smiled a civil service smile.

"You will have to see the civil service man down in the basement," was the answer, and the fellow looking for the job seemed to think that the whole thing was a bluff. "I voted for you fifteen times," said one old fellow to the commissioner, and I never consulted the civil service commission about it, either."

"Come around next Monday morning and I'll put you to work," said the commissioner.

"That's more like it; to — with the civil service," said the work seeker as he passed out to the last straw streets.

More New Candidates
Clinton P. Tuttle, the man who failed at the Brown-Putnam hearing at city hall that he didn't know whether or not he was head clerk in the street department, is a candidate for commissioner. Mr. Tuttle gets somewhere in the vicinity of $27 a week and his work is not very laborious. But he has aspirations outside of clerical duties.

Other new candidates include John E. O'Brien, 45 Kirk street, for alderman; William N. Fadden, 29 Bowdoin street, for alderman; and John A. Crowley, 3 Fulton avenue, school committee.

The Time Limit

The time for filing nomination papers expires at 5 o'clock this afternoon, and the office of the city clerk has kept open this afternoon for that special purpose. The candidates who had filed their papers up to 2 o'clock were Henry F. Aubrey, 1 River road, off Andover street; George H. Brown, 272 Merrimack street; Jeremiah P. Connors, 288 Concord street; James E. Donnelly, 36 Floyd street; Joseph Mullin, 23 Burdett street; Sewell P. Putnam, 26 Marlborough street.

Registration for the city election will be continued Monday and Tuesday, from 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m. The last day for registration will be November 13th, from 12 m. to 10 p. m.

THE BELVIDERE CLUB

HELD ENJOYABLE PARTY AT DRACUT GRANGE HALL LAST EVENING

The Belvidere club, composed of young people prominent in Belvidere social affairs held forth in their annual husking bee and dancing party at the Dracut grange hall last evening, and it proved to be one of the most delightful and enjoyable events of the season.

The main hall was elaborately decorated for the occasion, the prevailing colors being red and blue, and there a touch of greenery to add to the pleasing effect. Myriads of incandescent lights artistically covered with red and blue tissue paper, cast a very pretty glow over the highly polished surface, over which 500 young people glided, to the pleasing strains of McManis' concert orchestra.

The lower hall was used for the husking bee and blue, and here all the characteristic institutions of the barnyard. Quite a few "twoers" were found in the huge stack of corn piled in the center of the floor, and the fortunate ones were presented with very handsome awards.

SECOND BATTALION NIGHT

SOCIAL EVENT TO BE CONDUCTED BY SIXTH REGIMENT AT THE ARCADE

All is now in readiness for the second battalion night to be held in this city under the auspices of the Sixth regiment and indications point to a better success than the other event, although the officers and the men in charge were much satisfied with the result of the first attempt. The first battalion night was the cause of much favorable comment on the part of the many men and women who were in attendance and it is believed that the word will be passed around and that the next event will be a notable one in the history of the local militia.

The guests of the evening will be the members of Company L of Boston, who will give a very interesting demonstration of flag signals. This part of the program will prove most interesting for this is a new way of communicating soldiers have on the battlefield and by the waving of the flag they are able to exchange comprehensive codes. The local companies will also give demonstrations worth while seeing and in addition, Tabors Sixth Regiment band will be on hand to give a most enjoyable concert.

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

It looks as though the Boot Girls' club has virtually disbanded for all time.

John Mulligan of the Prescott mills is pulling up big scores at the Y. M. C. I. alleys.

Philip Mulcahy of the Bon Marche men's wear counter is one of the most accommodating clerks in the business.

It is rumored about that one of our local mills has received a large order for 36 inch gray goods from a foreign agent.

Some people wonder how long it took the fortunate mill that received that 165 yard order of drilling, to turn the goods out.

Miss May Moriarty of the Helms Electric Co. is entertaining an uncle from New Jersey at her home in Swift street.

Miss May Graham of the Talbot mills, North Billerica, has returned from an enjoyable vacation spent with relatives in Claremont, N. H.

The Mathews' ladies night held last night in the spacious quarters of the institute was a largely attended and highly enjoyable affair.

Harold Frazer, of the Lamson Store Service company, is being congratulated by his many friends on his approaching marriage.

R. O. Roberts, employed as a loom fixer at the Washington mills, Fries, Vt., has been in his resignation and will attend the Lowell Textile school.

Matt Whalley of Howard's drug store expressed himself as much pleased at the success of the husking bee and dance held in Dracut.

William Conroy, of Maker's picture store has proven himself a capable promoter of social events by the success of the husking bee held last night.

John Dawson of the Hamilton Manufacturing company has returned from a hunting trip in Maine. He was gone two weeks and secured some very fine specimens.

Bobby Whalen, formerly janitor of the Y. M. C. I., and now employed at the Tremont & Suffolk mills has become a member of the bowling team and is rapidly proving his worth as a bowler.

Miss Anna Spillane, formerly employed at the J. L. Chaffoux store has returned after spending a very enjoyable vacation with friends in Amesbury, Mass.

J. Paul Doherty's talk at the A. G. Pollard Employers Mutual Benefit association was highly interesting and is now the subject of much favorable comment.

Miss Madeline Boland's singing at the Street Railway Men's ball held last night won much applause and she responded to several encores. Miss Boland is employed at the Lawrence Manufacturing company.

Mr. J. A. Millette, of Worcester, general organizer for the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America is in this city for the purpose of building up the local organization. He expects to complete his work in two or three weeks.

Mr. John Warren, the popular head clerk of the soda fountain at the Bon Marche store continues to please his many patrons with his winning smile and ingratiating ways. "Jack," as he is intimately called by his friends, is always on the job.

The many friends of Mr. James Kelly, a highly respected resident of Belvidere and an employee of the Hartford-Bigelow Carpet Co., will be pained to learn of his death which occurred at St. John's hospital this morning after a sickness which lasted only a few days.

The Belvidere football team will clash on the gridiron next Saturday with a speedy eleven from Newburyport. The team has made rapid progress under the able coaching of Mr. Robert Yates, an old football star, at present employed at the Hartford-Bigelow Carpet Co.

Secretary Charles Farrell of the Manufacturers' bowling league has received a beautiful silver prize cup donated by the Moxie people of Boston. The cup is of large dimensions and is well worth striving for. Mr. Farrell has also received other valuable prizes from local business men.

SERVIAN RED CROSS MEMBERS AT WORK IN FIELD HOSPITAL DURING BATTLE

SERVIAN RED CROSS MEMBERS ATTENDING WOUNDED SOLDIER

This picture shows Serbian Red Cross members giving first aid to a wounded soldier brought to the field hospital on a stretcher from the battle line. He was badly hurt and died before he could be sent back to a hospital with the rest of the wounded. The Servians have lost heavily in the fighting with the Austrians, but have held their own.

BOARD OF MISSIONS

WINCHESTER, Nov. 7.—The annual meeting of the Andover and Woburn branch of the woman's board of missions was held Thursday in the First Congregational church, more than 200 delegates attending at the morning session. Mrs. Edward Y. Hinks of Cambridge, president. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Stephen A. Norton of Woburn. Following various reports, Miss Laura Ward, the new missionary of the branch to China, gave a short talk and Mrs. Mary F. Daniels, president of the woman's board of missions, delivered an address on "The Christian Woman's Outlook and Outlook."

Lauchson was served at 12.30 in the vestry by the Winchester society. A conference of "Junior Lookouts" at 1.15 an address was delivered by Miss Mary Preston.

Rev. Dr. Cyrus Richardson, acting pastor of the church, opened the afternoon session with prayer. These officers were elected: Mrs. Edward Y. Hinks of Cambridge, president; Mrs. C. F. Belcher of Malden, Mrs. E. V. Bigelow of Andover, Miss Annie M. Chaplain of Melrose, Mrs. G. E. Chapman of Stoneham, Mrs. Joshua Colt of Winchester, Mrs. J. B. Field of Lowell, Mrs. E. S. Gould of Lawrence, Mrs. M. C. Messenger of Melrose Highlands, Mrs. S. R. Hamilton of Wakefield, Mrs. C. F. Kingsbury of West Medford, Mrs. Edward Newcomb of Lowell, Mrs. D. Augustine Newton of Reading, Miss Emma O. Nichols of East Lexington, Mrs. C. H. Oliphant of Methuen, Mrs. Henry F. Smith of West Medford and Mrs. J. B. Tyler of Billerica, vice presidents; Mrs. Augustine Rice of Wakefield, recording secretary; Miss M. Adelaide Hinkley of Woburn, corresponding secretary; Miss E. Josephine Wilcox of Medford, home secretary; Miss L. Evelyn Parker of Winchester, secretary of Junior auxiliary mission circle; Miss Florence Evans of Lowell, secretary of assistant mission circle; Mrs. Henry A. Smith of Lowell, treasurer.

Addresses were delivered by Mrs. Henry Fairbank of the Marshfield mission in India and by Rev. Dr. Wm. Strong of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions.

COLE A CANDIDATE IF CUSHING RUNS

Ex-Speaker Will Seek Republican Nomination for Governor Next Year if Lieutenant Governor Elect Grafton Cushing Thows His Hat in the Ring

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—If there is a contest for the republican nomination for governor next fall, ex-Speaker John N. Cole of Andover will be one of the candidates. Mr. Cole has no desire to make Mr. McCall fight for a renomination if the latter wants it, and, unless some other candidate enters the field against the Winchester man, Mr. Cole will keep his hands off; but, if there are two candidates for the republican nomination, there will be three, and one of those three will be the former speaker of the house.

Mr. Cole has not been particularly active in politics since 1908, when, after serving for three years as speaker of the house, he was a candidate for the republican nomination for lieutenant governor and was beaten in the state convention by Louis L. Frothingham. And yet Mr. Cole has not dropped entirely out of public vision. Gov. Foss made him chairman of the commission on economy and efficiency, and six or seven months ago Mr. Cole resigned that position in order to become chairman of the commission created by Mayor Curley in "boom Boston."

This public service and his printing and publishing business in Andover have kept the former speaker busy, but he has found time to keep in touch with political matters and to take some part in them. As one of his friends said yesterday he has been biding his time and waiting for his opportunity.

Mr. Cole was always a thorn in the flesh of the men who are most influential in determining the policy of the republican party in this state; they never could get him and Mr. Cole and his friends know that these leaders prevented him from being the republican nominee for lieutenant-governor.

The ex-speaker, according to his close friends, thinks it is time to make another fight against these dominant influences in the republican party, especially if they are to arrange another line of succession and make it plain that everybody who aspires to republican preferment in this state must live in the Back Bay, or in Brookline, Cambridge, Winchester, or some other similar suburb.

In other words, Mr. Cole and those who agree with him think that the "lace curtain" republicans, as they call the "high brow" up in Vermont, are preparing to run things again in this state. He does not propose to submit to this dictation.

No one knows whether or not there will be a contest for the republican nomination for governor next year. Mr. McCall believes in moving with deliberation and does not see the necessity of making, on the very first day after an election, a public announcement of what he intends to do a year from that time; he is keeping his own counsel, and his attitude has the approval of most people.

But some of the friends of Grafton D. Cushing, who has just been elected lieutenant governor, have made the suggestion that, inasmuch as he ran short of Mr. McCall at the polls last Tuesday, Mr. Cushing ought to be the republican nominee for governor next fall; there have been hints that Mr. Cushing would be a candidate for the nomination, whether or not Mr. McCall ran again. In view of this development, certain politicians have tried to make Mr. McCall tell what he would do in 1915.

There is no reason for believing that this attempt to force out Mr. McCall and substitute Mr. Cushing as the next republican candidate for governor has been sanctioned by the party, but the matter has been the subject of gossip and it has stirred up the friends of Mr. Cole. The situation is just this: If Mr. Cushing is a candidate for governor next year, Mr. Cole will also be a candidate.

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

cal Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

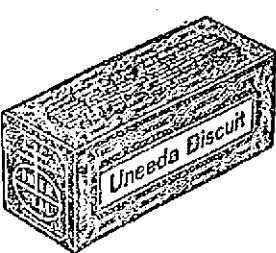

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

For over thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ailments, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

CHARITY PROLONGS WAR

DR. MILBANK JOHNSON OF LOS ANGELES THINKS SUFFERING IS A PEACE FACTOR

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 7.—While efforts were being made to raise funds here to succor the war victims of Belgium, Dr. Milbank Johnson, president of the municipal charities commission, published a statement yesterday declaring that relief sent to Europe meant prolongation of the strife and suggesting that charity should begin at home.

"Scientific methods of war," said Dr. Johnson, "as exemplified in Europe, have brought to the combatants realization of the potency of suffering women and children in compelling the conquered to sue for peace. If Europe is determined upon a war of extermination, relief efforts may only prolong hostilities."

"War in Europe has thrown thousands in this country out of work. The consequent suffering and privation are appalling. Charity should begin at home. Has it occurred to many who eagerly hearken to Europe's cry that they have not contributed to the relief of our own unfortunates?"

SECRET RADIO STATIONS

BRITISH EMBASSY RECEIVES OFFERS OF INFORMATION ABOUT VARIOUS PLANTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Out of the flood of letters which pour into the British embassy, offering for various considerations, information of German wireless stations on American territory, some which claim information of secret stations in Maine are being used as a basis for investigation.

Others tell of stations on the Pacific coast, in South America, and in the mountain country of Scotland, where the stations are said to communicate with German ships waiting to raid the English coast.

The remarkable recent mobilization of the German ships off the South American coast with such disastrous results to the smaller English squadron has strengthened the belief of British embassy officials here that some secret means of communication extends into America, and that German ships operating in southern waters may have been receiving supplies from somewhere on the Pacific coast of the southern continent.

GERMAN PLEA FOR JEWS

COUNT VON BERNSTORFF SAYS REPRESENTATIONS HAVE TWICE BEEN MADE TO TURKEY

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The safety of Jews in Turkey has twice been the subject of representations made to the Porte by Germany, according to a statement given out by Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador to the United States. The statement says: "Some time ago the German Imperial government warmly recommended to Turkey the protection of Jews of whatever nationality. Recently, prior to the outbreak of the war, this recommendation was renewed."

"It had been feared that the numerous Jews in Turkey would, in case of war, be endangered, not only on account of their religion, but also for their non-Turkish nationality. Many Jews who have lived in Turkey for years are not up to this day, Ottoman citizens."

"It is, therefore, reassuring to learn that Germany has warmly recommended to Turkey the protection of all Jews, irrespective of nationality."

TRACE SHIPMENTS OF CATTLE
WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—With the federal quarantine against the foot and mouth disease covering virtually every suspected cattle market in the country, the bureau of animal industry today organized its force of inspectors to trace every shipment of cattle made from the infected area during the last two months.

Officials believe the quarantine already established covers all herds at present affected. The bureau today had about 150 agents in the field, tracing every head of cattle that passed through the Chicago yards in the past 60 days and every railroad car used to transport them.

With a single exception the agents are destroying all herds where infection appears. The exception is the National Dairy. This herd, in Chicago, where about 1000 of the best blooded breeding stock of the country are under quarantine. Thirty four cases have been discovered in the show animals but the department is endeavoring to prevent the sacrifice of the entire herd.

Mrs. Carl Schreiter Commits Suicide Near Home in Wilkesville—Had Been in Poor Health

WEBSTER, Nov. 7.—Mrs. Carl Schreiter, aged 60, committed suicide by jumping into the Manassett river yesterday morning near her home in Wilkesville, Conn. She was soon taken out, but life was extinct.

She had been in poor health for the past two weeks due to caring for her husband during a two years' illness.

She is survived by her husband, two sons, Carl and Fritsch Schreiter of Leominster, and two daughters, Miss Bertha Schreiter, who lives with her parents, and Mrs. Rudolph Eisner.

TRIPLE DAMAGES AWARDED
Fludings Against American Sea Green Slate Company of Greenville, N. Y., Under Antitrust Law

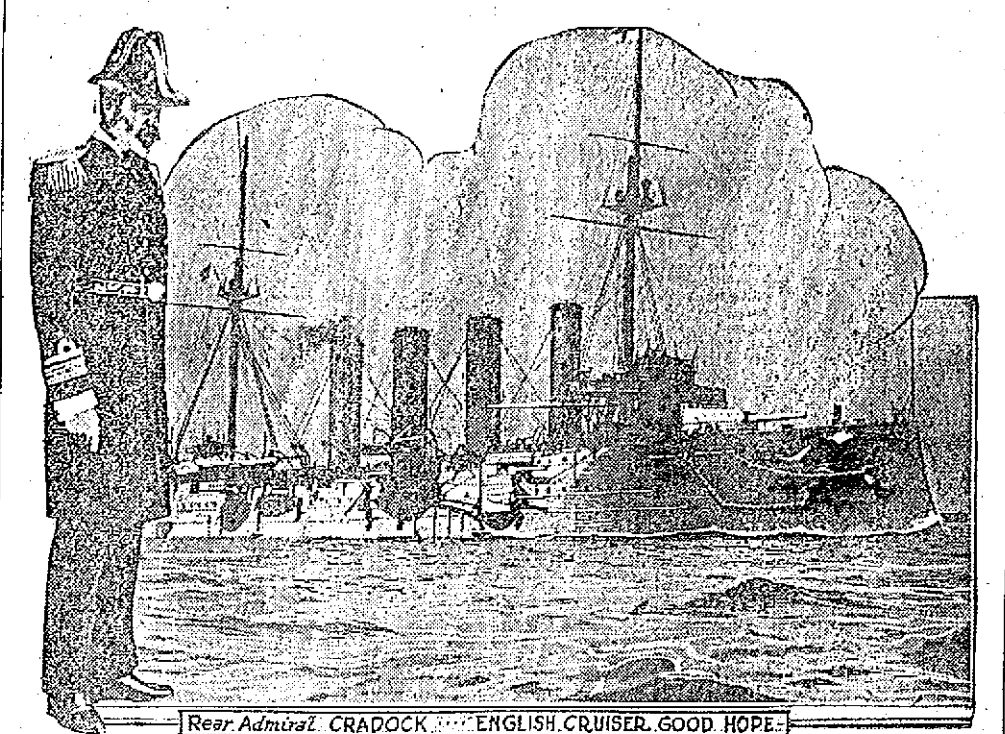

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 7.—What are said to be the first substantial judgments for triple damages entered in the United States under the Sherman antitrust law were awarded yesterday by Judge Ray of the federal court against firms constituting the American Sea Green Slate Company of Greenville.

The judgments, aggregating $25,000, were awarded the firm of O'Halloran & Jacobs of Pittsburgh, Pa., on the finding of the court that the defendants violated the Sherman act in the formation of a combination to restrain and monopolize, or attempt to monopolize, the interstate trade in sea green slate.

The material constitutes approximately 80 per cent of the roofing slate provided in Vermont.

Rear Admiral CRADOCK, ENGLISH CRUISER, GOOD HOPE.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—It is officially announced by the Admiralty that the British cruiser Good Hope took fire during the engagement with the German ships off the coast of Chile last Sunday and foundered. The cruiser was in command of Rear-Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock and carried a crew of 900 men. It is believed that all went to their death.

The Admiralty statement says that it is believed the British cruiser Good Hope was sunk by a single shot from the German ship Leipzig, which was reported to have been sunk by the Good Hope and she foundered.

The Good Hope was on a mission to intercept the German ships, which had been sighted off the coast of Chile. The ship was carrying a crew of 900 men, including Rear-Admiral Cradock.

"During Sunday, Nov. 1, the Good Hope, Monmouth and Glasgow came up with the Scharnhorst, Gneisenau, Leipzig and Dresden. Both squadrons were steaming south in a strong wind and a considerable sea.

"The German squadron declined action until sunset, when the light gave it an important advantage. The action lasted an hour.

"Early in the action both the Good Hope and Monmouth took fire, but fought until nearly dark, when a serious explosion occurred on the Good Hope and she foundered.

"The Monmouth hauled off at dark, making a good escape. She was accompanied by the Glasgow, which had fought the Leipzig and Dresden.

"On the enemy again approaching the wounded Monmouth, the Glasgow, which also was under fire from one of the armored cruisers, drew off.

"The enemy then attacked the Monmouth again, but with what result is not known. The Glasgow is not extensively damaged and has very few casualties.

"Neither the Orontes nor the Canopus was engaged.

"Reports received by the foreign office from Valparaiso state that a belated German warship is ashore on the Chilean coast, and it is possible that this may prove to be the Monmouth. Energetic measures are being taken on this assumption to rescue the survivors.

"The action appears to the Admiralty to have been most gallantly contested, but in the absence of the Canopus the enemy's preponderance in force was considerable."

LATE WAR NEWS

Continued

Chinese whose bravery, says Tokio, rivalled that displayed in the historic charges on Port Arthur.

"Suddenly," says the official report from Tokio, "the flag of surrender ran up in the morning breeze on the weather bureau tower towering above the sea and land."

Tokio today is celebrating, with an outburst of popular enthusiasm, the fall of Tsing Tau, which occurred after a siege of about three weeks. The vice minister of the navy states that Japan will hold Tsing Tau until the war is over, when she will "open negotiations" with China.

With the fighting at Tsing Tau at an end the question is raised as to what Japan will do next. It is suggested that she will not inaugurate an offensive naval campaign on the Pacific, employing the fleet released from the bombardment of Tsing Tau in an attempt to run down the German warships which wrought such havoc to British shipping and defeated the British fleet off Chile.

Notwithstanding Russian claims to an overwhelming success in the east, there is nothing to show that the German and Austrian forces have met great disaster, and although they were compelled to retreat they apparently were able to fall back upon strongly fortified positions selected in advance.

The probability that they are safe in these positions, for the present at least, leads London to suggest that German troops will be withdrawn and rushed to the west to bolster up the battered forces there for a supreme effort to place the allied line to the south of Ypres. For the last two days heavy cannonading has been going on and this is believed to be preliminary to the main German attack.

Over the remainder of the battle line through France there are no decisive changes.

Although today's official French statement asserts that the Germans have been driven back at various points, the situation in the main apparently is practically the same as has been the case for several weeks, so far as the general line of battle is concerned.

Russia, in an official statement, makes the claim that the resistance of the enemy has been broken after fighting of several weeks along a front of 350 miles. This campaign has been closed in the opinion of Russian military authorities, who say that a new period of the war will be inaugurated.

Of the fighting on land and sea brought about by Turkey's entrance into the war little was learned today. Turkish officials at Smyrna are said to have made further seizures of vessels of hostile countries and the Russian general staff in Caucasus reports that the Turkish general forces which attempted an offensive movement have been driven back with heavy losses.

Paris suggests that the Germans are making an important change in their military tactics. Mass formation is said to have been abandoned in the fighting in Flanders, infantrymen attacking in open order and seeking all available cover.

VISCOUNT HENRY CRICHTON AND LORD HUGH GROSVENOR PRISONERS

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Announcement is made that Viscount Henry Crichton, oldest son of the Earl of Erne and major of the Royal Horse Guards and Lord Hugh Grosvenor, brother of the Duke of Westminster, are prisoners in the hands of the Germans. The men are brothers-in-law. Viscount Crichton having married the sister of the viscount.

FIERCE COMBATS ON RIVER SAN RAFAEL IN MOUNTAINS OF AUSTRIANS

PARIS, Nov. 7.—An official statement to the Russian general staff is given in a Petrograd despatch to the Havas agency. It says:

"Fierce combats on the river San and south of Przemyel have been going on for more than three weeks. The Austrians, on Nov. 5, in a general retreat of the Austrians. On the preceding night the Austrians made a last effort to repulse our troops who were crossing the San. Until a late hour, the enemy attacked on an extended front, taking the offensive in a desperate and bloody battle, but everywhere they suffered enormous losses and were repulsed."

"On Nov. 5 the enemy's columns commenced to move from the San in the direction of Dulka pass across the Carpathians and south of Przemyel, seeking to break through our lines. The battle front was 10 miles long. The Austrians were repulsed everywhere and suffered enormous losses."

"The abandonment of the main Austrian forces of the line of the San is the result of the victorious battle fought at the end of September, the original purpose of which was to block the offensive of the Austro-German armies against Warsaw and Lvov."

"At the beginning of October our troops were engaged along a front extending for 35 miles and passing through Warsaw. Kozienka, Przemyel and Lublin were taken."

"Toward Oct. 20 we succeeded in gaining a decisive success over the Germans on the right bank of the Vistula in the region of Warsaw, that is to say on the right wing of our general strategic front."

"On the right wing the Austro-German forces were repulsed and the north forces still holding positions on the Vistula and the San. In the fighting which lasted from the 23rd to the 27th of October we succeeded in breaking the stubborn resistance of the Austro-German army in the Kozienka region. In danger of being turned beyond Przemyel this army fell back pursued by our troops."

"Between Oct. 28 and Nov. 2 we overcame the enemy's resistance in new regions that of Alexander and Sandomierz. On Nov. 5 the Austrian army in Galicia was compelled to retreat."

"Following up our successes during 18 days on a front of 310 miles we broke the resistance of the enemy who is in full retreat. This victory we owe to the inexhaustible grace of God, who blesses the superhuman heroism of our admirable warriors."

"This victory enables our troops to proceed to a realization of further tasks which will inaugurate a new period of the war."

PARIS OFFICIAL REPORT SAYS BRITISH REPULSED VIOLENT ATTACKS

PARIS, Nov. 7.—3.01 p. m.—The French official announcement given out in Paris this afternoon says that the situation is relatively quiet on the river Yser below Dixmude.

The text of the communication follows:

"On our left wing, the situation is relatively quiet on the river down stream from Dixmude. The Belgian troops who advanced along the right bank of the Yser from Nieuport in the direction of Lombartzwynde and who had been counter-attacked by the Germans were sustained in time. The situation has been entirely re-established in this locality."

"At Dixmude the marine fusiliers repulsed a fresh counter offensive movement. Further to the south the attacks of the enemy around Bliederschapelle were repulsed. The situation was repulsed by detachments belonging to the active army corps recently brought into this region by the Germans."

SECRET WIRELESS

Sec. Daniels and Sec. Lansing Decide to Begin Search in America

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Secretary Daniels of the navy department and Acting Secretary Lansing of the state department, in conference today with Assistant Chief Moran of the secret service decided to begin a search for secret wireless apparatus alleged to be in use by European belligerents on American territory.

There is no evidence under the attention of the government here that any of the belligerents have violated American neutrality but in letters to the British embassy and vague, published statements Germany has been charged with having a wireless station in the White House, through which communication was conducted with German ships.

There have been reports of another wireless station on the Pacific coast.

OLD "FUNNEL" HALL
THE CRADLE OF LIBERTY TO BE EQUIPPED WITH FIRE ESCAPES

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—The rear of Faneuil hall facing Adams square will in the near future be ornamented with a double row of fire escapes as a result of the action of Commissioners of Public Buildings, Patrick O'Regan and his determination to have all the buildings in the city where the public congregate perfectly safe in case of fire. At first it was thought that changes in the building would be necessary. Owing to the historic value of the building and the fact that citizens at large would be loath to see it changed in appearance the building commissioner determined to rest content with the fire escapes.

The horizontal portion of these escapes will run around one end of the building so that they will come directly beneath two windows, each on the north and south sides of the second and third floor. These platforms will run around the westerly side, which faces Adams square, and flights of steps will from these descend to the sidewalk. The condition of this hall was considered extremely important by the commissioner because of the inadequate exits from the balcony in Faneuil hall proper and from the armory of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company on the floor above.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NEWS

ENGLISHMEN IN BERLIN NOTIFIED TO REPORT AT POLICE STATIONS
BERLIN, Nov. 7.—The police at six o'clock Friday morning notified all Englishmen from the age of 17 to 65 to report to the police stations for transport to Ruhleben, near Berlin. They were advised to bring two blankets, sheets and so forth. The exodus is now proceeding.

All day long Englishmen made their way to the Ruhleben detention camp. Most of them are well provided with rugs and bedclothes and other necessities. The largest group, numbering about 1400 men came from Hamburg. It is composed of about 300 residents and 1100 non-residents, the latter mostly sailors from British ships. Among the 300 residents are many men of wealth and important position.

From Dresden there have come 100 Englishmen; from Hanover 80 from Berlin 500 more.

The English church in Berlin has not yet been closed. Divine service will be held there as usual in the English tongue.

BOYLE GETS TRANSFER

GOVERNOR WALSH SHIFTS THOMAS F. BOYLE TO THE ACCIDENT BOARD

Gov. Walsh will name Thomas F. Boyle as a member of the Industrial and accident board to succeed Edward J. Mcweeney, says the Boston Post. Mr. Boyle will be transferred from the civil service commission. In his place a democrat will be named from either the western or the central part of the state.

Mr. Boyle will be transferred from his place by Mayor Curley. If Chairman Mcweeney had his way he would resign from the post board. As head of this board he has found conditions remaining from last year which have embarrassed him greatly in conducting the work of the board this year. He has been urged, however, by the governor to stay on the board and will probably do so.

The governor has several names in consideration for the license board, but has not yet decided whom he will appoint. He will name a republican who is not in any way identified with the liquor interests. The governor has been of the opinion that the new executive commissioner should be free of all entanglements and he has had considerable difficulty in finding a man who measured up to the qualifications.

SOME Y. M. C. I. EVENTS

GREAT INTEREST IN BOWLING AND BASKETBALL—SUDDEN DEATH OF A MEMBER

Much interest is being shown at the Y. M. C. I. in the list of events planned by the board of directors for the enjoyment of the members during the coming winter months, and every member is working hard to make each event an unprecedented success. The society has entered a bowling team in the City Bowling league, which has just started, and over at the society they are having a contest for the receipt of the beautiful cup, which they say will surely be won by the institute bowlers. The team is represented by some of the fastest bowlers in the city and will have a large following among the members.

The ladies' nights will in all probability be resumed next Tuesday night, and all the members are looking forward to having a very enjoyable time. The ladies' nights proved popular last winter at the rooms and were always largely attended. One of the leading orchestras in the city will be engaged and will furnish pleasing music for these affairs, which once they get under way will be held weekly.

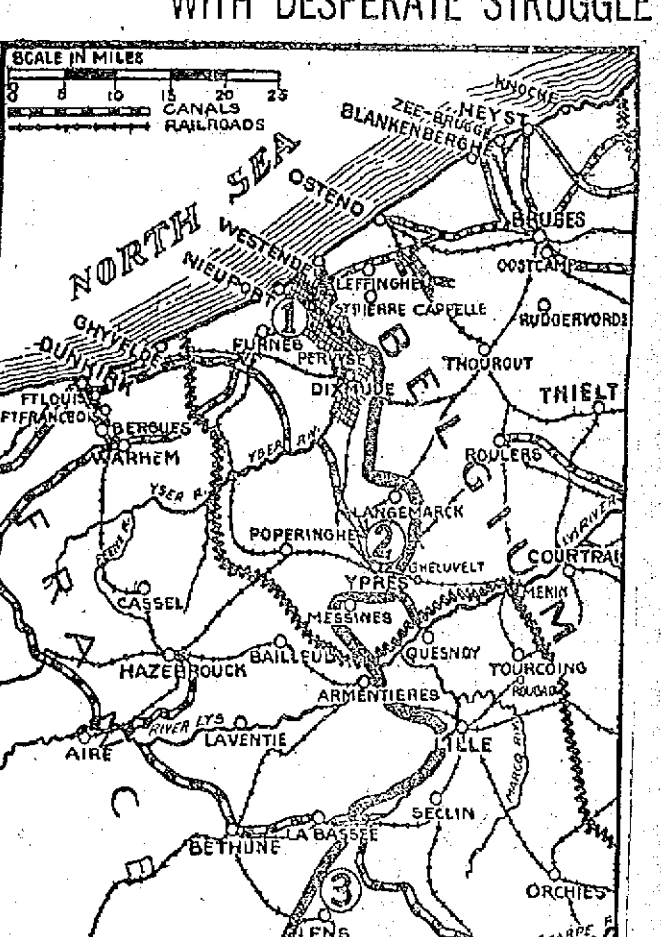

The basketball season will start soon and new equipment will be installed in the assembly hall next week. Last year the basketball team representing the society won the city championship, and the game proved to be a great paying proposition. A basketball league will also be formed among the members and some lively contests are sure to result.

A conference committee, of which Martin E. Conley is chairman, has been appointed and their duties will be to see to it that all necessary conventions are made before the winter is over, to increase the membership, and any other changes that will be of benefit to the society. This committee has started its work and within a short time, long looked for results will surely be noted.

Tonorrow morning at 10 o'clock a very important meeting will be held to take action on the death of one of the brother members, James Kelley, who passed away at St. John's hospital this morning after a brief illness.

Other business of importance will come up for transaction and all members are earnestly requested to attend. President William King will attend the meeting and will have some good information to impart to the members.

BATTLE OF FLANDERS RENEWED WITH DESPERATE STRUGGLE

1. The shaded portion here represents the district, flooded by the waters of the Yser, which forced the withdrawal of the Germans from the left (west) bank of the river. According to the French official report the Kaiser's troops have been driven across the river between Nieuport and Dixmude, except at one bridge, and have lost some artillery by their retirement. 2. Berlin says the attacks on Ypres continue, and Paris records some alternate advances and withdrawals between Dixmude and the Yser. The French report says the allies have made some progress toward Messines. It is in this region or to the southward that the allies look for a fresh German assault with a view to breaking through the lines. 3. An artillery battle is reported to be proceeding west of Lens.

SUN REAL ESTATE AND BUILDERS' PAGE

Colson Heights, a Billerica homestead, has given another impetus to the real estate and building operations in that location. The owners plan the extensive development of the property which is now very attractive. This is one of a large number of land holdings which have been cut up into house lots and offered for sale. Thus far, the principal buyers have been the mechanics employed at the Boston and Maine car shops. A description of the operations of Colson Heights appears elsewhere in this section.

In Lowell, the number of permits granted during the past week was very small. A few are building garages, while others are remodeling or enlarging their homes. A number of residences the construction of which was begun some months ago, are now completed and are being put on the market. It is rumored that Mr. Demer, who has already erected six beautiful new houses near the corner of Stevens and Middlesex streets, intends to promote even greater building operations at another location on Stevens street.

Sales by E. F. Slattery, Jr.

Contracts have been closed on the purchase and sale of a splendid cottage house situated near Fletcher street. The house is a full two and one-half story with seven rooms and bath. There are about 2000 square feet of land assessed at the rate of 25c. per foot. The purchaser of this cozy house buys purely for a home. Names of grantor and grantee will be given later.

Sales by Bram Bros.

Bram Bros., real estate brokers with offices at 97 Central street report the following sales for the week ending November 6, 1914.

Final papers have been taken to record where Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Lapham of Billerica have conveyed to Charles Williamson of the same town their property comprising an eight-room house, barn, and about one acre of land situated in Billerica on the Concord road just below the Mitchell boys' school.

Final papers have been taken to record where the property owned by Mrs. Elizabeth A. Moody of Dunstable and situated just off the state road from Tyngsboro to the village of Dunstable has been conveyed to James E. Dean, who buys the property for a summer home. It consists of a very cozy cottage of seven rooms, large screened-in veranda, barn, and about five acres of land. Mr. Dean contemplates making some few changes in the property.

Contracts for the purchase and sale have been signed on a large parcel of land situated in Middlesex village comprising a tract of about 118,979 feet more or less.

Sales by Abel R. Campbell

Abel R. Campbell, real estate and insurance broker with offices at 404-405 Sun building, reports the following sales for the week ending Nov. 6th:

The sale of a well built cottage house of eight rooms, bath, steam heat and set tubs located near Warwick street in the Highlands. The house was sold to a local man. Names of grantor and grantee will be reported at a later date.

The sale of a two-tenement house in Centralville. Each tenement contains five rooms, bath, steam and set tubs. The lot contains about 1000 feet of land. The buyer will occupy one of the tenements and rent the other.

Sales by T. H. Elliott

Thos. H. Elliott, real estate broker, offices at Central street, cor. Prescott street, reports the following sales negotiated during the past week ending Friday, Nov. 6th:

The sale of a handsome residential property situated at 481 Beacon street, near its junction with Fletcher street. This is one of the older estates of the city and comprises a residence of eight rooms and excellent stable. The house is heated with steam and equipped with most up-to-date plumbing throughout. There is almost 17,000 square feet of land laid out to extensive and attractive grounds and having an unusual number of the fruit and shade trees. The assessment on the lot is 6 cents per foot. The assessment on land and building totaling $3000. The sale is negotiated on behalf of the heirs of James S. Hovey, the grantee being Mrs. J. Wilcox Jordan. Mrs. Jordan buys for personal occupancy.

Final papers have been passed in the sale of a fine nine apartment property situated at 252-254 Fletcher street, near the corner of Broadway. The parcel comprises a block of modern construction and having nine apartments of five rooms each. The buildings occupy land amounting to 4275 square feet, assessed at 40 cents per foot. The assessment on the land and buildings is $2800. The transfer is effected on behalf of the heirs of the late Anna Miller, the grantee being Mrs. John Chesser, formerly of Duluth, but now of this city. Mrs. Chesser purchases for combined purposes of occupancy and investment.

Also the sale of the large old residential property situated at 1055 Bridge street, near the corner of Eighteenth, and commonly known as the "Brigham Estate." The land extends through from Bridge street to Whitney avenue, providing an excellent frontage on both streets. It approximates 21,635 square feet and is assessed at the rate of 10 cents per foot, the assessment totaling on the parcel $1100. The house is one of the handiest of the section and is of the heaviest grade of construction. It affords a splendid outlook to the west and north. The sale is negotiated on behalf of J. E. Ellis of Boston and the heirs of William Brigham. The purchaser is Mr. Wilhelm H. Limburg of this city. Mr. Limburg plans most extensive alterations and improvements.

Also through this office has been sold the property situated at 15 Clifford street in the Highlands section. This parcel comprises an excellent cottage house of seven rooms and bath. The house is completely surrounded by a large garden spot laid out to fruit trees and shrubbery. The land amounts to approximately 10,000 square feet and fronts on both Clifford street and Roylston avenue. The sale is effected on behalf of Mr. Lewis Abare, the grantee being Mrs. Ursula Carroll of Lynnfield. Mrs. Carroll purchases for personal occupancy.

Contracts have been closed on the purchase and sale of a most interesting parcel of residentially situated land near Fairmount street on Melville hill. The property is unquestionably one of the finest residences in the city of Lowell. It has 15 rooms, three baths, finish in solid mahogany and quartered oak of the richest character and construction of a magnificent grade throughout. The grounds are most extensive, totaling 150,000 square feet, or somewhat over three acres. There is an excellent tennis court on the premises as well as a splendid stable. The transfer is effected on behalf of a local estate, the purchaser coming to Lowell from out of town.

Henry T. Wheeler of 65 Baldwin street will build a new 14 by 21 foot hen coop. The coop will have a pitch roof and a foundation of posts.

An addition is being built on the home of Frederick Butterfield at 213 West Meadow road and will be fitted up as a kitchen. The material used is wood and the addition will be 15 by 20 feet. It will have a stone foundation and a wall of hard plaster. New plumbing and new bath and kitchen fixtures will be installed upon the completion of the structure.

Patrick Hickey will construct an addition to his house at 21 Cedar street, his purpose being to enlarge one room and to provide for a stairway to the second floor. The addition will adjoin the ell of the present building on the rear and one side and a second story will be constructed on the ell. The window openings will be cut and two new rooms will be afforded by the additional story on the ell. Two sinks will be installed. The estimated cost of the work is $500.

Benj. Mortimer of 31 Morton street will have an addition and alterations made upon his property located at 1154 Lawrence st. A new partition will be constructed to separate the front stairway from the downstairs tenement. An addition will be built which will afford additional rooms. This addition is to consist of two stories and there will be a new pantry and bath added to each tenement. The addition will be built of wood and will have a foundation of stone. All new plumbing apparatus and fixtures will be installed. The estimated cost of the work is $1500.

New Store Shed

A new store building, in all probability to be used as a storage shed, is to be erected by Albert J. Brooks in the rear of his residence at 39 Chase avenue. The building will have a foundation of concrete and fireproof material will be used largely in the construction.

To Construct Steel Garage

A new garage, to consist of a framework of wood covered with steel, is to be erected by Carrie F. Harris, near her residence at 33 Summit street at a cost of approximately $200. The front of the garage will measure 14 feet and the side 12 feet. The foundation and floor will be constructed of concrete.

Building New Bungalow

Annie Elizabeth Matzen of Boston will build a new bungalow on her property at 311 Parker street, this city. The bungalow when completed will be a most attractive appearing structure and will be built along the newest lines. It will measure 25 by 35 feet, and will have two bay windows, and also a spacious piazza on one side. There will be one fireplace and the bungalow is to be equipped with apparatus for steam heating. The estimated cost is about $1700.

About Electric Installations

Mr. J. F. Gallagher, a local electric contractor, located at 32 Middle st., formerly instructor at the Lowell vocational school, offers some very good suggestions for property owners who are considering having their houses wired or the equipment changed; impress upon the contractor the kind of installation desired; an electrical installation must not be rushed, it needs careful attention; switches and switch connections should be very carefully made; if one desires an installation that is free from any danger of mechanical injury, armored cable should be used; if wiring for electrical appliances, do not attach wires to the chandeliers, but have a floor or base board plug installed for the job to a contractor who will stand behind his work.

FLOOR PLAN

There is no waste of space in this entire bungalow plan. Two bedrooms on the first floor, and in case of need the den could be used as an extra chamber. There can be three chambers finished in the second story if one desires, but the estimated cost does not include finishing the second story. Size of the house is 28 feet wide and 36 feet deep. Full basement under entire house. First story 2 feet. Chambers finished in pine to paint, balance in red gum, red oak or birch, with birch or white maple floors throughout first story. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $2300.

ABOUT WHITEWASH

Whitewash is a preservative; it is not as good as paint in some ways, and it may be better than paint in certain other ways. Lime used for whitewash is a good disinfectant and it serves to destroy the fungus growth which may be setting up on the outer surface of lumber or timber and in this fungus growth which makes what we call decay. Whitewash falls short of paint, however, in that it will not stay on as long nor fill the pores of the wood with oil which serves to keep out moisture. Whitewash is a good thing for rough, outside timber and fencing and it is certainly a preservative.

VARNISHING FLOORS

Properly clean, scrape and dust the floor surface insuring upon same attention as is given to hardwood. Apply one coat of good quality floor varnish, slightly out with turpentine, allowing it to set forty-eight hours. When thoroughly dry, sandpaper lightly with 0 paper and remove dust; apply second coat of the same good floor varnish, full strength; this is to turn to stand until dry and hard; sandpaper lightly and clean floor as before. Apply a third coat of varnish, full strength, and either leave in gloss, or rub to a dull finish as owner may direct.

BUILD NOW

The temporary letting up of general building operations is making a favorable opportunity this fall and winter for the homebuilder, not soon to be repeated. Have your thought about what is ahead of us and its sure effect on the cost of building as in reverse to present conditions?

Right now, every contractor you meet is in position to give you a $125 return for your money for every dollar invested and for two reasons. He can buy material comparatively cheap and put good workmen on your job for the same pay that in such times goes to the incapable man furnishing 50 per cent efficiency. Good live times are right ahead and so a word to the wise that they be forehanded and build now, for a $5000 house today in less than a year will cost $6000.

Nor will you be required to pay high interest rates should you wish to make a building loan, for business conditions are daily improving and your banks will soon accommodate your requirements at normal interest rates, but at that, a $5000 house on 7 per cent. loan money for a time is much better than the same house costing $1000 more next year with a lower interest rate. One Minneapolis institution that has made building loans at 6 1/2 per cent for years, asks no increase and today is loaning their money on this class of high-grade security, at the same rate of interest. The latest reports from Chicago bankers tell us 5 per cent money will soon be available, as lower rates go with lower commodity prices, prevailing at present. Mr. E. W. Thompson, president of the Mortgage Bankers' association, is very optimistic for the coming year and calls the attention of business men of this country to just where the money will come from; namely, our ability to transform into money the great crops harvested this year, with 900,000,000 bushels of wheat and 2,700,000,000 bushels of corn at high prices, which condition alone assures our nation a bountiful prosperity.

CARE OF VARNISH BRUSHES

Much of the usefulness of a varnish brush depends upon the treatment it receives when purchased. The stock of the new brush should be run through the fingers until the loose hairs and dirt are completely worked out and it should next be placed in clean linseed oil and wiped over the edge of the cup. The brush will then be fit for use in putting on the under coats of varnish, and after a week or two of this work it will do to use in applying the finishing coats of varnish.

A brush should always be suspended when not in use, and never allowed to rest upon its point, for if this is done it will lose both form and elasticity.

Varnish brushes should be kept in a clean receptacle with a cover fitted tight enough to keep out all forms of dirt. If you happen to drop your varnish brush on the floor while using it, pick it up carefully, and holding it at an angle, flood the dirt off by pouring on a small quantity of turpentine. To clean a varnish brush, wash it in oil first, and next in turpentine. Then by a week use with undercoats, it will be restored to its original cleanliness.

But the brushes which are not used so often, or have any chance of becoming dirty, you must treat differently. The rinsing in turpentine will merely loosen the dirt which will be forced up in to the body. These brushes can better be kept in a finishing varnish which should be frequently changed.

Every precaution should be taken lest dust collect on the brushes, and they should never be left lying around for any length of time when not in use. If a cloth is used to clean the handles, it will distribute lint, and this work should be done with a stiff, nearly new brush.—Tratt & Lambert Varnish Talks.

ATTRACTIVE COLSON HEIGHTS

Colson Heights is the name of a home site of excellent location and high character situated in Billerica. It was set apart for those whose desire is to purchase land and erect high class residences and has been already taken advantage of in great measure by prospective home builders.

The property includes about 500 home sites which range in size from 5,000 to 10,000 square feet and the prices are at the present time from 2 to 5 cents per foot. The property is managed by Mr. J. W. Perriago, sales manager, representing the firm of Edgar F. Twombly & Co. The office is located at the corner of Talbot avenue and Pollard street, North Billerica. The owners are developers and builders, as well as salesmen, and it is their intention to continually add to the attractiveness and value of the property. A number of the skilled mechanics from the B. & M. shops have purchased sites at Colson Heights and have built attractive homes. Indications point to the rapid increase of personal holdings at this location. Some are buying for investment purposes. The owners are offering the lots as ideal sites for those who are employed in the city and who prefer suburban homes, pointing out the advantages from the standpoint of health, etc.

The office of the manager is open every day and Sunday is set aside as inspection day. The location of Colson Heights is easily reached. Electric cars to Lowell and Boston pass the site every fifteen minutes. It is situated near the Talbot school and post-office and the town is built up to it and partly around it.

SLEEPYTIME TALES

DANDY LEARNS TO TANGO

Once upon a time Frank taught his pony Dandy a number of tricks and it was such fun to teach him, and Dandy was so easy to learn that Frank said to his father: "I am going to teach Dandy to do the Tango."

One bright cool morning Frank started in to give the pony his first lesson. Frank began to whistle and with a small whip touched Dandy's front feet, first one then the other, making him keep time to the music. Very soon Dandy knew what Frank wanted him to do when he touched his feet and he would do it at once.

Then Frank would give him a small piece of sugar to teach him the next step. It was not very long before Dandy could Tango in the very latest style.

One day he heard his mother talking about raising some money to help a poor man to go south for his health. Frank thought to himself, why couldn't I charge ten cents and have Dandy go through all of his tricks and then I could help the poor man. He asked his mother and she thought that it was a fine thing to do and said she would help all she could.

Dandy was brushed until his coat shone like satin and his mane and tail were tied with a blue ribbon and then he was led out into a tent that someone had loaned for the occasion. Dandy seemed to know that it was some special occasion and went through all of his tricks in his very best manner. After he was through, everyone crowded around and petted him until Frank thought he would be spoiled but Dandy seemed to like it and pranced around and around until it was time to go home.

Frank found that he had collected quite a little money for the man, so, with what his mother had collected he was able to start at once for the south. Wasn't it nice that Dandy could help as well as to please.

NEUTRALITY IN HOTELS

Foreigners instead of Americans kept guessing since dishes are Americanized. From the wrath of man some good may come, for it appears that as one of the minor consequences of the war abroad American hotels and restaurants are reforming their bills of fare. Heretofore we had been educated to calling them menus, but now we are to say it in plain United States. You see, this was the way of it. It was noticed by the men who ran the well restaurants in the east that German guests were objecting to French and Russian dishes, and Frenchmen were objecting to German dishes and Russians were objecting to Austrian dishes, etc. So it went. Nobody was satisfied. So the intelligent caterers finally struck upon the notion that it would be a nice, neutral thing to give the various dishes names that Americans could understand and let the foreigners do the guessing for awhile.

So it is said that one can now go into a hotel and buy a dish of ham and eggs—just like that. If you want sweetbreads with new peas you say so, being careful to call the waiter Jack instead of Jules or Francois. It is unnecessary to mutter through something that sounds like ris de veau aux petits pois.

Most any American can sit down nowadays and discover in advance just what he is going to eat—at least the plain United States name for it. And the best of it is that the new nomenclature is coming westward.—Los Angeles Exchange.

The Berlin Fire department is now being run by women who have taken the place of their husbands called to war.

Boys Placed Lighted Matches in Boxes — Postmaster Crowley Takes Steps to Catch the Offenders — Federal Detectives Will Investigate Affair

Postmaster Crowley has reported to the police that several letters were burned in a letter box at the corner of Spaulding and Merrimack streets as a result of boys putting lighted matches into the box.

The matter was first brought to the attention of the postmaster, who in turn notified the police in an endeavor to capture the young vandals, who perpetrated the crime. The police are hot on the trail of the boys, who if captured will be severely punished, for a charge of destroying United States mail will be brought against them. This matter would be taken up by the federal authorities in the event of the capture of the culprits and it is safe to say that the offenders will be severely dealt with.

It seems that this is not the first time letters were burned in letter boxes in this city by boys who through devilry put matches in the steel boxes, not knowing probably how serious the offense is. Postmaster Crowley has made up his mind to put a stop to such vicious play and has notified the postal authorities who may send detectives here to find the guilty parties.

FOUR WANT TO BE MAYOR KNEW HE HAD NO CHANCE

CONTEST ON FOR FIRST CHIEF EXECUTIVE OF REVERE-PRIMARIES THREE WEEKS AWAY

REVERE, Nov. 7.—At present there are four avowed candidates for the honor of being the first mayor of Revere, which will take its place among the Massachusetts cities Jan. 1. There are only three weeks in which to arrange for the filing of nomination papers, for new registrations, ward voting places and the primary.

The principal development yesterday was the filing of a nomination paper as a candidate for mayor in the republican primary by Arthur B. Curtis. Mr. Curtis stated early in the week that he would not enter the primary, but would run as an independent. The independent strength, however, has apparently turned to James P. Dolan, who was endorsed at a meeting of citizens Wednesday night, and Mr. Curtis has decided to support him.

Mr. Dolan has already filed his papers for the democratic nomination, and as he has an opposition there he will appear on the ballot as democrat and independent.

Two other nomination papers are expected to be filed for the republican primary before the time for closing the list at 3 p. m. today. These are for Walter T. White, the present chairman of the board of selectmen, and William W. Gordon, now selectman from precinct 4. Mr. White has been an avowed republican candidate for several months before the vote on the charter was taken and has the support of a large part of the party organization.

It has been rumored all day that Mr. Gordon has withdrawn from the contest and would run for councilman-at-large. He stated last night that he is still in the ring and that his mayoralty paper will go in. He also stated that his papers have been prepared for the council nomination.

Next in general interest is the question of candidates for the council. Four of these are to be nominated at large and up to this writing there are six in the field, all running in the republican primary. The new entries yesterday were, Alfred F. Hall and Charles H. Brown.

Mr. Hall has been refusing requests from his friends for several days that he be a candidate. He has been chairman of the Revere water commissioners for several years and previously held many other town offices and served in the state house and senate. Mr. Brown is also on the water commission.

Sewer Commissioner Herbert S. Grutchfield and Ralph N. Butterworth of the school committee and Allan Robinson, a Revere Beach lawyer, are the other aspirants.

Howard H. Trask, now on the school committee, will file papers for the republican nomination for councilman-at-large, and Cornelius F. Greene will do the same for the democratic nomination.

New candidates announced yesterday for councilman from the wards are Fred C. Miskelly in ward 4 and Robert E. Becker, ward 5. Joseph B. Shurtliff, Jr., will file papers for the three-year term on the school committee, a body which is to be reduced from six members to three under the city charter.

Activity is also shown among candidates for assessors, several of the aspirants being new as officeholders. V. E. Howard, Trace, Alban B. Carter, Forrest C. Toward and Daniel O'Brien are in this list. Charles H. Bates and George G. Burke of the present board will seek re-election.

TWO KILLED BY AUTOS

AGED MAN WAS RUN DOWN IN DORCHESTER AND YOUNG MAN STRUCK IN TREMONT STREET

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Two men were killed and a boy seriously injured by being run down by automobiles in different parts of the city yesterday, and as a result of the accidents two men will face charges of manslaughter in the police courts today.

Those who were killed are Thomas S. O'Connor, 70 years old, 18 Chana street, Dorchester, and George E. Collins, 25 years old, 188 Washington street. The injured boy is William Goldman, 10 years old, 43 Glenway street, Dorchester.

O'Connor was struck by the automobile of Henry S. Dowd, of 11 Glenmar street, Dorchester, as he was crossing Columbia road almost in front of the Russell school late yesterday afternoon. The great man seemingly became confused as Dowd's car approached in the direction of Franklin park.

Collins was killed by an automobile in Tremont street. He was struck by a car driven by one of the city's new drivers.

Police officers are making a search for the driver of the car which ran down O'Connor. They are also making a search for the driver of the car which ran down Collins.

TOKIO CELEBRATES FALL OF TSING TAU

German Fortress Captured by Japanese and English After an Actual Siege of More Than Three Weeks—Petrograd Reports Turks Driven Back

TOKIO, Nov. 7.—Tokio is celebrating today the fall of the German fortress at Tsing Tau after an actual siege of a few days more than three weeks. It was in the middle of September that the real attack began, although the preparations for the taking of the German stronghold in Asia were begun immediately after war was declared by Japan on Aug. 15. Crowds collected everywhere today and many processions were formed, the enthusiastic people dragging about with them coats decorated with flowers as a symbol of victory. Japanese and British flags are floating everywhere throughout the city. The final and successful attack on Tsing Tau began shortly after midnight Friday morning and the first inroad by the allied forces, which was largely instrumental in the fall of the place was the taking of the middle fort of the first line of defense. This was accomplished by a brilliant charge of infantry and engineers led by General Yoshimi Yamada. Simultaneously with the charge of General Yamada, others were made, the troops dashing forward with cries of "Banzai." Chung-chow was captured soon thereafter with its two heavy cannons.

A detachment of the first line occupied the hills, Blomberg and Moltke forts at seven in the morning and then the enemy hoisted the white flag was hoisted on the coast forts at the mouth of the Haiipo at 7.30 o'clock.

PETROGRAD REPORTS TURKS DRIVEN BACK WITH GREAT LOSSES

PETROGRAD, Nov. 7.—An official communication from the general staff in Caucasus dated Nov. 5 says: "There has not been any considerable actions as yet. Some Kurdish regiments, supported by infantry and masses of the population in arms attempted an offensive movement in the region northeast of Karakilissa. The Turks were driven back with great losses."

"The Russians continue to pursue the Turkish and Kurdish troops, who were defeated in the hill regions of Tassine, Diadene and Balazet. These places have been occupied by our troops. The Turkish troops have been in part exterminated and in part dispersed."

GERMANS TO MAKE FINAL AND DESPERATE EFFORT TO SMASH ALLIES' LINE, BLOCKING WAY TO CALAIS

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Mystery again cloaks the movements of the antagonists along the battlefronts in the eastern arena of the war, but the belief is growing in London that Germany, safe within her defenses behind the River Wartha and with the Austrians behind strongly fortified positions from Cracow to the passes of the Carpathians, is rushing her best corps on the eastern front to the west in a final desperate effort to smash the allies' line blocking their way to Calais.

Petrograd reports that the Austrians after making a final furious onslaught upon the Russian lines along the River San had withdrawn in all directions until their front now extends from Duka pass in the Carpathians to Cracow with a wedge extending to Przemyel, which fortress continues to resist the Russian assault.

Another despatch from Petrograd declares that a general pursuit of the retreating Austrians is under way, but the cautious tone of the official communication added to significant admissions from Vienna creates the impression that the Austrians are regaining their fortified positions without suffering greater disaster. With the Teutonic allies safe in their new positions, it is quite likely, in the opinion of London observers, that heavy reinforcements have been sent from the eastern front for the supreme effort along the western line of battle.

The feeling is growing here that the recent raid of a German off Yarmouth was not the sum total of naval activities in the North sea and this impression has been increased by the news that Dutch fishing vessels have found floating mines to be as likely as some of them even catching their nets that they have given up all efforts to continue their occupation. These fishermen report also that they have seen hundreds of bodies floating in the sea.

GERMANS CLING TO THEIR POSITIONS IN FLANDERS—ADVANCE TAGE WITH ALLIES

PARIS, Nov. 7.—With renewed energy the Germans are clinging tenaciously to their positions in Flanders, especially the Ypres region but the initiative, so important in modern warfare is now passing to the allies.

Eye witnesses from the front declare that the fighting around Bixchoote is as furious as ever. The Germans have attacked again and again and positions have been won and lost many times but the advantage has remained with the allies. No less violent was the struggle south of Ypres between Wytschaete and Messines for command of the high road leading from Ypres to Arras and Lille. This road is now in possession of the allies.

Now or never is the time for the Germans to bring up reserves to make a decisive effort to win through, in the opinion of military experts. According to prisoners taken recently, however, while there is no lack of men there is a great dearth of officers, large numbers having been sent to the Russian front where the head of them is greater to make up staffs for the reserve corps opposing the ever-growing Russian army. The German efforts to pass Arras and break through to the coast by way of the hill country of Artois continue but with less success.

The army formerly commanded by the German crown prince east of the Argonne region has resumed its attempt to force a passage across the forest to join the army on the other side. The French, however, retain command of the only roads across this difficult region and all attacks though made with great determination have failed to shake the French positions.

THE VICTORY OVER THE GERMANS AT TSING TAU HAS CAUSED GREAT REJOICING HERE

The British press is continuing its campaign in favor of more effective measures of recruiting. Some papers openly advocate some form of compulsory service, while others center the government for not providing proper maintenance for these persons dependent upon the men eligible for military service.

AUSTRIAN CONSUL GENERAL AND TURKISH MINISTER HELD BY RUSSIANS

German Liner Cecelie Makes Trip From Bar Harbor, Me., in 12 Hours—600 Men Interned Aboard, of Whom 90 per cent Would Gladly go to Front

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Conveyed by torpedo boat destroyers the $460,000 North German Lloyd liner Kronprinzessin Cecelie, Capt. Charles Polack, arrived in Boston from Bar Harbor, Me., yesterday, after a 12-hour run. The passage was without incident, although the steamship at times was far beyond the three-mile limit.

Capt. Polack had plenty of speed in reserve but was forced to steam not faster than 15 miles an hour because one of the destroyers was short of firemen and therefore unable to log much better than her normal cruising gait. There was little need of unusual precaution in transferring the liner to winter quarters here, it would appear, nations at war with Germany having signified their disinterest.

At no time during the trip was observation less than 10 miles, therefore the Kronprinzessin Cecelie might have dodged into safety had a hostile craft put in an appearance. Strict watch naturally was maintained and the liner's commander never left the navigating bridge till his ship had been anchored on a line between Long Island and Deer Island and less than four miles below the city wharves.

With propeller barely turning, the liner crept between the German steamships Ockenfels and Koln, where a berth had been assigned the 700-foot vessel by Harbor Master Hird calculated to give a swinging radius of at least 2500 feet.

Safe Anchorage Chosen

This was accomplished by moving the German steamships Wilhelm and Koln, also a number of coal barges that had anchored in the vicinity, for the four-funnelled 22,500-tonner made a considerable area in which to range. Particular attention was given the nature of the bottom, soundings being taken to prove that the harbor bed was not strewn with boulders that might puncture the hull in event of dragging in a gale. The anchorage selected shows more than 30 feet at low tide and the ship's draft is 25 feet, her trim being several feet lighter than when steamed for transatlantic service.

United States Marshal Murchie at once went aboard from the revenue cut, Winthrop to confer with Capt. Polack relative to matters in connection with the liner suit pending against the ship on account of her alleged failure to deliver millions in specie taken aboard at New York and brought back to this country when the commander abandoned his passage to Germany on July 28 and turned back. It was arranged that keepers alternate and small boats of the liner will serve as a ferry.

Capt. Polack was not quite sure last night that he is pleased to leave Bar Harbor and the kind people of the village, many of whom he counts as personal friends. He has a testimonial from townspeople urging him not to quit Bar Harbor. The three months' sojourn in the Mt. Desert harbor had proved enjoyable to both officers and crew and the anchorage there was satisfactory in that there was abundant room.

Happy Days at Bar Harbor

"I went fishing, lobstering and sailing at Bar Harbor and had lots of sport," explained the Cecelie's commander, alluding to the request that his ship be kept at Mt. Desert. "Only a day or two ago we caught 200 pounds of fish, found lobsters in our six traps, drank real milk and called to our hearts' content. Those fish are being served in the officers' mess tonight, and they are sweet to the very bone. Bar Harbor may be great as a summer resort, but the fish they grow in Frenchman's bay are surpassing fine."

"Yes, there are 600 men aboard the Kronprinzessin Cecelie and I am certain that 50 per cent would start for Germany tomorrow if there was any way to get there. I would like to see myself if the ship was all right. Anyhow, I have other duties at present and must make the most of circumstances as I find them. Visitors are welcomed at 25 cents apiece for the Red Cross."

"Last time I was in Boston was way back in 1884 in the German bark Providence, which I commanded."

"Now I shall look up old acquaintances, stroll down to Lewis wharf and try to find my way on some of the old streets that I recall, but am afraid I cannot locate. We shall send a boat to Boston twice a day for the mails by way of the landing at Point Shirley and the Winthrop street car and steam line."

Interfering Is Expensive

The Kronprinzessin Cecelie resplendent in royal splendor and $2000 per trip rooms, requires about 20 tons of water a week and her boilers, a low pressure, consume many tons of fuel each 24 hours. The husky crew demands beef and the steward's department meets the requirement to the tune of about 40,000 pounds of meat each month. The grocery bill is enormous, too. Supplies, while the liner was at Bar Harbor, came mainly from New York. Now Boston merchants will have the contracts.

SALEM FUND DECISION

JUDGE ADVOCATE GEN. CROWDER AWAITING INFORMATION ON A SINGLE POINT BEFORE RULING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Hope was expressed yesterday by Brk. Gen. Crowder, judge advocate general of the war department, that he would be able to give a decision today in regard to the relief fund of $200,000 appropriated by congress for the sufferers by the great fire at Salem.

"There is only one point to be settled before I can decide on the availability of the fund and the purposes to which it should be devoted," said Gen. Crowder, "and I wrote yesterday for information under that head. As soon as I receive an answer, which may be tomorrow, I shall be able to speak on the subject."

MAD DOG IN WESTBORO

WESTBORO, Nov. 7.—Alarm is felt by Westboro people as the result of a report made to the board of health Thursday that two persons had been bitten by a Boston terrier owned by John Scott of East Main street. The animal has disappeared.

Waldo H. Warren, one of those bitten, is to take the Pasteur treatment. Dr. G. H. Reed is anxious to get the dog in order that the head may be examined to ascertain whether the animal was diseased.

The animal, it is said, bit other dogs. Study mandolin, banjo with Hovey.

FEATURES FOR MONDAY

Women's Page Will Have Fashion Cuts and News of the Styles, etc.—Lady Lookabout Has Bright Observations

The women's page of The Sun will appear in all editions on Monday. This is a feature which has been arranged so as to appeal to the women and every picture and every bit of reading matter is carefully selected. The result is an excellent fashion feature with many home suggestions, etc. Home dress-makers of this city are broadly interested in this weekly feature of The Sun and are using the fashion cuts as guides in making garments. Local merchants have special advertisements on this page in which the ladies will find many pleasing offerings. The advertisements should be read as well as the news.

Lady Lookabout has an interesting article dealing with the suffrage movement and speaks of the results of the recent elections in this connection. She also tells in an interesting way the adventures of a young woman motorist who had a "blow out," and who had a most trying experience. Everyone should read "Lady Lookabout" Monday.

Sundries very good kitchen hints, together with some valuable receipts are contributed by "The Cook" in "What the Cook Says," which will be found in Monday's Sun. Among the receipts is one for whole wheat bread. Cook gives other excellent suggestions.

A girl may make her own egg shampoo if she will but follow the directions which will be found Monday in "What Florence Told Me." Detailed information regarding this hair treatment is given. Florence also gives to the girls other beauty hints, including a discussion of manicuring, skin treatment, etc.

ARREST DOCTOR

Charged With Alleged Murder of Mildred Sullivan

HOULTON, Me., Nov. 7.—Dr. Lionel Dudley of Presque Isle was arrested at a local hotel today, charged with the alleged murder of Mildred Sullivan, the young Houlton girl who has been missing since Sept. 4.

Dr. Dudley, together with Miss Kate O. McLeod of Wallagras, a nurse, have been awaiting action by the grand jury the latter part of this month on the charge of performing an illegal operation upon Miss Sullivan, who was last seen alive at Presque Isle, where she went ostensibly to attend the county fair. Miss Alice Pettifer of Presque Isle was held as an alleged accessory after the fact. They were arrested in Boston late in September at the request of the Aroostook county authorities and brought here.

The authorities absolutely refused to explain why the arrest had been made or give an intimation of any development that necessitated taking Dr. Dudley into custody on the new and more serious charge.

The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff Martin Lawlis, who has been working on the case for weeks and who was named in the warrant as complainant. The warrant charges that the girl was murdered on Sept. 4, the day of her disappearance at Presque Isle.

Since early in September, the authorities and relatives of the 17-year-old girl have thoroughly searched the county for some trace of her or of her body. Several promising clues have been found from time to time, but they apparently did not develop into anything tangible.

"Asked if the body had been found or if the arrest was made on the strength of a confession by some one connected with the case, the officials declined to throw any light on the mystery. It was considered significant, however, that the date of her alleged murder was definitely fixed in the warrant."

Dr. Dudley came here from his home last night for the purpose of consulting his counsel, who are preparing for his defense on the event that the grand jury should find an indictment against him.
